ARGUMENTS IN WALKER TRIAL

Will be Concluded Today and Court's Instructions to the Jury This Evening.

DEATH OF MISS ANNIE TAYLOR

Is a Victim of Typhoid Fever After Brief Illness—Petition for Probation of Will of D. H. Peery.

Ogden, Dec. 20.—The arguments in the murder trial against Fred C. Walker continued all day yesterday and it is expected will not be completed until this evening, after which Judge Howell will have to give the charge to the jury, which will take fully an hour to read. The arguments were much longer than had been anticipated. Judge Corn of the prosecution opened his argument at 11 o'clock and did not close until after 3 o'clock. He was followed by Judge A. G. Horn for the defense, who continued his argument until 4 o'clock. The closing argument for the defense was made by Attorney Hutchinson, who closed at 5 o'clock. The court will make the final appeal to the jury.

At the request of the attorneys for both sides the court permitted the jury to view the Electric Supply and Fixture company's building where the fatal accident occurred, but were given strict instructions from the court that they must not make any measurements or discuss the condition of the premises with anyone else or among themselves, but just make observations.

Judge Corn argued that the state had proven that Dr. Beers was taken out of the room and there seated to death, that throughout the entire trial the evidence showed he was getting the worst of it. He quoted considerable testimony from the testimony of Mrs. Hall and her daughter. He argued that there never was a defendant who took the witness stand in his own behalf that did not make untrue statements because of the uncertainty of the human mind. He characterized Walker's testimony as a dramatic entertainment. He had not thought but that both Walker and Lawrence, under ordinary circumstances, were honest, honorable men but that realizing their life is at stake, made up and told the most young lady, of a sweet sunny disposition. At the Independent Telephone office, where she was employed, universal sorrow was felt. The body was removed to Larkin & Sons' morgue. The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon. The time and place will be announced later.

JOSIAH TAYLOR ESTATE.

Petition has been filed in the Second district court by Richards, Rolap & Pratt, as attorneys for the estate of the late Josiah Taylor, asking that the last will be admitted for probate. The estate is estimated to be worth $25,000 and consists principally of real estate in Utah and Idaho and personal property valued at $10,000. The executor of the estate is to be William B. Lark, Abbie A. Taylor and Alexander Taylor, who are to serve without bond. The heirs of the estate are six children—Abbie Taylor, James Marion, Laura and Rulon Taylor, who are to share equally in the estate.

WILL OF D. H. PEERY.

Estate Valued at $123,000—Legates Named in Testament.

Ogden, Dec. 20.—In the probate division of the district court yesterday a petition was filed for the probating of the will of the late David H. Peery. The executor named was Mrs. Elizabeth Peery, Horace E. Peery and Harold J. Peery, mother and brothers of deceased.

The estate is valued at $123,000, which consists of the following assets: $77,000 in mining stocks, $22,000 in cash on deposit in banks, $12,000 due from life and health insurance policies, $5,000 on accounts and bills receivable, and real estate valued at $8,000.

The will provides that the executors shall set aside $10,000 for the erection of a monument to the Peery family in the Ogden City cemetery for the resting place of his body and for the remains of any other descendant of his father who may be called by death.

To Yee Lake, a resident of Plum alley in Salt Lake, who served deceased as valet, $500 was left for the faithful performance of his duties. Bishop Robert McQuarrie of the Second ecclesiastical ward of Ogden was bequeathed $500 to be held in trust for the benefit of the poor of his ward. To his friend, James A. Shorten of Salt Lake, $1,000 was left. To a brother of deceased, Joseph S. Peery, $1 is given with the explanation that a larger sum is not left because he has enough money of his own.

The executors are directed to distribute the income from that portion of the estate of deceased father which he owned to Horace T. Peery, David H. Peery, Richard J. Peery, Virginia Peery, Robert Burton and Lorenzo Richards, all nieces and nephews of deceased, at the rate of $10 a month, with the exception of Virginia, who is directed to receive $15 a month. The income from the estate is $3 a month, and the amount left to each child is to be used by its parents for its benefit. The remainder of the estate is awarded to Horace E. Peery, Mrs. Elizabeth Peery, Harold J. Peery, Mrs. Louise Peery Fulkerson, Francis S. Peery and Harman Peery, share and share alike.

FAMILY ALL DOWN WITH TY-PHOID.

Eleven members of the John A. Leatham family of Wellsville are now afflicted with typhoid fever, including Mr. and Mrs. Leatham, six daughters, and three sons. It is said that the home looks more like a hospital than anything else. Several of the nurses from the Rudge & Rudge hospital are attending to the sick folk and all are placed in single beds. It is thought that a number of the ones who first took the ailment are gradually improving. As yet the cause of the malady is not known, but it is thought to have been taken from the water or from food that has been eaten.

The Brigham Young college basketball team leaves Saturday morning to meet the Y. M. C. team in Salt Lake. MOUNT PLEASANT.

TON OF FLOUR FOR POOR.

Kitchen Range Explodes—Quarantine Conditions Investigated—Notes.

Special Correspondence.

Mr. E. C. Johnson, author of Mt. Pleasant's affairs is showing his good faith by contributing a ton of flour to the needy people of this town.

The Mount Pleasant health officer, was in Mt. Pleasant one day this week. A complaint had been made to the effect that the quarantine regulations for market food had not been strictly followed. It was found that the case in question had been treated in the same way that other cases had during the fall. That is, the food of the family was allowed to leave the home and be sold in business in town upon presentation of not attending officers of any kind. Therefore, nothing out of the ordinary came of the investigation.

KITCHEN RANGE EXPLODES.

One morning this week the Brown hotel had an explosion which blew the kitchen range into a hundred pieces and Miss Maude Burton, who was in the kitchen at the time, was seriously injured by flying water and steam. The night before had been a very cold one and the range had been in use for some time. In the morning a fire was started without paying any regard to the fact that the range was old and began to rise and as there was no place for it to escape the explosion occurred as stated. The damage besides injuring Miss Burton will amount to about $75. Elder Francis Jensen returned Wednesday after spending two years in Denmark, where he has been doing missionary work. He returns in good health and reports having had both a profitable and pleasant trip.

There have been some 8 cases of quaternary during the week. Cases are also reported at Moreau and Spring City.

The schools are running fairly well, but the attendance in the primary grade is small.

William Bradley of Moreau, is reported quite ill with fever and kidney troubles. He is in this city, to the wife of William Bradley, a son, Dec. 1, 1877, to the wife of Joseph Jensen, a daughter, Dec. 1, 1897.

Miss Alma Hestler and M. P. Anderson, go to Mantoloking to attend the Religious Convention of the South, North & South Synopsi state.

Lighter Yield of Grain—New Bell Tower—Christmas Festivities.

Special Correspondence.

Ferron, Emery Co., Dec. 13.—The threshing season is over now and reports are that the yield of grain is not so good this year as last.

Last Monday the boys turned out and hauled wood and coal for the poor and a dance and supper were given the boys Friday evening at the social hall.

A committee has been appointed for Christmas festivities and a good time is anticipated.

Carpenters are at work on the tower for the new bell which was purchased some time ago by the Relief society. It is said to be the largest bell in the county.

Miss Esther Beal, the daughter of Bishop N. K. Beal, was obliged to return home from Castledale where she was attending school. She is quite ill with an attack of the grippe.

SPRINGVILLE.

SUDDEN DEATH.

John Parry Succumbs to Heart Failure Following Death of Son.

Special Correspondence.

Springville, Utah Co., Dec. 16.—After a slight illness of only a few hours, John Parry passed quietly away very unexpected Sunday evening, Dec. 15. He had been up and about during the day, the latter part of which he did not feel well. Mr. Parry grieved very much over the death of his oldest son, Thomas, which occurred three weeks ago, and felt that he could hardly stand the blow, which so troubled him that it affected his heart. The deceased was born Nov. 24, 1824, at Kilmorton, Flintshire, North Wales, was the son of Michael Parry and Elizabeth Davis, was baptized in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in his boyhood, and came to Utah 44 years ago. A great deal of his life has been devoted as an engineer, running one of the first engines on the D. & R. G. to the Rockford coal fields, and during its construction. He was an honest, industrious man, devoted to his religion and leaves a wife, two sons and two daughters to mourn his demise. His funeral will be held Thursday, Dec. 19.

SEVENTEENTH CHANGES.

Elder R. H. Roberts visited the Fifteenth ward of seventy in Springville, last Sunday. E. C. Boyer and W. K. Johnson were released from the presidency of that ward to join the high priests. M. A. Boyer, W. K. Johnson, Jr., and N. K. Nelson were set apart to fill the vacancies. Elder Roberts delivered an interesting discourse to the Springville people in the afternoon.

Mr. Christensen will open a new term juvenile classes in dancing next Saturday, December 21, 2, 3, 4 o'clock. Academy 127 E. 1st St.
