

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.

Salt Lake City.—The Engineering society has made arrangements with Dr. Tamm to give a lecture on atmospheric electricity, to be given next Tuesday evening in the Museum building. An invitation is extended to all who are interested.

Upon recommendation of the Athletic council, the class football games have been postponed until after Thanksgiving.

On Wednesday next the arts will have a social and the sophomores will hold a like affair on Friday evening.

A reception in honor of the Denver football team will be given in the Museum building this evening.

The University Chronicle will make its regular bi-monthly appearance on Wednesday. The paper is enlarged in both the number and the size of the contents. The departments of law and medicine will be represented for the first time.

This year, all freshmen and fourth-year students are required to take a physical examination and special work in physical education.

The different classes have taken action on the financial affairs of the Chronicle and are going to patronize only those merchants who advertise in the school paper.

The president of the A. S. U. has appointed a committee to confer with a like committee from the preparatory department on all affairs concerning the two organizations.

The freshmen are waiting for the assignment of college dates ordered by them. They are the shape of those given by the '04 class last year, but are said to be instead of red and white.

Dr. Laugh is organizing a glee club which will soon make itself heard around the Varsity.

Mr. Nordvall, who has been custodian of the school for the past 18 years, leaves in about two weeks on a mission to Europe.

Dr. Kingsbury has been invited to attend the N. E. A. convention which will be held in Portland this fall.

Prof. Coop is working hard in the new department of music. In this department, credit will be given in brass band work and in other branches of music which may be given, providing enough students register for the course.

SALT LAKE CITY SCHOOLS.

Salt Lake City.—Considerable material for assimilation by the local teachers was given last Wednesday afternoon by Prof. Reynolds of the U. of U. His audience was composed of high school, eighth and seventh grade teachers and principals. The speaker's theme was "English in the Upper Grades and High School." In his one hour's talk he related many of his personal experiences as a teacher of English in the grades and of literary studies in secondary institutions. He maintained that a deficiency exists in the average pupil's ability in English; that common words are misspelled, and that a striking difference is noticeable in pupils' ability to interpret the printed page. The requirements which the high school might justly make of eighth grade graduates were recounted; further, what the university and the college should be able to demand of its pupils was explained. In conclusion, the professor suggested the names of some books which are highly commendable as subjects for study in the several grades of work. At a later date he will be heard on the subject "Provincialisms of the West."

It has been decided by the local faculty of pedagogues to arrange some pleasant feature in the nature of an entertainment for the visiting members of the State Teachers' association during the January session.

Manual training at the Hamilton commenced last week. The entire contingent of tools and benches has been received.

Mr. Fairbanks held meeting with second grade teachers last Tuesday and with fifth grade teachers last Thursday. Mr. Weitzel with fourth grade teachers on Tuesday; Miss Pollock with third grade teachers last Tuesday.

Miss Ott of the Ogden is visiting the Fremont Thursday.

Mrs. J. D. Harrison was a visitor at the High school yesterday.

A business meeting of principals was held by the superintendent last Thursday.

Messrs. Garrett and Kesler and Mrs. Shepherd, all of whom are on the executive board of the local teachers' association, are actively engaged in instructing principals and teachers in the lecture course, which is to be given next February.

The corps of teachers at the Longfellow, which recently reopened its doors, are as follows: Mrs. Fritz, Misses Grace Sheffield, Kate Alley and Cecile Clark.

The 1600 mark has been reached in High school registration.

A census has been made in the schools to ascertain the number of pupils whose parents are non-resident taxpayers or non-resident non-taxpayers. If the number proves to be a considerable one, the law regarding tuition may be enforced.

Classes have been arranged by the U. of U. for principals and teachers, who wish to do extension work in legal and biology. The classes are held Saturday mornings at the Teachers' room, City and County building. Beginning next Saturday, 24th inst., classes in modern languages will be conducted at the same place, for teachers. Those contemplating such a course will appear at 2 p. m. on that date or will confer with A. C. Rees of the High school.

L. D. S. UNIVERSITY.

Salt Lake City.—All the classes will be in session next Monday.

The teachers of Emery county have invited Pres. Paul to conduct their Saturday institute this winter, and the matter is now under consideration.

The missionary class met two evenings this week. On Wednesday Elder J. P. Gifford addressed the class, Elder Night Morris, scheduled for Thursday, will speak later.

Instructors Kunkle and Hicks have just completed the work benches for the use of the normals and sixth grade training class in woodwork. This makes the fifth room in the Lion House that has been fitted up for the mechanic arts.

The general board of Relief Societies has decided to give the nurses' training class during this year in our buildings and assisted by two of our regular instructors—Ernest Hall for physiology, and Miss Holmgren for Domestic Science. The class will begin on Nov. 6th. Dr. Romanus B. Peters will be the teacher in charge. The hours are from 9 to 12 daily, and the outlook indicates a good class.

The school has not been in session as a whole this week on account of the lack of heat in some of the buildings. The business college kept on, several of the rooms being provided with stoves and the training and kindergarten schools were not interrupted. The classes in shorthand, typewriting, telegraphy and book-keeping took extra sessions and did not suffer from the change. It is the intention to make up the lost time during the year by holding extra sessions. This may be done by holding some of the special holidays, by holding most of the examinations on Saturdays, and by extending the school year for one week, so as to include the first week in June. The adjournment was announced by Pres. Paul in the Assembly hall on Tuesday. The planners say that all will be in readiness for school at 9 o'clock on Monday morning.

The faculty reception on Thursday evening in the Granite stake amusement hall was a genuine reunion unparalleled in our annals. The artistic decorations of the stake and side parlors; the fine singing of Miss Larsen and the exquisite dance music provided by Instructor Olive; the genial reception by the entire faculty in line for the introduction of students; the wholehearted enjoyment of the student-body, manifested itself in cheer upon cheer; the dainty and ample refreshments; the prompt and untiring service of the domestic science girls at the punch-bowls, which flowed unceasingly with the fizz and sparkle of non-alcoholic nectars; the delicious confections served in cozy corners; the class numbers carried in the grand march by the students; the unusual and inspiring aspects of a thousand students and teachers mingling in the unique reunion of a grand ball, amid the flash of innumerable electric lights, which cast a blaze of splendor upon the radiant attire of the ladies and the stately black of the men's darker costumes—these were some of the more prominent features that proved both the care that had been taken to organize, and the spirit of friendship and loyalty that caused practically all the teachers and students to participate in the enjoyment of an evening as delightful as this combination of youth and beauty, of wit and wisdom could make it—an evening that all admitted was, indeed, a glorious night.

At the opening of the proceedings President Paul thanked the students for their presence and their enthusiasm, and at the close Student Joseph Harris returned complimentary thanks to the teachers for the rare enjoyments of the occasion.

A team has been organized to play football under the association rules, and coming conference of Alpine stake in the interest of Alpine students.

On Sunday Prof. J. C. Swenson will attend the Juab stake conference in the interest of students who are here from that stake.

Students are looking forward to the coming out of the White and Blue. The new staff, recently elected is as follows: Editor, P. C. Peterson, Jr.; assistant editor, Fred Buss; business manager, Geo. Parker; literary, George Borg; Hazel Stallings; athletic, Ernest Carroll; Robert Evans; arts and industries, E. L. Miller; Clara Clark; music, Esther Coombs; exchange, B. T. Higgs, Jr.; scientific, W. J. Snow; local, Parley Day; Emma Dixon, Mary Cropper.

BRIGHAM YOUNG COLLEGE.

Logan.—The Brigham Young college department of music offers a free scholarship to that student of the institution who, upon examination, shows the most promising voice. The value of the scholarship, which is free tuition in voice culture is about $50. The contest for the award will take place on Monday, Oct. 30, and the judges will be Messrs. George Thatcher, G. H. Thomas and Walter Lamoreaux. "Flee as a Bird" is the song chosen for the contestant, and it may be sung in any key. If a candidate cannot find a copy of the song written in a suitable key, Prof. Mann, at the college will make the necessary transposition and give whatever information is required. Competitors will also be required to sing the scale and the three vowels.

The Cache County Teachers' Institute met last Saturday in the college. The lecturer for the occasion was President James H. Linder, who spoke upon the local autumnal flora. Last evening President Linder lectured in Preston, Ida., his subject being "Man's Debt to Science."

Five new forges have been placed in the forging and blacksmithing shops, materially adding to the facilities and equipment of the Mechanic Arts department.

At chapel exercises during the past week we have been favored with instrumental selections by Prof. Piewman and students, and Miss Lettie Bushy, assistant organist. The choir, under the leadership of Mr. Martin Ballard, with a feature on the Book of Mormon from Joel Ricks, and a talk on art by Prof. Wright.

A team has been organized to play football under the association rules, and the college expects to make a record in this, as in basket ball. College and club teams are hustily engaged in practicing for their winter meets.

The class in surveying has been doing field work during the past week, using the level and transit on the college grounds and campus.

A number of Prof. Wright's paintings are on exhibition in the faculty room. Most of them are recent work and are attracting favorable comment.

The first number of The Crimson will be issued shortly. Disinterested parties and exchanges have frequently referred to The Crimson as one of the brightest and best college publications in the west, and it is safe to predict that its standard of excellence will be maintained during the ensuing year.

The class in nature study under Prof. Wolfe spent all of last Saturday in study of the local algae, for presentation to the pupils of the training school during the following week. The Nature Study club will soon resume its regular sessions.

This afternoon the first matinee of the season will be given in the new gymnasium. The party of last week was a complete success and the students as a rule prefer dancing on the new floor, with the good music that is provided this year to attending outside entertainments.

Prof. Clark, the world-renowned elocutionist of Chicago University, will season. This will make his fourth visit to Logan, each time under the auspices of the Brigham Young college, and not of the Mutual Improvement association as has been erroneously stated. The city and county teachers have always united with the college in making the Clark recitals a success.

The music department is busy in making a study of different operas from which one will be selected to be produced by the students of the department early in the spring.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

Logan.—The members of the Sigma Alpha Fraternity were the guests of W. A. Jensen at dinner on Saturday evening.

Dr. A. C. Condon of Ogden, Prof. J. H. Mills of the Latter-day Saints university and S. H. Goodwin have been visitors at the college the past week. These gentlemen are the members of the subcommittee of the committee appointed by the governor at the last meeting of the legislature to investigate the character of the work done by the Agricultural college and by the state university.

An examination is being conducted at the college today by President Korr for such teachers as wish to secure the state certificate.

Last Saturday's football game between the alumni eleven and the college team resulted in a score of 17 to 11 in favor of the former. Today the college eleven will play the soldiers from Fort 76, as on the college campus.

Professors Ostlen and Studdert returned today from a two week's trip to the Lewis and Clark exposition.

A force of 50 men is daily at work rebuilding the machine shops. This includes the regular workmen and many students who are glad to find employment in their leisure hours. Already the brick walls of the forge room are completed, the carpenters are making the framework and the work is everywhere rapidly progressing.

Mrs. Cotey has recently received for the college food museum pure food specimens from the Battle Creek Sanitarium, consisting of cereal coffee, corn flakes, health chocolate, almond meal, nut butter and vegetable meats. It may not be generally known that this museum at the college is especially rich in sugars, cereals and spices and is the only food collection of any size outside of that of Pratt Institute at Brooklyn, N. Y.

Professor Thatcher is making the school of music one of the strong departments of the college. He has an unusually large choir in training and the vocal and instrumental students come from all over the state and many of the neighboring states. Professor Thatcher recently was appointed leader of the tabernacle choir and is giving much time to the preparation of the music for the conference to be held here next month.

Among the faculty wives registered for work at the college are Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Rexell in the department of commerce, and Mrs. Ostlen in French.

Last week a reception was given to the new young women students by the Women's league. A musical program was rendered and refreshments were served. Miss Edith Smith poured.

Through the efforts of Mr. Skeen, Mr. Harris, Mr. Hoff and Mrs. Judd of the class of '09, a freshman debating and literary club has been formed.

COUNTESS OF TANKERVILLE.

COUNTESS OF TANKERVILLE.

The Earl and beautiful Countess of Tankerville have rejoined the ranks of the revivalists, and are at present conducting an open-air evangelized mission in Shropshire. The Countess, it will be remembered, was Miss Lenora Sophia, daughter of J. G. Van Meter of New York. At one of these services both the earl and countess gave addresses, after which Lord Tankerville invited those present to come forward and give short testimonies. The evangelist peer's great hobby is miniature painting, and he is also fond of literature and music.
