MRS. BANIGAN'S DEATH.

Her Husband Was a Promoter of the Union Light and Power Company.

Providence, R. I., Jan. 18.—The death of Mrs. Maria T. Banigan, while on a visit to relatives in Chicago, will remove a familiar figure from this city. Since the death of Joseph Banigan, his wife has traveled extensively, the spending one winter in Europe and one in New York.

She was especially noted for her charitable work, and it was chiefly through her influence that Mr. Banigan bequeathed so much money to philanthropic institutions. She was a New York woman, and married Joseph Banigan 27 years ago. He died in 1888, leaving a fortune estimated at $100,000. To his widow he left the family mansion in this city and an income of $15,000 a year. The remainder of his wealth was left to his four children. Mrs. Banigan contested the will but the matter was settled out of court.

Mrs. Banigan was for years an attendant at St. Joseph's church, and she was the founder of the St. Maria home for working girls on Governor street. She left her home in this city about two months ago to visit a niece in Chicago, at whose home she died.

TO BALLOT FOR SENATOR TONIGHT

Republican Caucus is Determined Upon for This Evening.

RULES ADOPTED LAST NIGHT

Will Not be Binding Unless Thirty-two Members Agree—Report of the Business Transacted.

The first Republican caucus for the purpose of expediting the choice of a United States senator was held in Judge Hall's court room last night. The business of the caucus progressed as far as the adoption of a set of twelve rules, which were agreed to by every member present except Van Horne, who had to leave the caucus after the first rule had been adopted on account of illness. The adjournment was taken till 7:30 this evening, when it is proposed to commence balloting. There was a full representation of the Republican members of both Houses of the Legislature. Senator Hoy Sherman called the caucus to order which elected Barratt of Beaver, chairman and Axton of Salt Lake secretary.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

The first business was the choice of a committee to draft rules. Bench of Sanpete objected to the appointment of a committee, but the chair said it was the business of the caucus to elect a committee. Glasmann, Benner, K. Smith and others objected to the choice of the committee being left to the caucus for a serious reason. Glasmann reasoned that the chair being acquainted largely with the leanings of the various members would be able to appoint a committee which would give a fair representation to each of the senatorial candidates, and that much valuable time would be thereby saved. Smith expressed the belief that the chair would be fair and impartial but that the caucus should elect a committee to draft rules. Under this view of opposition Bench withdrew his opposition, and the chair appointed Senators Howell and Sherman and Representatives Smith, Glasmann and South to draw up the rules which will govern following Republican senatorial caucuses.

RULES ADOPTED.

The committee then retired to the rooms of the county commissioners where they remained for the best part of the night. At a half of 12 o'clock that time they re-entered the court room with a set of thirteen rules. After some slight amending and much discussion and the eliminating of rule 13, which related to the caucus, the following twelve rules were adopted:

First—These rules shall not be binding unless thirty-two members shall agree and subscribe in writing to the same.

Second—That nineteen members shall constitute a quorum to transact business.

Third—That on all ballots for United States senator, the roll shall be called and each member shall announce his choice.

Fourth—That whenever the result of any ballot shall be that any candidate for the United States senate shall have received nineteen or more votes for said office, he shall be declared the nominee of this caucus, and we and each of us hereby agree and pledge ourselves to vote for said nominee on each ballot.

Fifth—That this caucus adjourns, it shall meet at 7:30 p. m. of the succeeding day during the session of the Legislature, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays excepted, until this caucus nominates a United States senator.

Sixth—That the consideration of all other business except the election of United States senator, this caucus may be convened together upon the call of the president or secretary.

Seventh—That no amendment of these rules may be altered, amended or added to, or suspended by a vote of thirty-two members.

Eighth—Order of business: 1. Roll called; 2. Order by chairman.

3. Nominations for United States senator, nominating and seconding speeches shall not be to exceed ten minutes each.

4. Miscellaneous business.

Ninth—No votes shall be changed after the result has been announced.

Tenth—That the roll of the daily papers of this State shall be admitted except when this caucus goes into executive session, and no other person except members shall be admitted.

Eleventh—That the roll of order, when the same are not in conflict with these rules, shall govern.

Twelfth—That when we do proceed to ballot for United States senator, no less than ten ballots shall be taken at each session before adjournment, unless a nomination is sooner made.

VAN HORNE SUSPICIOUS.

Representative Van Horne, who was feeling indisposed, began his objection to the adoption of the rules immediately after the roll had been called. He had heard of them, he said, to make him suspicious as to their scope and suggested postponing their adoption to a future caucus in order to give the members time for consideration. He was absolutely unanimous among the Republican members.

RULES AMENDED.

Rule 5 was the first to be adopted, and after the ice had been broken the others were adopted in due course. Van Horne was adopted in a motion to adjourn, which was lost by a vote of 10 to 27.

In explanation of Rule 1 Mr. Smith pointed out that 23 votes were necessary in the joint session to elect a senator.

Mr. Glasmann moved an adjournment before Rule 4 came up for consideration in compliance with a promise he had made. Mr. Van Horne left the caucus. Out of courtesy to the sick member it was agreed that no ballot should be taken that night, and all present signed the agreement. All nominating and seconding speeches will be limited to ten minutes each as required by an amendment to the order of business.

MR. GLASMANN'S BIG BILL DAY.

House Speaker Introduces Eight Measures at One Time.

ALL GIVEN TWO READINGS.

Refer to Liquor Selling, Taxation, Registration, Elections, Sinking Funds and Other Matters.

Speaker Glasmann had a monopoly yesterday afternoon in introducing bills in the lower house. No less than eight bills, fathered by Glasmann, went through their first and second reading and were referred to appropriate committees.

SUNDAY LIQUOR BILL.

House bill No. 9, entitled an act to repeal section 1250, of the Revised Statutes, relating to the selling of intoxicating liquors on Sunday, will, if it becomes a law, throw the saloons wide open on the seventh day of the week. This bill, the speaker believes, will prove to be a blessing in the guise of an evil, and will lead to the proper observance of the Sunday closing law. The bill was referred to the committee on public health.

TAXATION OF PROPERTY.

House bill No. 10, an act to amend section 2506, Revised Statutes, relating to the valuation of property for assessment purposes, provides that all taxable property must be assessed, approximately, at the same proportional valuation as that placed on the property of various railroads, telephone companies, corporations and other wealthy property holders, namely, one per cent of the cash value, or if the property of such corporations be assessed at a higher rate than 20 per cent, then all other property shall be assessed at a like valuation. Every assessment for a higher valuation than that of the railroads, telephone companies and other corporations shall be referred to the State board of equalization on railroad and other corporation interests shall be illegal. The true valuation of any corporation property shall be the actual value of the property as assessed by the company. The bill was referred to the committee on revenue and appropriation.

ELIMINATES CITY ATTORNEYS.

House bill No. 11 is an act amending chapter 24 of the Session laws of 1899 and eliminates city attorneys from the list of elective offices in cities of the second class. The bill was referred to the committee on counties and municipal corporations.

House bill No. 12, an act to provide for the investment of sinking fund moneys, was referred to the committee on counties and municipal corporations. This act would give authority for such funds to be invested in any legal or lawful manner, or in any bond or interest issued by any city, county or school district.

ELECTION TRANSFER.

House bill No. 13, an act providing that any registered elector, moving from one district to another, or from one precinct to another, or from one county to another, may secure a transfer on any day before election day and vote, was referred to the committee on elections.

REGISTRATION.

House bill No. 14, an act to amend section 800 of the Revised Statutes of 1898, relating to the registration of voters for a house to house canvass, and that those overlooked may register on the last two Tuesdays before election day. It was also referred to the committee on elections.

NEW REGISTRATION.

House bill No. 15, an act providing for new registration in presidential election years, and that persons who cannot or do not register may be registered by making affidavit to that effect, ten days before election, was referred to the committee on elections.

FOR INTERMOUNTAIN FAIR.

House bill No. 16, an act to provide for the creation of an Intermountain State Exhibition society, and prescribing its manner of appointment, powers and duties, was referred to the Judiciary committee. The avowed object of the proposed society is to promote in the Intermountain States stock breeding, agriculture, horticulture, mining, manufacturing and domestic arts.

HOUSE RULES.

After the reading of the House rules by the chairman of the committee on rules, the rules were adopted as read.

RAILROAD BILL PASSED.

House bill No. 6, by Smith, empowering railroad corporations to acquire stock and interests in any line of property or business, had its third reading and passed by a unanimous vote of the House. The bill had been reported on favorably by the committee on railroads and canals, and was passed under a suspension of the rules.

THE SADDLE CONTEST.

Late Reinforcements are for "Jim Leary, the Hustler."

The votes in the saddle contest were counted last night, which showed that Jim Leary's friends are rallying to his standard with a seeming determination to have him win. The figures to the credit of the other candidates stood about the same, all the gains since the last count going to Mr. Leary, who appears to have sprung into popularity. Following are the votes as they stood last night:

George F. Beckstead	1,687
J. C. Leary	331
T. G. Wimmer	320
M. K. Parsons	184
J. E. Austin	120

The remainder of the candidates each have 100 votes.

Persons who suffer from indigestion can not expect to live long, because they cannot eat the food required to nourish the body and the products of the undigested foods they do eat poison the blood. It is important to cure indigestion as soon as possible, and the best method of doing this is to use the preparation known as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and restores all the digestive organs to perfect health. F. C. Schramm.

IS SALT LAKE LEFT OUT OF HIS?

It is Hardly Probable, though it is Not Named.

BIG SPECIAL COMING WEST.

Members of the Commercial Club of Chicago Will "Swing Around the Circle" En Route to Los Angeles.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—For the purpose of enabling the members of the commercial club of Chicago to investigate in person the commercial advantages of the cities of the Pacific coast and the Far West, the presidents of five of the great western railroads have invited them to become their guests on a magnificent special train composed of private cars belonging to the executives who have extended the invitation.

President Ripley, of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad took the initiative in the matter and invited the members of the commercial club to be his guests on a junket to Los Angeles. The presidents of the Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Denver and Rio Grande and the Chicago and Northwestern Railroads then joined in an invitation to the members of the club to "Swing around the circle" over their lines. They invited Mr. Ripley and D. B. Jones, secretary of the club, to be their hosts. The itinerary includes visits to San Francisco, Portland, Washington, Seattle, Tacoma, and Los Angeles. Where arrangements will be made by the local commercial organizations for fitting greeting to the Chicago men.

Secretary J. J. Jones, of the Commercial Club, said that the special train, which will be composed of private cars, will be made up into a solid train. The itinerary includes visits to San Francisco, Portland, Washington, Seattle, Tacoma, and Los Angeles. Where arrangements will be made by the local commercial organizations for fitting greeting to the Chicago men.

Apparently Salt Lake is left entirely out of this itinerary. Why it should be is not quite clear, as this city is on the up grade and decidedly conspicuous among the coming trade and supply centers of the west. The fact that the party will pass over the Denver and Rio Grande en route to Portland makes it absolutely certain that it will visit Salt Lake. In the meantime, Salt Lake railroad officials will make it their business to see to it that the distinguished junketers are made familiar with the principal resources and attractions of this city.

REPORTED PURCHASE.

Chicago and Cleveland Capitalists Said to Have Made a Big Buy.

New York, Jan. 18.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: The details of the purchase of the Baker Electric and Waterway railway by a syndicate of Chicago and Cleveland capitalists headed by ex-Congressman Johnson are drawn mainly from outsiders who have refused to buy the property, but the transactions are not closed. The passage of a second metropolitan transit scheme under the control of American capitalists is regarded with indifference by investors here. The transit problem is so complex and the cost of construction of the various deep level enterprises is so enormous that the assistance of American engineers and capitalists is welcomed. While the Metropolitan and district railways have been driven by competition to substitute electric traction for steam, the London and Liverpool and Manchester railways are not yet convinced that electric railways are good property and are willing to have American capitalists take as large a share of the risks as they like. Although English public opinion is steadily veering round toward the view taken in America on the Nicaragua canal question, there is no getting away from the fact that American proposals are not well received in this country. The Post admits the value of the inter-oceanic canal for the commerce of the United States and thinks that the matter might have been arranged long ago, as foreign countries would readily concede to America a predominant influence in the settlement of the question.

VACCINATION ORDERS.

Unfair and Unjust Discrimination Against School Children.

To the Editor:

In the district where I reside there are two children allowed to go to school that are not vaccinated. I have investigated the matter and found out that they are suffering from that disease called eczema, caused nine-tenths of the time by that modern cure vaccination. Inoculated into my systems by the learned doctor a few years ago, by their introduction of the humanized virus into the bodies of their fathers and forefathers, but now discarded by the medical fraternity of today as wrong and decidedly so, of course they are not erring today as every one of us are reputable physicians, and their predecessors only quacks.

Now sir, if children who admittedly are sick are allowed to go to school, I am like to know why mine cannot go that are not sick? I will not bow down, however, to their dictum in the matter of vaccination. Have they the right to discriminate against my children if they are healthy, and others who are not and are not suffering from that disease called eczema, are allowed to go to school, and the healthy to remain away. What I would like to know is are we living in Russia, the land of the despot, or are we living in the land of the free and the brave, the land of supposed equal rights and special privileges to none? What we need in the State of Utah is the curtailment of the powers of these would be autocrats and czars.

We need laws and that badly that will define and hold in check these arrogant individuals: the brains of this community are not centered in these officials, even if they think so. I believe Mr. Editor, that the doctors when they are surgeons are a blessing to the community, but as medical practitioners, I believe with Oliver Wendell Holmes the professor of anatomy, that if all the medicine were cast into the sea it would be a loss to the human race. The family and so much worse for the fishes. What we need also is the curtailment of their extortionate charges. They ask protection from the State that certain laws are made to a certain drugget, and we do not call in one of their number, we can be prosecuted. But what protection do the public get? If we call them in to come and look wise for a few moments, put their hand on the top of their head or behind their backs and assume a philosophical look and feel your pulse and look at your tongue, and prescribe, and—$2.00 please. Then take the prescription to a druggist and he fills it all the way from 50 cents to $2.00 and I suppose that the wise man gets another "bake off" for sending it to a certain druggist, and he is experimenting with you. Recapitulation.

The sick may not go to school unvaccinated. The well may not go to school unvaccinated. The healthy may not go to school unvaccinated. Let us have equal rights and special privileges to none.
