

ing into their cases according to the laws of the church. The explosion of Bishop Dixie, leader of the nation in the mission at Philadelphia, was rather sad.

The laymen passed a resolution asking half representation on church boards; also representation in the general assembly.

In reply to a telegram from Philadelphia asking them to seek to have their church difficulty settled by arbitration, the laymen said they would not do so, but a reply was sent that they would give their influence to any measure to conciliate with the discipline of the church and the work of God.

Actions to Follow.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—The Methodist Church says the rough draft of its action on the proposed merger has been made, and it is expected will appear in full in the next issue of the Populist.

It advises the sale only of as much of the crop as is actually necessary for home consumption until the struggle over the plan is over, and that only so much is necessary to supply that demand, and again look up the price till they go up again.

What We Want.

HANFORD, Oct. 2.—It has been proposed before a meeting that was called to consider a resolution at Mt. Washington by Dr. Walter Walker, who is a member of the Board of Directors, that their crop for higher prices has been made, and it is expected will appear in full in the next issue of the Populist.

It advises the sale only of as much of the crop as is actually necessary for home consumption until the struggle over the plan is over, and that only so much is necessary to supply that demand, and again look up the price till they go up again.

News from Alaska.

HANFORD, Oct. 2.—The newspaper editor "Bush" arrived from Gold King today, bringing Special Agent Brown from the east seaboard. Dr. Jackson, a good friend of the miners, has joined the Methodist party, which has been two years in upper Alaska surveying the United States boundary line. Dr. Jackson rejoins the group now that he has his new post.

The introduction of the Siberian reindeer into Alaska promises to be successful. At the present time there are 150 reindeer in the United States—Alaska, "Mountain," and "Thetis" will leave in a short time. The "Thetis" will remain until December. A large number of sealing-seals were "warmed" during the season.

Mr. McGrath, of the telegraph company, reported all the stations that were established. The camp of the McGrath party, which was established August 16, 1885, was named Camp Davidson. It was on the Yukon river about 100 miles above the mouth of the river. The camp was established exactly on the Alaska boundary. There the exploring scientist made their headquarters until June 22 last. After the long winter months the camp is an almost entirely insatiable wilderness. During the winter of 1885 provisions ran very low at the camp, the supply stream having been broken.

McGrath pays a high tribute to McCarthy and French, two of his men who spent that winter over miles down the Yukon river. They had to travel 1,000 miles to get back to文明. The cold was intense. They lost their way along the ice, the journey taking several days. They had to live on camp with provisions. They had to eat off their boot legs to feed the dogs drawing the sledges and had suffered great privations.

Boats Will Not Be Seen.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Commissioner of Penitentiaries Baum arrived in the city late yesterday. In an interview with a reporter he said he did not know if he would be asked to resign, but if he did he would tender his resignation to the President at Wednesday's conference. He did, however, say he did not consider his resignation satisfactory, or if the President excused the vagueness of his statement he would do so. Mr. Haas was willing his recommendation should cease. The President seemed him certainly that the conduct of the office under his administration had been entirely satisfactory, and that the object of a change was not further insisted upon. Furthermore, Secretary Niblack has repeatedly assured the commissioners of his entire confidence.

Martin Gould of Lincoln, Neb., committed suicide under peculiar circumstances. He was a confidant for the notorious gangster Custer, Underwood, but only a month ago he was reported to be in the employ of the police. On the announcement of his death he was sent out and shot himself. He was in love with a Lincoln young lady who planned to marry him, but he was afraid of the public opinion, she could otherwise she would have nothing to do with him. He did not win, therefore he killed himself.

French Canadians who move over the border into New England usually do so to escape the high cost of living of a general or other. Duties against Wood, Des Biaveaux and Lariviere because Rivers, etc. Overtly or covertly they apply themselves to the practice. Some are a French Canadian named Noel Roquette took out his naturalization papers as Christian Knowles.
