

mation that the managing members of the firm have also been indicted by the Salt Lake grand jury in connection with the furniture deal, Attorney Cary, who is a brother of F. A. Cary, said today he did not know how true the statement was. E. D. Weary, who was manager for the A. H. Andrews company, who had been instrumental in promoting the investigation at Salt Lake, showed a letter today from that city, written on the office paper of the Salt Lake Tribune, and signed by the manager, P. H. Lannan, which contained the statement that there had been returned against two officers of the company seven indictments each, and nine indictments against Hayken, the salesman. Mr. Lannan also stated in the trial that as soon as the trial of Hayken was concluded, the others would be extradited and prosecuted for participation in the alleged swindle.

Hayken was arrested in Salt Lake one day as he stepped from the train on his arrival from Denver to appear as a witness before the county court in relation to the investigation. The arrest was made on the strength of the evidence furnished by the letters which Attorney Cary says were stolen from the office of the A. H. Andrews company.

In his defense forty-five interrogatories were prepared and forwarded to this city, to be replied to by the members of the Andrews company. The interrogatories were almost entirely in regard to the letters and the business relations of Hayken and the Andrews company. The hearing of the depositions in reply to these questions was begun before Special Commissioner Eble in the Ashland building Thursday, and was finished this evening. E. D. Weary was present at the inquiry, and was accompanied by an attorney. The depositions were forwarded to Salt Lake, to be used in the trial of Hayken.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Alfred H. Andrews, president of the firm of A. H. Andrews & Co., which failed Thursday; F. A. Carey, the treasurer, and F. A. Holbrook, the assignee, appeared in the county court today on the citation of the creditors, to be examined as to the condition of the company financially. They gave a clear account of the condition of affairs and the causes which led to the failure. Holbrook made a statement, showing that the company has merchandise on hand worth $225,000, according to an inventory made last July. He said the building in which the manufacturing is done is worth over $225,000. The machinery is worth about $50,000. Altogether there are assets clear of incumbrances amounting to $175,000, and the unsecured liabilities are $125,000.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 6.—A special to the Journal from Guthrie, O. T., says: A very pathetic meeting of a father and daughter who had been parted eighteen years, the father all that time believing the daughter dead, occurred at the Santa Fe depot in this city today, when Miss Currie N. Keiffer of San Francisco, Cal., stepped from the train into the arms of her father, W. M. Keiffer of Norman, O. T.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The Bureau of Indian Affairs today received the following dispatch from Clerk Cheer-

Man, in charge of the Apache agency at San Carlos, Ariz., regarding the murder of whites near there:

"White man and daughter killed late yesterday forty miles from the east reservation line by a party of Indians, presumably renegades. Troops from here and Fort Grant leave this morning for the scene of the trouble."

Capt. Meyer, the agent, is now in Washington. He says it is as likely that the murderers are Mexicans as Indians, and that the present temper and feeling among the Apaches would not seem to point to them as perpetrators of the outrage.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Three dispatches relating to slight Indian troubles in Arizona were received at the war department today. The commanding officer at Fort Grant reported that on the periodical "round up" at San Carlos reservation December 5, it was found that five Indian warriors belonging to the Noeras band of Apaches were absent. Captain Bell was immediately sent to bring them in if possible.

The commanding officer at Fort Apache telegraphed that "Old George," who camps on Turkey Creek on the road to Sullivanville, is suspected of the murder of Geo. Merrill and daughter. A detachment of troops has been sent to George's camp and the Indian police have been out to ascertain if any strangers are on the reservation. The same officer later telegraphed that an Indian had been reported killed near Cibola, December 5 by five armed white men. They left a pack mule in the hands of the Indians by which the party may be identified. A troop from the 7th cavalry has been sent to investigate.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 7.—Gov. Clough this afternoon sentenced Harry Hayward, the murderer of Catherine King, to be hanged on Wednesday, December 11.

COUNTING BALLOTS.

Wednesday the Utah Commission completed its canvass of the vote on the State Constitution, and promptly proceeded with the work of making out the certified return to forward to President Cleveland. The document should reach the Chief Magistrate not later than Wednesday next; and in a few days thereafter the President is likely to be heard from on the subject, through his proclamation of the admission of Utah to Statehood.

The returns given show a very heavy vote throughout the Territory. Of more than 41,000 votes cast, less than one-fifth were registered against the Constitution. Nearly 2,700 persons who voted are recorded as saying neither "yes" or "no" on the State charter. This is accounted for by the fact that both words were on the ticket, and when neither was struck out, the ticket was a blank upon that issue. It is assumed that at all, or nearly all of those not voting would have registered an affirmative ballot, thus swelling the total in favor of the Constitution to nearly 34,000, but that they unwittingly neglected to cross out the word "no," as was recorded in many cases on election day, the voters having forgotten the marking out instruction in going to the ballot box. The total votes recorded for and against the Constitution was 38,992. The entire registration in the Territory was 49,717; entire vote cast, 41,682; for the Constitution, 31,305; against, 7,687; not voting on the Constitution, 2,670.

The returns by counties for and against the Constitution are as follows:

The canvass of the total State vote for city officers, as completed Wednesday evening by the Utah Commission, is given below; likewise the result of the vote for members of the upper house of the Legislature and the contest for district judges. The canvassing board met this morning and decided a tie contest in Mendon in favor of the Democrats and one in Wellsville favoring the Unionists. The Commission held a meeting this afternoon, but up to press time no action had been taken as to what mode would be adopted in forwarding the constitutional vote to the President. It was thought that one of the members of the Commission would be assigned the pleasure of taking the returns to Washington, but no action has yet been taken.
