FIFTIETH CONGRESS. SENATE. WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 .- Allison, from the Committee on Finance, reported back the House tariff bill with an amendment in the nature of a substitute. Piaced on the calendar. He said the majority and minority reports to accompany the bill would be need to-morrow or Friday. He gave notice he would call up the bill for consideration Monday.

Sherman said he would be compelled to leave early this afternoon and would like to be indulged in making a few remarks on the tariff bill. Unsulmons consent was given and be a like to be indulged.

like to be indulged in making a few remarks on the tariff bill. Unanimous consent was given and fee directed the Senate. He complimented the subcommittee on the work done and severely criticised the House bill. In his judgment there would be few defects found in the Senate's substitute. It would be found to be a very perfect bill. Among other things, it was a substantial compens of the provisions for the collection of internal revenue and customs duties. It contained a positive reduction of revenue to the extent of $73.080.00. The reduction was on a few articles. He believed the Senate bill was, on the whole the best revenue bill ever introduced in Congress, and that if it could be taken up free from party recludice and debated and amended it might be made the most perfect are put as the statute books. The issue was now iairly made before the people and was to be tried by them it was a question whether articles necessary for human life should be made by foreign labo or American, and whether the wages of the American isborer should septend on the American policy of protecting all forms of isbor and produc-

Senator Cockrell made a long speech, and closed by asserting that President Cleveland had redeemed, and secredly kept every pledge that he had made in relation to civil service.

Senator Hale commented on the fact that Cockrell had not been able in a two hours' speech to say one word in two hours' speech to say one word in defense of the rough order in which the War Department proclaimed a war of extermination on women and children!

Chandler characterized Bennett's circular as the most discreditable of all emanations in violence of the President's professions and of civil service reform.

Hawley referred to Cleveland's contribution to the democratic fund, and said the conclusion was inevitable that he had committed a crime punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both.
