

orchestra, under the direction of Prof. McClellan. They have been organized again since the summer vacation and are doing excellent work. They rendered Marz's Mass in G last Sabbath beautifully and to the perfect satisfaction of all present.

The two bright Utah girls who attend the high school are reaping merited success and are the favorites in their classes. Miss Effie Douglas, daughter of Joseph S. Douglass, Payson, and Miss Annie McClellan, daughter of John J. McClellan, of Payson, and a sister of the Utah musician who holds the professorship in the music school here, are the ladies. Especially in Latin recitations are they praised by their instructors. The past week they were each and separately held up before the class as students worthy of emulation, which greatly encouraged them. Although they were three weeks behind the rest of the pupils in the classes, they have long since caught up and are making recourses complimentary to Utah. They expect to teach in Utah in the future and will make teachers of great merit. We heartily wish them every success and would encourage them to continue in the work of education.

A series of concerts and recitals equal to any in the musical line for 1895-6, has been prepared by the Choral union. The famous Chicago orchestra, with Theodore Thomas as conductor, will be a big attraction. He is booked for November 19, 1895, also April 6, 1896. They are looked forward to with delight by the people who enjoy classical music.

December 12, a song recital by M. Clementine De Vere Sapio will be one of the musical events of the year. The opinion of the American musical public concerning her talent, and musical abilities, has been most emphatically endorsed by European critics, and her recent appearances abroad were genuine triumphs.

The noted violinist, M. Achille Rivarde, will fill an engagement here February 11, 1896. M. Rivarde made an overwhelming sensation at the Nickish concerts in London.

The series will be closed by an annual May festival, consisting of five recitals by the Choral Union.

October 25 Senator Hill gave a lecture to the University students. It was pronounced a masterpiece of logic by those who had the privilege of listening to him.

November 9 the University foot ball team play with the Harvard team at Boston. The contest will be a hot one, no doubt, but the general opinion is that the U. of M. team will win the laurels. They were escorted to the depot by two thousand U. students cheering for the U. of M. boys. It was a living mass of students in turn applauding and waving hats. The U. of M. ball team gained a victory over the Oberlin ball team and they feel confident they can over that of Harvard.

TERRITORIAL PARAGRAPHS.

Springville Independent: The cold snap has caught many farmers with their potatoes and beets still in the ground, and much fear is expressed that they will be destroyed. Quite a number of apple orchards are also nipped with the lucious winter fruit still gracing their branches..... There are some awful mudholes on Main street that should be filled..... Mrs. J. C. Van Leuven, of this city, has received a handkerchief from the "great healer" of Denver. It was sent her by a friend who interviewed the gentleman. It was sent as a curiosity and is highly prized by Mrs. Van Leuven. It will be exhibited in the fair.

Tooele Transcript: The Great Salt Lake is rising but little this fall. It is now only two feet one inch at Garfield Beach, and the temperature was 52 degrees early this week..... A roller mill, for which the people of Tooele and Rush Valley have long been asking and which has been badly needed ever since the old mill was burned down about two years ago, has at last materialized, and has for something over three weeks been running at its full capacity. Notwithstanding this, Mr. T. A. Boynton, the miller, is unable to turn the flour out rapidly enough, so great has been the demand.

Brigham Bugler: It looks as if stockmen would have to begin feeding before cold weather sets in and it is quite likely that there will be a pretty heavy demand for hay in the spring..... It is surprising to see how many little boys can be found on the streets even quite late at night. Usually town boys can learn enough evil during the day time, but some parents seem to think that their boys ought to put in part of each night in loafing on the streets.

Park City Record: While on his way to Heber, Tuesday of this week, Henry Backus was thrown from his conveyance and run over. He received some ugly bruises about the head and had one of his hips slightly injured..... W. A. Wilson and William McKay arrived in the Park Wednesday of this week to make a thorough examination of the lower levels of the Silver King mine without instruments. They are still at work and will make their report privately to Judge Merritt, of the Third district court. The result of the work will probably have much to do with the future course of Colonel Shaughnessy in the development of the Mayflower group..... The little son of J. M. Harris received an ugly wound on the head last week through a blow from an old boot in the hands of a playmate. A gash about an inch long was cut and the skull laid bare. He caught cold in the wound and it is giving him considerable trouble..... The journey of Thomas Dudge and family from Park City to England was a most eventful one. They left the Park in September and on arrival in New York Mrs. Dudge was confined, giving birth to a daughter. Mr. Dudge's health, for the benefit of which the return to the old country was being made, became very distressing, and it was decided that Mrs. Dudge and daughter, Miss Maude, should remain in New York until the former was able to travel, while Mr. Dudge and two sons, Oscar and Offie, would continue the journey in the hope that the sea voyage would give him relief. The family was divided and the trip across the water made, but it was all in vain. Mr. Dudge was suffering from consumption and continuued to grow steadily worse, and had hardly got settled in his old home when the end came. The sad news was received in the Park this week by W. H. Williams, who broke it as gently as possible to the son, William, who remained in this city in the employ of the M. S. Aschelin Mercantile company, and with whom the large circle of friends left in this country by the deceased deeply sympathize.

Ephraim Enterprise: There is a very large attendance at the Sanpete Stake academy this year. Our neighboring cities are beginning to appreciate its value as an educational institution.

Nephel Times: Mr. A. Grant, of Salt Lake, an acquaintance of Mr. L. A. Bailey, was in the city Tuesday on his way home from the San Juan and Henry mountain country where he has been for the past sixteen months. Mr. Grant was very successful in the business which carried him into that country, but met with a small loss and a dramatic adventure on his way home. On the 23rd proximo while jogging leisurely along the road from Walapi Wash to the ferry on the Colorado, three men suddenly rode out of the brush and leveling guns on him shouted the command "Throw up your hands." Mr. Grant was not slow to obey the command and the men then went through his pockets taking something over $20 in small change and silver dollars from him. They overlooked a $5 bill he had in his shoe and on his statement that he had far to go and no food with him they returned him $2.70 of the amount taken. They also took his blankets but probably afraid that they might be traced, owing to their peculiar pattern these were returned also. An attempt was finally made to take his horse but Mr. Grant's firm demeanor and evident intent to resist to the last this piece of robbery deterred the highwaymen, and they rode off $18 ahead by the operation. Mr. Grant who was in possession of several hundred dollars when he first started, supposes the men learned this and followed him with the intention of holding him up, but fortunately a few moments before leaving he had deposited all of his money but the small amount stated in the stage office for shipment to Salt Lake.

It is now rumored that a colony of Mormon settlers is soon to locate in Jackson's Hole and go to farming..... Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Blasing left last Saturday for Garden City, Utah, where they have bought them a nice little home, and where they expect to reside in the future..... John Casley, of Sage creek, Uinta county, recently killed a mountain lion, which measured nine feet from tip to tip. The animal recently killed a well grown colt..... Bishop James Brown left last evening for Coalville, Utah, to attend quarterly conference and a Relief society fair, to be held at that place today and tomorrow..... A marriage license was granted of Thursday last to Mr. George Kistingbury, of Denver, Colo., and Miss Lottie Coleman, of Tooele, Utah. The couple left for a wedding tour to San Francisco and other cities on the coast.

Edward J. Enstas, 28 years of age, died at Oakland, Cal., Friday night, from excessive cigarette smoking.
