Many Visited Y. M. C. A.-Nearly 4,000 friends of the Y. M. C. A. visited the institution last Saturday evening, on the occasion of the annual recep-tion and inspection of the building. There was music and refreshments and the function was much enjoyed.

Unity Circle-The ladies of Unity circle will entertain tomorrow at 5 p. m. in Unity hall, in honor of Miss Baldwin who leaves shortly to teach music in Seattle. Miss Baldwin will give dramatic readings, Miss Wetzell will sing, and Miss Tesh will play a piano solo.

Escaped Serious Injury-Laron Pratt had a narow escape from serious injury last night while stepping from a car near First South and Main streets. He stepped of under the im-pression that the car had stopped when it gave a lurch throwing him to the pavement with considerable force. He sustained a sprained finger and several bruises while his clothes were badly disfigured,

Tabernacle Concert-A big concert has been decided on for the tabernacle for the night of Friday, Oct. 5, the opening of conference. Prof. Stephens and the full choir will arrange a and the roll choir will altange a strong program and the expectation is that the soprano soloist of the occa-sion will be Miss Emma Lucy Gates who may be heard in conjunction with the choir of 500 voices as well as rendering a number of new solos of her

Had Narrow Escape-Mrs. J. Evans of east Second South street and babe narrowly escaped death Saturday eve. ning, in a runaway on Second South between Main and West Temple streets. They were thrown headlong into the street, by the sudden swerving of the buggy. Mrs. Evans striking on her face. However, she escaped with a badly bitten tongue and face bruises, while the child in her arms was not hurt at all. They were quickly picked up, taken into Hill's drug store, and then see theme. then sent home.

Worthless Bank Notes-A Merchants and Planters' bank note, utterly worth-Louise McCarthy, who keeps a room-ing house at 23 ½ south West Temple street. Two young men tendered the paper in payment for a room and received $9.50 good money in change. The pair did not return to occupy the oom, and the suspicious of the landlady were aroused. She took the note to police headquarters and there learned that it had no value. The public is warned to look well to the paper money offered them, as it is believed that there is considerable counterfelt sought to be passed in this county. Trouble of Actors-The difficulties between some members of the "Look. ing For a Wife" company will not Trouble began when the troupe was playing an engagement at the Grand, two weeks ago. The disagreement resulted in the withdrawal from the company of Comedian Will Wheeler. Since that time Wheeler has been staying at the Belmont hotel. Last night Alfred Mayo, manager of the company, and Dan Russell, lead-fng man, called upon Wheeler in his apartments, and, it is alleged, as-saulted him. He claims that the men pounced upon him while he lay upon his bed, and that he was taken wholly at a disadvantage. By the time the police arrived upon the scene, in answers to summons, Mayo and Russell had left the hotel. It is quite probable that Wheeler will cause the arrest of his alleged assailants today.

says it is a Rank Injustice to Boys and Girls to Exclude Bibles From Public Schools,

Rev. S. A. Haworth of the East Side Baptist church preached yesterday on the real mission of the teacher, and argued for the teaching of morals in the schools. Mr. Haworth's text was from Dan xii: 3. "And they that be teach-ers shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness, as the stars forever and forever

He said in part: "This is the greatest compliment to the teaching profes-sion in all literature. The real mis-sion of the teacher is to turn many to righteousness, denied our public school teachers. The people of this country have swung from one extreme to an-other. For fear of fostering the union other. For fear of fostering the union of church and state we place limita-tions on the schools in fostering good morals. We have said that the Ten-Commandments shall not be taught in our public schools. The Bible, that great fountain of morality, is excluded from us. This is a rank injustice to the multitude of boys and girls who are without moral instruction in their bones and who cannot be reached homes and who cannot be reached by the Sunday schools owing to the indifference of their parents, if not their open hostility to the work of the churches and Sunday schools.

FIRST PREREQUISITE. "The first prerequisite to good citi-zenship is good morals. The comp-troller of the currency of the United States in a recent interview at Wash-ington admitted that there is no posington admitted that there is no pos-sibility of absolutely protecting bank stockholders and depositors when in-tegrity is lacking on the part of the bank officials. It ought, therefore, to be the duty of the teacher to give some tinge to instructing the pupil in the common principles of honesty and morality as contained in the ten com-mandments.

"A judge in a certain western state recently rendered a decision against al-lowing the principles of morality taught in the public schools lest the rights of the atheist be infringed upon. I say it is wrong to deprive the boy of a knowledge of ethics for the sake of some atheist and then imprisen the mandments. some atheist and then imprison the boy who through ignorance breaks the law by theft or murder. It is not a square deal. The same logic if consquare deal. The same logic if con-sistently carried out will put a stop to our teaching physiology or that the breaking of a bone involves pain or that it is necessary to observe the laws of health in order to avoid disease, beof health in order to avoid disease, be-cause if we teach these things we will be infringing upn the rights of the Christian Scientist whose fundamental religious tenet is the denial of the ex-istence of matter and of pain. We will have to repeal all laws requiring the teaching of the effects of alcohol or the empirical for fort of treanasting on the system, for fear of trespassing upon the right of some old toper who worships the god, Bacchus. Scientific temperance instruction will have to be banished from the schools of our country if we are going to follow the logic of this extreme view.

MUST OBEY NATURES LAWS. "We are in a world where if we do not obey nature's laws we suffer. If we do not keep away from the fire we burn. Moral laws are as inexorable as are the physical laws of life. He who breaks the moral laws is locked up in prison. We pay many millions of do-lars to our police force of this country to lock people up who break the laws of the land. It would therefore seem wise to remove the restrictions imposed upon the public schools and en-courage the teaching of the universal principles of Christian ethics revealed in the Ten Commandments and in the sermon on the mount. If the state assumes the right to put a youth in jall it ought to have the right to teach him how to keep out of jail. "President Roosevelt in a recent address declared that a man educated in the intellect only is a most dangerous citizen, and that the highest citizen-ship can only spring from the educa-tion of the moral nature alongside of the intellectual. This being true it is time for the reintroduction of a course of instruction in our schools giving to the youth of the land a knowledge which is necessary for the strengthening of the moral fiber of our repub-He.
