

RENCONTRE WITH A GRIZZLY.—Grizzly bears are not noted for their social or amiable tendencies, and the bravest and hardest mountaineers would a little rather not be compelled to meet with one when alone, and attack him single handed. "A. C.," our correspondent at Brigham City, sends us the particulars of an adventure or rather rencontre with a bear, by a settler of Cache Valley, in Wellsville canyon on the evening of the 17th inst., which, for amiability of character, and its harmless termination is probably unequalled. The following is the story, as told on the day following it, by the narrator and hero of the adventure:

"Last night as I was walking alongside of my team through the canyon, between here, (Brigham City,) and Cache Valley I was, for some time, under the impression that a man on horseback was riding ahead of my team, and so close, as to sometimes hinder my horses from traveling as fast as I wanted them to. At last it came to a sudden stop, the horses being unable to advance over the supposed horse and his rider. I advanced toward the front of the team and saw a grizzly bear close to my feet, taking a calm view of me and my horses. I was a little scared, for the first time in my life. I quickly cocked my revolver, which had six shots in it, went into the wagon and watched him closely, but it was very dark, and a good aim in any event was not possible. After I had driven ahead a little, in this attitude, brin walking slowly before the horses, I spoke to him in a resolute and commanding tone and a very loud voice, while my team stood still again, which made him walk about one and a half rods to one side of the road, where he seated himself, taking a good look at us, seeming to say, "you can't scare me." I drove on again, holding my pistol in one hand and the bridle in the other. The bear kept close by the side of the wagon, and after a little while was in the road again before the horses. I turned a little and drove past him, by letting the horses trot lively, and I saw no more of him till I had traveled a mile, and arrived at my old camping place, where I unhitched. I had begun to feed my animals, when lo, there was my companion right before me again. I hitched up my horses again and made for Copenhagen, where I arrived all safe."

Our correspondent says: "bears seem to be abundant this season, and men should be well armed, and not travel alone. We are realizing a good harvest of grain here, while our orchards and vegetable patches look desolate and naked, caused by the last swarms of locusts, whose eggs seem to cover all the ground around us."

Nothing so reasonable and cheap as good manners.

A new name for the Grecian bend is the "back stoop."

An exchange describing a funeral says: "The procession was very fine, and nearly two miles in length; as was also the prayer of Dr. Perry, the Chaplain."

A case is recently said to have occurred beyond the skill of ordinary oculists. It is that of a young lady who, instead of a pupil, has a college student in her eye.

A client remarked to his solicitor, "You are writing my bill on very rough paper, sir." Never mind," was the reply of the latter, "it has to be filed before it comes into court."

The collection of skulls from the battle-fields of the Franco-Prussian war is mentioned by a German writer as an opportune means of adding to our knowledge of ethnology. He urges particularly the importance of obtaining a good series of skulls of Turcos and other African tribes represented in the French army.

Sponge paper, a French novelty, is said to have all the peculiarities of sponge, absorbing water readily and remaining moist for a long time. It has been used as a dressing for wounds with considerable advantage. For its fabrication, evenly and finely divided sponge is added to ordinary paper pulp, and worked as in a common paper-making apparatus into sheets of different thicknesses.

The New York Mail says: "Another sign that the millennium is at hand—for here is something new under the sun at last. Our local Jehus last night held a meeting and formed a Low Fare Association, agreeing not to charge any more than fifty cents for a single passenger and trunk to any part of the city. We regard this as the most astounding event since the discovery of America."

A gentleman was one day composing the music of a rondeau for a lady to whom he paid his addresses. "Pray, Miss D.," said he, "what time do you prefer?" "Oh!" she replied, "any time will do, but the quicker the better." The company smiled at the rejoinder, and the gentleman, it was surely thought would take her at her word, but he didn't.

Because a man who attends a flock of sheep is a shepherd, makes it no reason that a man who keeps cows should be a cow-ard.

An exchange, wanting to compliment a "live stock journal," says it is edited by a man whose head is full of live stock.

Paper is manufactured from hop vines at Marseilles, France, and is said to be strong, flexible, white and soft, and much liked in that region.

It is said Rufus Choate was once applied to to defend a criminal, and declined flatly, exclaiming: "So steeped in blood and no money? He's a lost man?"

Said a pompous husband, whose wife had stolen up behind and given him a kiss, "Madam, I consider such an act indecorous." "Excuse me," said the wife, "I didn't know it was you."

A leading lecturer classifies his audience as follows: The "still attentives," the "quick responsive," the "hard to lift," the "won't applaud," and the "get up and go outs."

A quaint old gentleman, of an active stirring disposition, had a man at work in his garden who was quite the reverse. "Jones," said he, "did you ever see a snail?" "Certainly," said Jones. "Then," said the old boy, "you must have met him, for you never could overtake him."

The young Duke Alexis is said to bear a striking resemblance to his imperial father, whose favorite son he is. He speaks six languages fluently; smokes excessively; is a connoisseur of meerschaums and champagne; can swear in twelve tongues besides his native Russian, and play billiards like a professional.

The Boston Herald says that there is a man residing in that county whose parents died several years ago, and their bodies were placed in a tomb. Not long ago it was decided to have them buried, and consequently their bodies were placed in a box and laid away in the grave, and the son took the boards that composed the coffins home with him to be used in patching up his barn.

Mrs. Stanton holds that women have too many children; they should not become mothers oftener than once in five years. "Quality," she says, "rather than quantity is what should be sought in our offspring. One-third of all children born are complete failures, yet society does not comprehend where the evil lies. I do not approve of polygamy, but think it less censurable than the practice of keeping mistresses by married men."

7-30 GOLD LOAN

OF THE

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

The building of the Northern Pacific Railroad, (begun July last,) is being pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line. Several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific Coast. The grade is nearly completed 266 miles westward from Lake Superior; trains are running over 130 miles of finished road, and tracklaying is rapidly progressing toward the eastern border of Dakota. Including its purchase of the St. Paul and Pacific Road, the Northern Pacific Company now has 413 miles of completed road, and by September next this will be increased to at least 560.

A GOOD INVESTMENT. Jay Cooke & Co. are now selling, and unhesitatingly recommend, as a Profitable and perfectly Safe investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear Seven and Three-Tenths per cent. gold interest (more than 8 per cent. currency) and are secured by first and only mortgage on the ENTIRE ROAD AND ITS EQUIPMENTS, and also, as fast as the Road is completed, on 23,000 ACRES OF LAND to every mile of track, or 500 Acres for each $1,000 Bond. They are exempt from U. S. Tax; Principal and Interest are payable in Gold. Denominations: Coupons, $100 to $1,000; Registered, $100 to $10,000.

LANDS FOR BONDS. Northern Pacific 7-30's are at all times receivable at TEN PER CENT. ABOVE PAR, in exchange for the Company's Lands, at their lowest cash price. This renders them practically INTEREST BEARING LAND WARRANTS.

SINKING FUND. The proceeds of all sales of Lands are required to be devoted to the re-purchase and cancellation of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The Land Grant of the Road exceeds Fifty Million Acres. This immense Sinking Fund will undoubtedly cancel the principal of the Company's bonded debt before it falls due. With their ample security and high rate of interest, there is no investment, accessible to the people, which is more PROFITABLE OR SAFE.

EXCHANGING U. S. FIVE-TWENTIES. The success of the New Government 5 per cent. Loan will compel the early surrender of United States 6 per cents. Many holders of Five-Twenties are now exchanging them for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties, thus realizing a handsome profit and greatly increasing their yearly income.

OTHER SECURITIES. All marketable Stocks and Bonds will be received at their highest current price in exchange for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties. EXPRESS CHARGES on Money or Bonds received, and on Seven-Thirties sent in return, will be paid by the Financial Agents. Full information, maps, pamphlets, etc., can be obtained on application at any agency, or from the undersigned.
