HAD ALL KINDS OF MONEY. Deputy Sheriff T. J. Williams, who is at present stationed at Colton, Friday arrested a tramp who turned out to be a regular walking bank. An old man at that place, while under the in-fluence was "rolled" and about $12 ta-ken from him. The officer at once rounded up a hollo who gave his name as Jack Welch, and as is customary, set to work to search the prisoner. Great was his surprise to find that the hope had all kinds of money upon him. Without counting the money, the deputy at once concluded that Sheriff Storrs should have a look at the treasure and telegraphed his chief to come to Colfon on the first train which Sheriff Storrs did. The latter officers took charge of the treasure and brought the Every inch of the man's clothing was carefully examined and money was found in almost every place from the

David Thurman being the first speaker, read short biographical sketch of the life of the deceased which was in substance as follows: Joseph Alme Thomas, third son of Daniel Stillwell Thomas and Martha Payne Jones, was born March 17, 1893, in Adams county Illinois. On account of persecution, the Thomas family moved from place to place with the Saints until the year 1849, when they emigrat. until the year 1849, when they emigrated to Utah. In the year 1858, the deceased married Mary Ellen Lawrence, and they had born to them fourteen children, seven boys and seven girls, seven of whom survive him, three boys and four girls. Soon after his mar-riage he was called to go with a party to Solomon river to rescue a colony of Saints from an uprising of the Indians. and in 1862 furnished a yoke of cat-tle to go to the Missouri river after the emigrating Saints. In the latter part of the same year he made a trip to Caliornia by the southern route returning o Lehi in 1876 where he has since resided. At one time he was captain of a company of Utah militia and was marshal of Lehi city for a number of years. Brother Thomas lived an active life and his generosity and liberality those in need will long be cherished by all who knew him. Joseph Goates, Senator A. J. Evans and Counselor A. Anderson also spoke in high terms the life and labors of the deceased,

Red Letter Day for the Old Folks-Good Crop of Hay.

Special Correspondence. Beaver City, Utah, June 22.-Yester-day was a red letter day in the history of the movement to entertain the Old Folks in this State. According to previous arrangement the function was held in Greenville, four miles distant, and at about 8:30 this city were very much in evidence as they passed out of the town with their loads of humanity. At about ten o'clock the major portion of the aged people of Beaver had reached the meeting house grounds of Greenville. where they were joined by the sires and dames of that burg, and it was a glorlous sight to see the delight with which greetings were exchanged, it having greetings were exchanged, it having been many years since many of them had met each other.

The forenoon exercises consisted of races, and kindred sports, with an occasional song. Among those who favored the audience with singing was Brother David Williams, who is blind aged 77 years. He sang in Welsh and English in turn. Patriarch Daniel Tyler aged 53 also sang the once famous aged 83, also sang the once famous

At a few minutes past 12, di.ner was announced, when the aged guests of the occasion were mar halled into two lines according to their ages. The oldest gentleman, D. Tyler, $3, and the oldest ladg, Sister Sarah M. Dell, 86, then led the grocession from the howery to the meeting house and round the heavily laden tables to the seats assigned them, during the match a suitable number was played on the organ after the peo-ple were seated-about 100-a speech of ple were scated—about not—a speech of welcome was made by Commit-teeman J. S. Morris, Esq., and fittingly responded to by Pres-ident R. Maeser, in his happiest vein Chaplain O. F. Murdock then in-voked the divine blessings, when the rattle of knives and forks indicated the gusto with which the disappearing viands were enjoyed. There were three seatings at the table, 169 persons in all yet so profuse was the hospitality of our hosts, that it seems as though there was more food at the close of the, meal than before it commenced. The afternoon program consisted of songs, readings, quartets, recitations
