Mr. Shepherd has a wide circle of acquaintances in Utah and his promotion comes as a popular one. At one time he was paymaster for the Short Line and indulged in mutual smiles with all the employes of the system once a month, a fact that, if possible, further enhanced his popularity. He became connected with the Short Line Sept. 1, 1898, when he occupied a deak In the auditor's office in charge of station accounts. At the time he joined the force of the local treasurer 18 months are he was general bookkeeper for the system. Mr. Shepherd will leave for Los Anreles on Saturday evening to enter upon his new duties.

A party of surveyors left Denver Wednesday night to work on the most direct route to Canada from Orin Junc-tion, Wyo., a distance of 154 miles northwest of Chevenne. The Colorado & Southern officials say that the Cana-dian extension will start from this dian extension will start from this point. The road will traverse the rich-est part of Montana and will make connections with the Pacific coast line now under construction by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road through the Dakates Dakotas.

Dakotas. The survey will then be made to the state of Assiniboia, Canada, where connections will be made with the Canadian Pacific railway. The line from Denver to Canada, the Colorado & Southern officials say, will not be more than 500 miles. The road will probably penetrate the Big Horn basin in Wyoming, and will touch Yellowstone park. It will prob-ably pass through Billings, Mont., and will connect with the Canadian Pacific railway at some point near Pasqua, Assiniboia. Why to the great majority of the people? Smith gets up in the morning and looks out the window and the first sight he beholds is the back of the bill board. He goes to work and has to pass the bill board. Now I urge these as some of the reasons why the bill board should go from the residence portion of the city: First, they are maightly; they detract from the beauty of the surrounding homes, and depreciate their value very materially. They afford the best kind of meeting places for the young boodmaterially. They afford the best kind of meeting places for the young hood-lums of the community, and they also afford a choice spot for the holdun and thug to conceal themselves, and spring upon the unsuspecting victim. ### CLEAR BILL BOARDS FROM RESIDENCE DISTRICT

To the Deseret News:

I noticed in last night's "News" an article from Mr. R. L. Anderson rela-tive to the "bill board" and I think tive to the "bill board" and I think that in justice to Mr. Anderson and the public, the article demands a brief reply, but in making this answer, I wish it distinctly understood that I am making it as a business man, a proper-ty owner, and a resident and citizen, and not as the president of the Manu-facturers & Merchants' association. This question has been agitated and

This question has been agitated and successfully settler by a number of eastern cities, as magazine readers, well know, and it is a question that has forced itself upon our city, and e, also, must meet and settle it. I wish first to answer Mr. Anderson' objections, and then point out, what seems to me, to be the best remedy. The principal objection on the same of Mr. Anderson seems to be that by

of Mr. Anderson seems to be that by doing away with the bill board, we are going to take away employment from a number of people, and withdraw some capital from the city. Let us look at this proposition for a moment. According to Mr. Ander-son's statement the company he repre-sents pays $100 per month for its best space and I suppose that this best space, and I suppose that this best space is the Smith Drug Company cor-ner, from which I understand the bill ner, from which I understand the bill board company receives a monthly rev-enue of from $600 to $700. If the company pays only $100 for Smith's corner, how much do they pay for the spaces they occupy in the residence part of the city? From Mr. Anderson's letter, I take it that in some cases, just enough to pay the tax-es on the vacant property occupied, and perhaps in others not even as much as this. Many property owners are satishermans in others not even as much as this. Many property owners are satis-fied with this small income from their vacant property, because they are hold-ing it for speculative purposes, and as long as they are under no expense for the maintainence of the property, they can afford to hold it tale while they walt for the prices of real estate to soar to the point where they can sell ceptible to almost any kind of impressions, are harmful in the extreme. On the other hand, they do not in any sense benefit the majority of our people-any benefits that may con from them are confined to a very fer com

from them are confined to a very few. Now for the remedy. Public senti-ment must be so aroused in this matter that the citizens of our city will de-mand of the council a law to regulate the bill boards. A law in this direction was passed by the city council two or three years ago. It was very liberal in its requirements. It only asked that the bill boards be set 10 feet from the sidewalk and be raised three feet from sidewalk and be raised three feet from the ground, but the bill board people at that time seemed so deaf to public opinion and seatiment, that even this simple ordinance was taken to the courts and tested, and found wanting in certain respects, so that today we have practically no law or ordinance, vhatever in the matter.

whatever in the matter. Now what we need is a public owak-ening—an awakening on the part of all the people of our city in this matter. These matters can best, be carried on by the people arousing themselves, and using thir influence with the city coun-our so that a proper ordinance will be cil, so that a proper ordinance will be enacted. Such an ordinance should confine the bill boards to the business portion of the town, and should pre-

Such a measure if passed, could not but result to the benefit of the entire city, as it would take all the bill boards from the residence district, and thus make this part of the city more beau.iful, and remove the other evils which named.

At the same time it would, it seem to me, result to the benefit of the bill board company as well. It would enable them to select a better class of adverthere is an obtain better prices from their spaces. As already pointed out, there is an immense profit to the com-pany from their spaces in the heart of the city. I am also reliably informed that the little space occupied on the south side of the Smith Drug company's store for the moving nictures and adtore for the moving pictures and advertisements, produces a revenue of 10,000 a year. Let the company put up more bill boards in the heart of the city-the business district where they properly belong-if they wish, but let's create a public sentiment that will arouse our other business that ity council to pass an ordinance that ill take them forever from the beautiful residence portion of our city, ORSON H.
