Calls Upon People of Utah to Properly Celebrate Thanksgiving Day.

COMES THURSDAY NOV. 30.

Is in Harmony With That Issued by The President of the United States.

Gov. Cutler today issued his Thanksgiving day proclamation, calling upon the people of this state to observe Thursday, Nov. 30, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer. The proclamation follows in full:

By the Governor of the State of Utah, a Proclamation:

The president of the United States has proclaimed Thursday, Nov. 30, A. D. 1905, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer for all the people of this country.

His appeal to the nation to pray for the preservation and perpetuity of the government will find fervent response in the various industries of Utah. The people of this commonwealth have special reasons for rejoicing in the success of the nation. The year has been one of general prosperity in the various industries of Utah, thus adding largely to our population and permanent wealth. The people have enjoyed health, peace and contentment in harmony with the proclamation of the president of the United States. In conformity with honored custom, and by authority of law, I, John C. Cutler, governor of the State of Utah, set apart and designate Thursday, Nov. 30, 1905, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer. On that day I earnestly request that public and private business be suspended; that the state institutions and public schools close; and that the people assemble in their places of public worship and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His manifold mercies and blessings in the past and for His divine guidance in all the duties and responsibilities of life which await them in the future.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the State of Utah to be hereunto affixed at Salt Lake City this 4th day of October, A. D. 1905.

JOHN C. CUTLER, Governor.
By the Governor: C. S. TINGEY, Secretary of State.

PIONEER STAKE FAIR.

Five Nights of High Class Entertainment in the Stake Hall.

Commencing Tuesday, Nov. 11, and continuing for five nights, with a Wednesday matinee, the Pioneer stake hall will be the scene of a stake fair. Already arrangements are well under way and the success of the fair is unquestionably assured. In addition to the usual booths, filled to overflowing with articles both useful and ornamental, there will be a department of relief and cures, a high class musical program in the main hall, while in another part of the building a vaudeville program will be carried out, thus introducing a number of special features that will add to the pleasure and mirth provoking nature of the entertainment. At the matinee there will be a Christmas mail box for the little folks, so that all who attend will have the privilege of addressing letters to Santa Claus. There will also be drawings for valuable prizes, and a queen contest, in which the different wards of the stake will wage merry war for recognition. The contest is now on and friends of those concerned are doing their utmost to insure the election of their particular candidates. The fair is for the benefit of the stake hall, and will close Saturday night with a ball in honor of the queen.

A LAST WORD TO VOTERS.

Major Morris' popularity with the masses has reduced both American and Republican managers to the verge of desperation. They are filling the city with all sorts of silly rumors and baseless figures in a last despairing effort to stop the stampede in Morris' Voters, don't be deceived.

The Democratic committee asks ANY ONE IN DOUBT merely to glance at these figures and to dispute them if he can.

About 5,000 votes will be cast in the city tomorrow by all parties.

Two years ago Major Morris received 10,000.

He can lose 2,000 votes and still be elected.

Every sane individual, however, points to his receiving his old vote, and no one need be surprised at a LANDSLIDE that will send him up to 10,000.

Why? First—Because of the record he has made. Second—Because 8 out of 10 "American" voters have gone from the Republicans. Third—Because the solid, conservative business elements of the town, Mormon and non-Mormon alike, are behind him.

Voters do your own thinking!

supposed to be insane. The men are telegraph operators, and were walking in the hills. They had passed a mining dump a few feet, when a bullet struck Arpin in the lower thigh. Another fired almost immediately struck Delive in the groin. Two other shots were fired, one striking Delive in the arm, and the other Arpin in the groin. Delive took refuge behind a rock in the ground and saw a man running away. The wounded men were brought to town and, while their wounds are serious, they are not believed to be mortal.

An insane man has been reported in the hills near Helena for several days, and the sheriff's officers have been hunting for him. It is believed he is the man who did the shooting. A search in the hills until night for the man was unavailing.

The insane man is laboring under the belief that some one is trying to jump his mining claim.

Albert K. Arpin, the man mentioned in the above dispatch, was a resident of Salt Lake the early part of this year, and left about the first of May for Helena to accept a position with the Western Union Telegraph company, for whom he had worked while in Salt Lake. His home, it is understood, is in Birmingham, Ala., from which section he came west about three weeks ago. His parents reside there, while he has an uncle living in this city.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Theater will reopen Wednesday night with the sensational play "Midnight in Chinatown."

At the Grand the popular sensation "Only a Girl" is running to good business.

The Star Show girls, announced as a collection of American beauties, are at the Lyric this week, and are drawing the usual capacity houses. The girls are about on a par with the usual run of Lyric choruses, but hardly team together as well. The cleverest feature of the company is a skit by the Tenbrook-Lambert trio, in which the modern music school is satirized, to the great glee of the audience. Two farces "Deserters at Large" and "Buying a Husband," are rendered in hilarious fashion though there is a superabundance of jokes that are not jokes.

A number of vaudeville acts fill up a fairly successful evening. The company remains until Friday night.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN KILLED. Narrow Escape of G. W. Spencer From Fatal Accident.

A peculiar escape from maiming, if not from death, occurred Sunday at 9 a. m. at Third North and Third West streets. G. W. Spencer, a call boy in the employ of the Oregon Short Line, was riding on his wheel up street behind the dummy, which shot out the wheel of the car. Spencer suddenly turned into the road, not knowing car 82 was coming down street at a good clip. The boy rode right in front of the street car, which struck him fair and square. Had the car been without a tender, young Spencer would have been ground to a pulp under the wheels; but the safety tender dropped and caught him and carried him 120 yards along the track, when the car was stopped by the motorman, John Gayler. The bicycle was smashed all to pieces, and the wire spokes were fairly wound up around the boy. But fortunately, because receiving a terrible fright, he was not severely hurt. The tender saved him. Spencer was assisted to his home, which was not far off, and on reaching there his nerves gave way, and he had to be put to bed.

B.G. REALTY DEAL.

Mrs. Judge Buys Main Street Corner For $175,000.

Mrs. Mary Judge has bought for $175,000, the southeast corner of Main and Third South streets, from the Burlington syndicate, as an investment, and in the course of a year or so, it is very likely that she will tear down the present two-story building there and erect on its site a handsome business structure. The property is 110 feet on Main street and its feet on Third South street, bounding a right of way. It has been in the hands of the Burlington syndicate for some years, and originally owned by the late Mrs. J. C. Smith. It was recently purchased by Mrs. Judge, especially since the erection of the federal building, has sent the valuation of the corner up to its present lofty figure.

Cattle and Sheep by the Trainloads Are Being Sent Into Southern California Today.

With the shipment of two trainloads of live stock today and a like number tomorrow over the Salt Lake Route to Los Angeles a new market has been opened up for the cattle and sheep growers of Utah. Saunders of this city and are to be fed on the company's ranch until they are in prime condition for the Los Angeles slaughter houses. In addition there are also seven cars of sheep being loaded at Milford for the same destination. The sheep were sold to Mr. Stephenson by Mr. Parcell.

Tomorrow 22 carloads of cattle will be loaded at Milford, they also being consigned to the Cheno Land and Water company. With this title he went to Denver to later return here as auditor of the Utah Fuel company and Warshaw store company. The official circular over the signature of Charles H. Schlaacks was also received here this morning announcing the appointment of W. O. Williams to succeed Mr. Evans on the Fuel company.

BURGERS' RICH HAUL

Get Into Residence of John Bays and Steal Goods Worth $300.

On Saturday night, burglars effected an entrance to the residence of John Bays, 11 Devon avenue, and made off with money and jewelry worth about $300.

The burglars evidently took their time in the search for valuables, as not one room was overlooked. Only that which could be easily disposed of was taken. The family had been away from home for about two hours, and upon returning found that the place had been completely ransacked. Entrance was made by the use of a skeleton key.

PRISON DISCIPLINE.

How Observed at Leavenworth Under Direction of Warden McClaughey.

During his visit east, Warden Pratt of the state prison was much interested in the administration of the government prison at Leavenworth, Maj. McClaughey, the warden, extended every courtesy to his Utah visitor, and among other things explained how unruly convicts are made to work. When a prisoner refused to perform his task, he is put into a well of the house of cement floored cell, given a barrel of rock and a hammer, and told that when he has broken up the load he can have something to eat. The major says this plan never fails to work, and is much better than locking a man up in a dark cell, where the gloom preys on his superstitious fears.

The major is also a strong advocate of identification by thumb marks which never fail and is better than the Bertillon system in that not one peace officer in 100 is able to register a man according to the French system. The thumb impression is taken in ink, and preserved by varnishing, and originated with the Chinese who still use it in signatures. The major is also against the use of striped clothing for all but third grade prisoners, and this works so well that the Chinese who are compelled to dress thus feel that it is disgrace and aim to behave themselves so as to prevent being thus degraded. The use of striped clothing does not prevent prisoners escaping as they always manage to obtain a man up in a dark cell, where the gloom preys on his superstitious fears.

SUNNYSIDE LOSS NOT OVER $50,000

Manager Williams Says Coke Ovens Will be Working Full Blast Within Sixty Days.

GOOD OUTPUT LAST WEEK.

Producing From 125 to 150 Tons of Coke Daily—Work at Sunnyside And Castle Gate.

Henry G. Williams, general manager of the Utah Fuel company, returned from Sunnyside on Saturday night having been on the scene since the big fire there nearly 10 days ago.

This morning Mr. Williams stated to the "News" that the loss would in all probability not exceed $50,000, and that in two months from date the plant for grinding the coal preparatory to its being converted into coke, would be running at its full capacity once more. "In the meantime," he said, "we are doing all in our power to keep the plant running and provide the smelters and others with coke. Since Tuesday last we have been loading coal at Sunnyside and some of the ovens have been running. On Saturday night 13 carloads of coke were shipped out of Sunnyside, these being the accumulation of the week. At present we are making a little coke both at Sunnyside and castle gate.

"Last week from 125 to 150 tons of coke were turned out daily. This week we ought to make 250 tons of coke a day and by the end of the week reach the limit under present conditions which will be about two-thirds of the normal output of sunnyside before the big fire.

"By working one mine in the day and the other at night with the temporary machinery on hand we ought to be able to keep up this output until the burned plant is rebuilt, which proceeding will in all probability take all next month. While the fire was on had one it was not as bad as was at first figured out. The loss will not, in all probability exceed $50,000."

Four Guardsmen Tell Why They Were Absent From Camp Taft.

The N. G. U. court martial on cases of failure to attend Camp Taft met Saturday evening on four cases. They were those of M. Taylor, A. J. Gemmill, A. Madsen, and J. Terry, all of company D, of Salt Lake. Taylor pleaded guilty and explained that he went to Wyoming to secure work shortly before campment, and on getting a place, he wrote Capt. Hasting that he could not be present at Camp Taft. Extreme leniency was recommended by the judge advocate, as it was apparent that he had not remained willfully away, Gemmill pleaded not guilty, explaining that he had made arrangements to go to Mant, but was kept at home by the illness of his wife. J. Terry asked for leniency on his record of eight years as a member of the guard, while Madsen explained that he was suffering from an abscess when the call to attend camp was made, and for that reason he could not attend.

The court has two more cases to hear in Salt Lake, and will then meet in Ogden, on cases occurring in company B.

CUTTING AFFRAY AILED IN COURT.

The love affair and trouble between two of Franklin avenue's colored citizens is being aired in the criminal court before Judge Armstrong and a jury today. The title of the case is the State of Utah against Cornelius Smith. The charge against the defendant is assault with a deadly weapon upon his sweetheart, Jennie Jennings, with intent to do her bodily harm and the date of the crime was June 25, 1905.

In ascertaining the facts, the woman testified about as follows: "I was laying in the hammock and he was setting over across the street, and he said, 'Honey, come over here and set down by me.' I said, 'I don't get by you here?' I want you to understand a retired soldier is putting up for me. Then he said 'Don't you love me now?' and I said 'I don't love you, and then he went in the house and came out with a knife and came over and stabbed me.'"

NOT "STUCK" ON HIM. She denied most emphatically that she had ever been in love with Smith or that she was the least bit "stuck" on him.

Smith was called to the stand as the first witness for the defense and made quite a hit with the spectators present by his address to the jury. Attorney Ben Johnson, who is defending Smith, told him to inform the jury what occurred on June 25, the date of the alleged cutting.

ADDRESS TO THE JURY. Turning in the witness stand so as to face the jury he said: "Gentlemen of the jury—He was interrupted by his counsel, who informed him that he was not making an argument to the jury but was testifying in the case. Smith then proceeded as follows: 'I was working for Mr. Hatch on that date and I had a bad spell with my heart and started to my room on Franklin avenue when I got up here by the Knutson I was feeling bad, so I set down to rest. Then three fellows came along and asked me what was the matter and said I was looking pale and I asked 'em to get me a drink of water. They give me a cup of something out of a bottle and I told 'em 'I at the stuff didn't taste good to me and I would give 'em a half dollar if they would get me a drink of water. After that I didn't remember nothing more until the officer came to my door and arrested me.'"

He denied that the knife introduced in evidence was his or that it had been taken from his person. He said that it belonged to his room mate. The case will go to the jury early this afternoon.

Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish form after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free.
