Army spoke to crowded houses Sunday in the Salt Lake Theater, and was attentively listened to. His preaching was of the old time revival kind, and there were a number of conversions. The general and his party arrived at 9 a.m.

yesterday from the west, and registered at the Knutsford, where they were made comfortable. The personnel of the party was as given in Saturday night's "News," and all seemed in excellent health and spirits. At the Theaten the stage was occupied by the vistilng party, and members of the city staff, and other members of the local post were scattered as ushers through the house. As the aged veteran stepped to the front, with his long patriarchal beard, white hair, blue suit and red sweater, he was greeted with the Chautauqua salute, and after bowing an ac. knowledgment, he asked the audience to join him in the opening hymn, which to join nim in the opening bymn, which he led himself. Col. Higgins offered prayer, and Col. Lawley sang a solo, with the army assisting in the chorus. Then Gen, Booth opened his remarks

"My Dear Comrades and Friends: In my trip across the country, it was deemed wise that I should visit this important city to tell you something of the salvation of the Salvation Army; the salvation preached and practiced by them, and the salvation that makes the army a Salvation Army." He took for his text John 1: 8-9, in which the aposfines sin and tells how it may be

"I confess a partiality to the writings of John," said the general. "It is because they are so simple that children can understand them. Anyone can them. The trouble is, though, men are too busy figuring out how soon they will land in the bankrupt court, and scheming to make riches, that they do not read the Bible. They seem to be afraid they will get themselves into a mess in their business if they take time to look after their souls. The thing that is needed is more reading of the Bible, more reading of the Bible, more reading of the Bible. It isn't necesreading of the stand everything in the sary to understand everything in the Bible to please God. What we need is to know what sin is and to keep from it. John tells us plainly what sin is and how to get forgiveness for it. Some people think a man has to com-mit some open, terrible act to sin, and then they call him a sinner. At the ame time they may be doing something in their secret heart that is far worse than the open crime that their

GEN. BOOTH SPEAKS.

Gen. Booth, in behalf of himself and the army, expressed his thanks for the welcome and expressed appreciation of the kindly words spoken of the work of the local army staff. The general then said:

"What is the Salvation Army? Well, sir, it is a band of good men and wo-men banded together after the fashion --not in the manner, but after the fashion-of a military organization; not for mutual benefits but to help mankind as much as they can. It is not the result of a split in some religious organization. Neither is it a creation. Some have said that I, because I could not get fame in the ranks of the Christian churches, sat down and wrote this new form of church out, so that I might gain notoriety. It is nothing of the kind, sir. The Salvation Army is an

"Fifty-seven years ago, when I was a boy of 15, the truth of God came into my heart. In my town at that time the pople were suffering from a commercial calamity, and they were dying of want and need. I wanted to do something to help my people, and soon found myself going to the house of the poor and needy, praying to God for relief for them and doing what I could to help them. I began to preach, my wife afterward began to preach and my children and grand children are reaching-we are all preaching.

"I was not satisfied yet. To me there were two worlds. I stood in one spot and was told that within the compass of a mile there were 1,000,000 people living who had never crossd the threshold of a church. I went home that night and told my wife that I was going to devote the rest of my life and all I had to doing something for these kind of people. My wife said 'Amen,' and there the Salvarmy started. Iver Lawson, the world's champion A Startling Surprise icycle rider has returned to Salt Lake Very few could believe in looking at from the east and will remain here for . T. Hoadley, a healthy, robust blackseveral days before going to the coast, mith of Tilden, Ind., that for 10 years where he will train for next season' he suffered such tortures from Rheuwork. Iver is accompanied by Floyd McFarland, champion of the Pacific matism as few could endure and live. But a wonderful change followed his coast. The speedy rider looks much better than he did when he left Salt taking Electric Bitters. "Two bottles wholly cured me," he writes, "and l Lake to go abroad. He says he has entirely recovered from the attack of typhoid fever which he had here last Lawson and McFarland will in il probability ride together the com ing season and the public may expect to hear something from this pair of peedy riders. It is claimed by those who should know, that had not Iver rene away at the beginning of last eason he would now be occupying the lace held by Frank Kramer. But even Iver's return to this country he defeated Kramer several times and tried to get a match with him at Madison Square garden this winter but Kramer balked, saying he could not afford to risk his reputation against Lawson Iver has had a successful season and h's earnings run up into the thousands of dollars.

ABOUT MUNROE AND JFFF. George Siler Thinks Referee's Decision Was All Right. Champion Jim Jeffries' failure to stop a miner named Jack Munreo in four rounds at Butte, Mont., on the night of Dec. 20 was the most talked of affair in pugilism since the champion-ship battle between Jeff and Fitz at San Francisco last July, says George Siler in the Chicago Tribune. The first reports of the four-round bout sent broadcast over the country were that Jeffries had been knocked down and that he had received a sound behting from the heretofore unknown The second day's storles were man. adified as to how the champion was handled and also stated that Munroe took the count repeatedly, but for which he might not have stayed the That, however, should not count against him, as his sole object was to stay four rounds and win the $250 which the champion hung up.

It was a victory, such as it was, for Jack and a decided setback for Jim, which was felt keenly by the cham pion. He did not mind the loss of the $250, but he took Referee Duncan Mc Donald's decision declaring Munroe th winner much to heart. He tried to convince the referee that no decision was to have been given and that Mun-roe was simply entitled to the money and the credit of staying the limit. McDonaid, however, took an entire-ly different view of it, so a defeat—the first—must be tabled against the champion Now the question naturally arises, did the referee overstep his duty by declaring a man a winner who, al-though he stayed four rounds, was though he stayed four rounds, was practically beaten? Jeff certainly out-fought Munroe and, barring the four-00

more of his time with his family, as several of his children are in delicate He may also be desirous of quitting the navy because of the awkward situation at Kiel, with reference to ques which will add comfort and convenience tions of precedence in consequence of the residence there of the kalser's sec-ond son, Prince Adalbert, who is understudying Prince Henry's place as admiral royal.

shipbuilding yards were very active during 1902, but the tendency immensi ly to increase productive capacity stablishments, which characterized other industries, was not noticeable to any extent. This probably accounts fo the absence in the trade of the stagna tion so general in Germany at the present time.
