WAITERS MAY ORDER STRIKE

Trouble is Growing Between Restaurant Men and Their Employes.

Instead of the restaurant proprietors and the cooks and waiters union reachnight, the breach between them seems to be wider than ever. Two union men employed at the Royal cafe were going to strike last night at the behest of the union, when the manager heard of the arrangement and dismissed the men. The strike was ordered because of the refusal of the proprietor of the union which required his as well as all other restaurant proprietors 'n the to grant their men a day's holiday svery week and to employ none but union men in their places. The lan-guage of the contract is as follows:

"We, the undersigned of the restaurant, do hereby agree to employ only union help in our business and every employe shall have the right to isy off from work one day out of every seven, provided such employe shall furnish a competent union man or woman to take his or her place. Provided, not more than two regular employes shall lay off on the same day."

was the refusal to sign this contract that precipitated the trouble at the Royal, but it seems there are only the Royal, but it seems their in the city a very few restaurant men in the city who are willing to sign the paper. The feelings of the restaurant men as expressed by one of the most prominent ones of the city is that they do not propose to be "bound to anything by a ion of hobo waiters who are today and away tomorrow, going at stirring up trouble." They say t are willing to give their men a reason able lay-off but they will not be will ing to subscribe to terms dictated by the waiters and cooks.

On the other hand the waiters say they have a sufficient following to paralyze the restaurants of the city should they order a strike, which they say they will do if their employers refuse to grant the concessions they demand. The union will meet in the Federation of Labor hall next Thursday evening, at which it will be decided what to do.

Elects a New Board of Directors-Secretary to be Chosen Later. Mills

Y. M. C. A. ANNUAL.

At last night's annual meeting of the V. M. C. A. the following directors were elected: Thomas Weir, C. S. Wilkes, James E. Paine, S. B. Tuttle and William H. Tibbals, for three years: T. B. Stephens, Dr. C. G. Plummer, Frank Pierce, Hudson Smith and L. C. Miller for two years, and W. C. Lyne, Dr. E. V. Silver, S. B. Wood and F. A. Timby for one year. The board will meet on the 7th of next month to it will be in order then to choose a new secretary, as Mr. Axton, the pres-ent efficient officer, expects to remote to Washington where he will enter the interior department. The new mem-hers elected to the board were William H. Tibbals, L. C. Miller and F. A. Tira

Secretary Axton gave an interesting eport in which he said:
"It might well be said that the Young Men's Christian association is of a church, though it saves souls; it not a college, though it educates; I s not a saultarium, though it pro motes health and cleanliness; it is not an inn or sulson, although it does fur-nish comfort and pleasure. It is a young man's home down town, where opportunity is afforded for recreation. education, physical training and reli-zious instruction. It is one of the great successful agencies in the solution of the problem in the life of city young Men's Christian association is minis-tering to the welfare of the young men, which it does through a variety of channels in a business-like way. Any man of good moral character is welcome to membership, but much of the work is outside of those who belong."
Considerable prominence was given to the night school feature of the association work, and the secretary said:

"To meet a practical need of em-ployed young nien and working boys' instruction in night classes has been provided at nominal cost in the following branches: Grammar, spelling, arithmetic, bookkeeping, shorthand and penmanship. During the spring and fall terms of 1991 eighty-nine different men and boys took advantage of this department. Poor facilities in the way of class rooms and furniture limit this work. With proper convenience it would be easy to interest several hundied who need such privileges but can-not afford the fee usually charged at a business college,"
Mr. Axton made extended reference

o the good work accomplished in the ceading room, gymnasium, in religious effort, in a financial way, the women's auxiliary, and in general effort. He said the receipts from all quarters were $5.027.70: expenses, $4.240: applied to old debt, $787.20. During the year 3,100 people attended Sunday afternoon meetings, and in the same time the association secured work for twentythree men and temporary work for sixty-one.

The officer corroborated the testimony of Torgersen as to the num-tion and was promptly excused. A rea messenger was dispatched for Manager Romney of the Pacific Lumber company.

MANAGER ROMNEY'S VERSION.

Mr. Rompey testified that he was acquainted with James R. Hay during the latter's life time and was al-so acquainted with the accused, Peter Mortensen. He had known the latter for about five years, and during that time he had been in the employe of the company about one year. Mortensen, he said, owed the company some money and they had asked him to make a settlement several times and efforts had been made by the company to collect it. Before going any further Mr. Romney described the interior of the company's office with reference to the location of his and Hay's desk. He said that on Saturday the 14th of December, Mortensen came to the office and said he was ready to make a settlement. "He came back again on Monday evening about 6 o'clock," continued Mr Romney, "and we went over the account to see just how much was com ing to the company from him. The amount he owed to the company was he (Hay) would make out a for the amount he would pay $3,800 he had on hand and give us a note on Mrs. Brixen for the balance. He asked Hay to make out the receipt and bring it up with him."

Mr. Romney said when they left the office that night he, Mortensen and Hay were together. Witness said Mortensen told him that he had been making some collections and cashing checks for $20 gold pieces and had $3,800 in gold at his place. I remonstrated with him on the folly of keeping such a large amount of money in his house," said the witness but he treated the matter lightly and said he had mething to fear as no one where it was."

Witness was shown the note held by the company against Mortensen and the receipt of which so much has been published, and he at once identified them. Counsel for defense objected to the note and receipt going in and asked what bearing they had on the case. Attorney Christensen replied "It is the very essence of the case." The announcement caused Mortensen to look up quickly and turn to his brother and explain the rule of the company with when they were paid. He said that the word "Paid" was always written across e face of them, and that in this ca Hay was instructed to write "paid ncross the face of the note as soon as he received the money from Mortenen. Mr. Romney said these instruc tions were given so that Mortenser would be secured if the company should fall to attend to the cancelling of the
