Uncle Sam's Combined Forces
There and En Route.

41,000 MEN, 19 WARSHIPS.

After the Reinforcements of 4,000
Men Arrive, No More Will be Sent.

Washington, March 6.—Fourteen thousand officers and men of the combined army and navy forces comprising the approximately total American strength now at and en route, under the command of General Wood, are being sent to the Philippines. For further reinforcements are now in contemplation. The force of the two armies already stationed in and about the archipelago consists of twenty regiments of infantry, one cavalry, two artillery, seven troops of cavalry and eleven battalions of artillery, an aggregate of about 21,000 men. Nineteen warships, with an aggregate of 25,000 officers, sailors and marines, are also en route. This is an expansion of the transport force, with 142 officers and 1,000 men, which is constantly being sent back and forth from Manila. There are about 4,000 army soldiers and 2,000 navy sailors and marines, as well as 1,000 civilians, who are being sent to the Philippines as reinforcements. The reinforcements are being sent in two waves. The first wave, consisting of 14,000 men, is being sent in the next few days. The second wave, consisting of 4,000 men, is being sent in the next few weeks. The reinforcements are being sent to the Philippines to help in the fight against the Filipino rebels. The reinforcements are being sent to the Philippines to help in the fight against the Filipino rebels. The reinforcements are being sent to the Philippines to help in the fight against the Filipino rebels.
