Dr. J. W. Blankinship of the Missouri botanical gardens at St. Louis, is the botanist who has been secured by the International Smelting & Refining company to make a study of the plant life in the vicinity of the new smelter plant in Pine canyon. Dr. Blankinship has already entered upon his duties, and is now watching vegetation thrive about the city of Toole. He will spend several months in the vicinity and pre-pare a complete report of what he finds. This will be followed by an investi-gation and report six months after the smelter has commenced operations. Dr. Blankinship has been engaged in the same class of botanical study in Montana, and his work has been found very valuable in determining the amount of damage done to plant life @ 31: Davis Daly, 5 @ 51-16; Ely
