SOCIAL CHAT

An event which in elaborateness of detail will take precedence of all others of the week was the dinner-dance given by Col. and Mrs. John W. Donnellan on Thursday night in honor of the engagement announcement of their daughter Miss Edna Donnellan, and Lieut. Falls of Fort Douglas. The dinner was given at the Commercial club, about 40 guests being present, including the intimate friends of the families. The center of the large table was a great bed of pink roses and smilax, and the chandeliers were clouded in ferns and tendrils of smilax. Twelve candelabra lighted the table shaded in pink and holding pink candles. Dainty place cards were at each place having cupids and picturesque figure designs. An orchestra stationed behind a bank of palms in a corner of the room rendered delightful selections during the dinner. Afterward the party repaired to Christensen's hall where they were joined by nearly 200 guests and a most delightful evening spent. Flagg, hunting and palms decorated the hall, and punch was served through the evening. Those present at the dinner were: Maj. and Mrs. Downey, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGugin, Mr. and Mrs. Russell L. Tracy, Mr. and Mrs. Dolly Col. Hubb, Capt. Creary, Capt. Harbeson, Capt. Winn, Lieut. The June wedding is here. It commenced with the first day of the week and has been busy ever since. Monday witnessed the nuptials of Miss May Kimball and Robert Forrester, the event taking place at St. Mark's church at 7:30 p. m., Dean Edlie officiating. The wedding was a quiet one, only the immediate relatives being present, and after the ceremony the bridal pair left for Denver for a visit, after which they will return to Salt Lake to reside.

A wedding announcement of the week which was of interest to their many friends was that of Miss Ida May Frye and William Egbert Jacobs, the event having taken place on June 1, in Idaho. Wednesday witnessed the wedding celebration of Miss Louise Madsen and Mr. S. H. Lund, the ceremony being performed at the Temple, and a large reception taking place in the evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Madsen.

The rooms were beautifully decorated. The parlor was done in pink, the bay window wreathed with vines and flowers, forming a bower surmounted by a bell of pink roses under which the bridal party stood. The rear parlor was in dark red roses and the library in roses and peonies while the hall was entirely in yellow. The dining room was most artistic in its decorations of pink and green-ribbon streamers being effectively used with vines and flowers. Across the rear lawn electric lights and lanterns were hung and a dancing floor afforded enjoyment to many. Christensen's orchestra furnished music. Punch was served in a summer house on the lawn.

The bride wore a handsome gown of white crepe de chine with trimmings of white silk applique, and the bridesmaid, Miss Florence Armstrong, was daintily gowned in pink. Mr. V. B. Madsen was best man. Many handsome presents were received by the young couple. Assisting the bridal party in receiving, were Mr. and Mrs. Madsen and Mr. and Mrs. Lund. In the dining room refreshments were served by Miss Dinah Iversen, Miss Violet Iversen, Miss Tillie Perkes, Miss Ida Sconberg, Miss Blanche Allen, Miss Herta Jensen, Miss Stella Hansen, Miss Estella Hardy, Miss
