

RICHES OF THE NEW GOLD FIELDS

Ben Caswell Exhibits Some Wonderful Specimens of Quicksilver and Copper in The Short Line Offices Today.

The private office of General Passenger Agent Burley of the Short Line was the scene this morning of an interesting and important display. The exhibitors were Ben Caswell and his brother Dan of the Thunder Mountain district, and the display was as fine an array of gold, quicksilver and copper specimens as ever seen in this city. The interested spectators were Messrs. Bancroft, Burley and Calvin, and to say their eyes were opened is using a tame expression. The Messrs. Caswell are the original discoverers of the riches of Thunder Mountain that have since the crest of the continent was raised above the waters of the ocean lain hidden from view. These parties are also the locators and original miners of the now famous mine which Col. Dewey recently bought for $100,000, and an interesting story is connected with their experiences in that country. The Messrs. Caswell accidentally discovered several years ago in a hunting and fishing excursion that the Thunder Mountain district was the repository of fabulous riches, and that it has also a placer proposition as well as deep mining. So they worked the placers, netting themselves "gold that glitters" at the rate of several thousand a year each on this day while they also explored the country. It was then a great wilderness, and when the Caswells visited the settlements for canned supplies, they were wont to say that they were out there for their health and that the fishing and hunting was so wonderfully good, you know, that they just could not tear themselves away. So it was never suspected ed that these men had stumbled into the riches of an Aladdin. No grave kept its secrets better than the Caswell brothers kept their's until they had made themselves solid, and were ready to "let the cat out of the bag." The time for the mine to jump has come, and not only the Caswells, but the chief officials of the Short Line are convinced that it is an exceedingly comely animal. In fact Mr. Burley has expressed a severe attack of mountain fever of the gold variety, and his associates fear that unless closely watched he will don a blue shirt, corduroy suit, miners' boots, and escape into the Thunder Mountain district.

The Caswells not only found the most valuable specimens of gold and copper, but large lodes of quicksilver were discovered, and when they opened their bags and valises in the Short Line offices, the officials thought of the Mas from the East with "gold that glitters" and "gold that glitters." The stories published about the gold running high into the thousands per ton are no exaggerations, according to the showing made by the Caswells. But the quicksilver proposition is a genuine surprise for it was not known that cinabar ore was to be found there.

Of course everybody will want to know just where all these riches are located. But this is what the Caswells won't give away—not at present, but saying that there are thirty-five miles of the gold vein in the Thunder Mountain, and further information will come along later. While the Short Line people are not making definite statements, it does not require any exercise of the optic nerves to see that an extension of the Salmon River line from Mackay to Challis and thence into Thunder Mountain district will now be an assured fact.

BUFFALO'S TREASURER SUSPENDED

Mayor Diehl Takes Summary Action—He is Charged With Misappropriation of Funds to the Extent of $40,000—Declares That Every Cent of City Money Will be Accounted For.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Mayor Diehl today suspended City Treasurer Philip Gerst from office.

In the notice of suspension the mayor charges Mr. Gerst with misconduct in office, and with having kept inaccurate and false accounts, and specifically charges that from the accounts of the city treasurer the amount of cash on hand to the credit of the city is $50,000 in excess of the actual amount.

The examination of the treasurer's accounts has been going on for several days will be continued.

Specifically the mayor charges that Treasurer Gerst borrowed from the city $40,000 with which to cover up the shortage in his accounts at a time when an examination was to be made; that in August last he loaned the bank $8,000 of the city's money and that at various times during the current year he appropriated to his own use moneys belonging to the city, the aggregate of such sums being $42,486.

After he had been served with notice of removal Mr. Gerst said:

"The books of my office are undergoing an examination by an expert accountant and the result will show that every cent of the city's money is in the bank or in the office of the mayor or the treasurer at this very moment. Notwithstanding the charges of the mayor, the city of Buffalo will not lose a single penny through my administration of the office of city treasurer."

Mayor Diehl declined to talk on the matter further than to say, in reply to a query as to whether Mr. Gerst had attempted to explain the shortage or offered to tell what use he had made of the money he is alleged to have appropriated:

"I believe he has accounted for the $50,000, but so far as I know has made no effort to explain his use of the small and the large sums. His bondsmen have arranged to make good any shortage there may be."

PREPARING TO RECEIVE QUEEN LIL

Committee Appointed for Her Reception, Headed by Hon. Abraham Fernandez, a Wealthy Resident of Honolulu, Who is in Salt Lake City at the Present Time.

The native Hawaiians of this city, together with the citizens who have lived in Hawaii, are on the eve of the coming of the former Queen Liliuokalani, who is now in San Francisco and is expected to arrive here the latter part of the week. Elaborate preparations are being made for her entertainment while here, and the very best in the way of comfort and enjoyment will be given her. A large number of her former subjects reside in Utah and she therefore takes a hearty interest in this state, and the citizens of the state have in turn always manifested towards her the profoundest respect and consideration.

At a meeting a general committee was appointed to prepare for the reception and entertainment of the ex-queen while in the city. The committee is headed by a native and wealthy Hawaiian, who is in the city temporarily. He is the Hon. Abraham Fernandez of Honolulu, who entertained President George C. Cannon during the latter's last visit to Hawaii. Mr. Fernandez was a member of the privy council of state throughout the brief reign of Queen Liliu. He is intimately acquainted with the queen, who holds him in the highest confidence and esteem. The other members of the committee are Mrs. Minerva Fernandez, wife of the chairman, John T. Caine, Matthew Noali, and a native, Peter Kaulakihoua. The committee will meet Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock to appoint a committee on program, one on entertainment and whatever other committees as may be deemed necessary.

Where the ex-queen will stay while here has not yet been decided, but nothing will be forgotten that will add to her comfort and pleasure while in Salt Lake. She has written her desire to attend the Tabernacle services, and it is not unlikely that a special concert will be given in her honor. Her friends here regret that she can stay but a few days. But she is desirous of hurrying on to the coast. She will visit Chicago, Philadelphia, New York and Boston, where she will be entertained by her late husband's people. She will also call on President Roosevelt at Washington. She is now in her 64th year, but her health is good. This former sovereign is in many respects a remarkable woman. She talks fluently in French, German, Portuguese and English, and is a composer of excellent music. There are few musical instruments that she has seen that she cannot play, but is especially proficient on the stringed instruments and the piano.

Board of Equalization Restrained.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Judge Grosscup of the United States district court issued an ex-parte injunction today restraining the state board of equalization from assessing the franchise of the Union Traction and Chicago Consolidated Traction company. ## LOLA IDA BONINE'S TRIAL.

Slayer of James Seymour Ayres, Jr., Arraigned And Pleads "Not Guilty."

Listened Calmly to Reading of the Indictment—Panel Soon Exhausted—Court Adjourns.

Washington, Nov. 19.—The trial of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine, on indictment for the murder of the young census clerk, James Seymour Ayres, Jr., in the latter's room at the Kenmore hotel in this city last May, began today before Justice Anderson in criminal court No. 1.

At 10.10 Mrs. Bonine appeared in the courtroom accompanied by the veteran guard, Maj. James W. Sprigman. She walked in so quietly that the entrance was scarcely noted and took a seat beside her husband, just back of her counsel and in front of her sister, Mrs. Wocham. She smiled as she greeted her sister and the latter put her arms gently about her as she sank into her seat.

Mrs. Bonine listened calmly to the reading of the indictment and pleaded "not guilty" in low but distinct tones.

After a brief statement of the case by Judge Anderson, the examination of Jurors was begun and when the court adjourned for the day the panel was exhausted. There were twenty-six members of the panel and of these fourteen were excused, three were relieved by the court on account of ill health, seven upon challenges by the defense and four upon the challenges by the district attorney. All of the government's challenges were made because of statements on part of the witnesses that they had conscientiously refused to answer questions relating to the case. The challenges on behalf of the prisoner were on account of statements made by the jurors that they had formed opinions in the case. In four or five instances they stated that their views could not be changed by testimony.

The first contention between opposing counsel arose in connection with the calling of a juror named Smith, a colored man and an undertaker. He stated that he had formed an opinion in the case before he was sworn, and that he could not be modified by new testimony. Mr. Douglas, of Mrs. Bonine's counsel, challenged "for cause." Dist. Atty. Gould antagonized the challenge and Mr. Douglas addressed the court upon the liberty of construction of the law because of the importance of the case. The challenge, however, was overruled. Mr. Douglas noted an exception, the first of the trial, and then peremptorily challenged the juror, who was excused. It is expected there will be other challenges when the court convenes tomorrow.

Mrs. Bonine was apparently as calm as any of the spectators during the proceedings. She spoke frequently with her husband and sister and only once or twice with her attorneys. During a part of the day her two boys, respectively 15 and 13 years of age, were in the courtroom. After adjournment she took dinner with her friends in the prison dining room, being closely attended all the time by her nurse. She was then returned to jail.

AFTERNOON MINING CALL.

Daily-West Holding Up in the Mad Down-Hill Plunge.

For prices running from 74½ cents to 87 cents, at which the sales opened, 15,700 shares of Carls went out from their owners, the stock closing at 78½ cents bid and 79 cents asked. Ajax started the trading ball rolling this afternoon by loosening up 5,000 shares, the highest figure paid being 80 cents a share and the lowest price 75 cents. Daily-West continued its upward tendency and was again, as in the morning, distinguished for its ability to withstand the downward rush of the remainder of the stocks on the board. The sales in this security were in this week: 300 at $23.40; 100 at 23.30; 100 at 23.40; 100 at 23.45; closing at 23.40 bid and 23.45 asked. Con Mercantile offered a week hundred at $15.25, and then May Day went into the eddy, selling 1,000 shares at 87½ cents to 91 cents apiece. The bears were contented with giving the stocks a mere "nose tap" in passing until the Petro station was reached, when everybody halted long enough to trade for 3,200 shares at 21 to 22 cents and the stock was left without a quotation on the board. Uncle Sam sold 2,100 shares at from 68½ to 70 cents, leaving the listed stocks. The unlisted securities were yet to be heard from when this report closed.

BOND APPROVED.

POLICE WORK ON A HORRIBLE CASE

Mrs. Artiburn Arrested for Gross Cruelty to a Dwarf.

BUT FORTY-TWO INCHES TALL

Doctors Have Been Called In and Have Practically Decided to Send the Midget to Hospital.

Probably never in the history of the police department of this city has it had jurisdiction over so shocking a case as that which has come under its notice.

It involves the downfall of a 17-year-old girl, a dwarf who is but 42 inches in height. To a casual observer she appears as a child of seven or eight years.

The facts in the case were made known by Chief Hilton two or three days ago, after he and his officers had worked up the details. This morning Officers C. A. Sperry and Andrew Smith, Jr., arrested a woman named Mrs. Artiburn on the charge of assaulting and beating the dwarf. Both were taken to the police station by the officers and are being detained in Chief Hilton's private office. Some time ago the police learned that a midget whose name is Bessie Riley, was staying with Mrs. Artiburn on Second South between Fourth and Fifth West, and that the girl was in a delicate condition. Later it was reported that Mrs. Artiburn was shamefully abusing her charge and neighbors feared it would result in her death. Chief Hilton investigated the matter and found the facts to be as reported.

She admitted, upon being questioned, that Mrs. Artiburn beat her on several occasions.

Last Saturday Officer Sperry was sent down to the woman's home with orders to bring the girl up to the police station. When he arrived at the place and stated his business, Mrs. Artiburn seized the girl and refused to allow the officer to take her. Threats were of no avail. The woman would not permit the girl to be taken to the police station, neither would she allow the girl to be taken to the police station. This morning the chief decided to arrest her. Accordingly a warrant was issued by Judge Diehl and the officers proceeded to make the arrest. At the station the woman demanded to know if she was permitted to speak. When informed that she was, the woman said:

"This child may say anything she wants to about me, but I want you to understand she shall not say one word relative to her condition." The girl clung to the woman sobbing and begged the officers not to lock Mrs. Artiburn in jail. They were taken into the chief's office, where they will be held pending further investigation. When the case first came to the notice of the authorities Mrs. King and Beatrice were consulted with reference to the girl's condition. According to the physicians it will be necessary to send the girl to the hospital.

BOND FIXED AT $250.

When the case was called before Judge Diehl this afternoon Mrs. Artiburn pretended to be unable to hear anything the court said—although she distinctly heard all that Chief Hilton said to her before court. Judge Diehl and Prosecutor Schuler tried vainly to make her hear, where they will be held pending further investigation. When the case first came to the notice of the authorities Mrs. King and Beatrice were consulted with reference to the girl's condition. According to the physicians it will be necessary to send the girl to the hospital.

The woman was unable to furnish the amount required and when she was taken down stairs the dwarf clung to her and begged the officers to lock her up too.

When this report closed they were both in Chief Hilton's office.

OGDEN BOY TELLS A STRANGE STORY

(Special to the "News.")

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Carroll Tyler, 11 years old, who claims to live with his parents at Ogden, Utah, wandered into the Desplantes Street police station last night and told a strange story. He said that a Chicago telegraph operator, whose name is Hurr, while working at Ogden, induced him, a boy of the name of Crosby, and a third boy whose name he does not know, to accompany him to Chicago. He promised to send them to school, support them and see that they were well taken care of. About a week ago, the three boys left Ogden with Hurr, bound for Chicago, according to young Tyler's story. At Cheyenne, Wyo., he claims the party left the train, and Tyler, who had expressed a desire to go back home, was given $1 and sent out for liquor. When he returned to meet his companions, all had disappeared and he was unable to find them. Then he says he decided to "beat" his way to Chicago.

Colon, Colombia, Nov. 19.—(Via Galveston).—Gen. Alban, with a force of 1,100 men, well armed and supplied with ammunition and having cannon and modern quick-firing guns, took the insurgent forces which are strongly entrenched at Chorrera. Half of Gen. Alban's force left Panama in large launches towed by the Colombian gunboat Boyaca. The remainder marched overland. These forces are to combine and make a front and rear attack on the insurgents. Chorrera is only one day's march from Panama. Gen. Castro accompanies Gen. Alban.

Gen. Lugo is in command of the insurgent forces, though Domingo Diaz is the nominal head. The liberals claim that they possess a stronger force than the government's but it is generally admitted that they are indifferently armed and poorly supplied with ammunition. News of a decisive government victory is confidently expected this week.

Gen. Alban's marching orders were kept secret until the moment the troops were ordered to move.

A majority of the troops which arrived here Sunday last on board the gunboat General Pinzon, will remain at Panama in order to garrison that city.

THICK FOG CAUSES
MANY COLLISIONS.

One Man Killed, Fifteen Seriously Injured, And Scores More or Less Hurt—Chicago Has New Experience.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—The thickest fog ever experienced in Chicago caused numerous collisions between trains early today, in which one man was killed, two were so badly injured that they will probably die, and fifteen others were seriously hurt. Scores of others, the police say, were injured in minor accidents due to the fog.

Every ambulance in the city was kept busy from 5:30 a. m. to 7:30 a. m. carrying the injured to their homes or to hospitals. The more serious accidents occurred on the Metropolitan and Lake street elevated roads. There were two collisions on the Lake street "L," two on the South Side "L," one on the Northwestern "L," and one between suburban trains of the Rock Island and the Lake Shore roads. Collisions between vehicles and surface cars were frequent, but while a great number of people were injured by them, none was fatally hurt, and the damage was chiefly to the colliding objects themselves. The record of deaths and injuries follows:

On Metropolitan Elevated:

THE DEAD.

Thomas Meaney, standing on rear platform; crushed to death.

THE INJURED.

Fred Jones, both legs severed; will die.

Wm. Upton, serious, internal injuries.

Harry Twohey, internal injuries.

Charles Gallagher, foot crushed, internal injuries.

Adolph Goldberger, toes crushed, knee fractured.

Fred S. Isip, left arm and leg broken.

A. E. Baumgart, badly cut and bruised.

Louis Davis, injured internally.

Fred Schwel, foot crushed.

Peter Anderson, cut and bruised about head and body.

Howard Gausling, toes crushed.

On Lake street elevated:

C. F. Ireland, both legs broken and injured internally, fatal.

Harold Soderburg, serious internal injuries.

Frank Munn, motorman, badly cut.

Anna Carr, hand crushed.

J. W. Cheney, hands and face lacerated.

The fog at an early hour was so thick that persons standing on the sidewalks could scarcely distinguish street cars passing within a few feet of them and motormen kept their goggles clanking a continuous warning.

The collision on the Metropolitan was between trains going the same way, as was the case in other accidents. Both trains were crowded, many passengers standing on the rear platforms. On the first train these were almost the only ones to suffer. The motorman slowed up going around a curve, and while waiting for a signal to increase speed the Humboldt Park express train crashed into the rear. That was almost the only warning the passengers on the rear platform had of the approaching express.

The accident on the Lake street elevated was almost exactly similar. The people injured were standing on the rear platform with the exception of Munn, the motorman on the rear train. He said he did not see the train ahead until it was too late.

The other accidents in their essential details were the same, but owing to the fact that orders had been sent out to run at reduced speed no one was seriously hurt.

Lake Shore and the Rock Island suburban trains occurred at Thirty-third street. The Rock Island engine's cow catcher and the rear platform of the last car were smashed, but both trains were able to proceed. Traffic all over the city was delayed.

Later in the day the news of another collision which had occurred on the Metropolitan road had reached the public. The train of which Otto Leinhardt was conductor was overtaken by another train, Leinhardt reportedly stayed on the rear platform, frantically waving a signal lantern, while the passengers, who had been with him before, fled inside. His efforts were in vain. He was crushed and died at the hospital several hours later. In all there were nine collisions on elevated structures.

THE RECIPROCITY CONVENTION.

Representatives of National Association of Manufacturers Meet In Washington—Chairman Search Declares "Our Aim Has Been to Forestall Tariff Agitation, Not to Encourage It."

Washington, Nov. 19.—Many of the manufacturing industries of the United States were represented at the National Reciprocity convention which began its sessions here today. There were 200 delegates present in response to a call issued by the National Association of Manufacturers at a meeting in Detroit last June. The convention is representative of all sections and its object is to give expression to the views of manufacturers generally on the subject of reciprocity. D. A. Tompkins, of Charlotte, N. C., was chosen temporary chairman, and Theodore C. Search, of Philadelphia, permanent chairman. The organization was completed by the election of the following:

Vice chairman, Gen. W. P. Draper, Mass.; T. L. Hickman, Ga.; Chas. C. Herring, Penn.; James Deering, Ill.; Tug S. Heard, New York city; and Robert J. Morgan, D. C., secretaries. Edward H. Sanborn, Penn., and E. P. Wilson, Cincinnati.

The convention adopted resolutions of greeting to President Roosevelt, pledging its support and expressing its confidence in his administration. Mr. Search, in taking the chair, outlined the work before the convention. He said in part:

"Our aim has been to forestall tariff agitation, not to encourage it. It is the duty of this convention to harmonize as far as possible the widely different opinions represented in this body and to reduce to clear and forcible expression such principles as we hold in common. We are here to harmonize our views, not to emphasize our differences."

"This is no time or place for sentiment, for theories, or for statements that cannot be fully substantiated by facts. I take it we are all agreed as to certain general propositions such as these: "That some of the duties embraced in our present tariff are no longer needed."

FILIPINO PEACE PARTY.

Paterno, Former Chief of Filipino Cabinet, Elected President.

Manila, Nov. 19.—Paterno, the former chief of the so-called former Filipino cabinet, has been elected president of the new peace party. Isabela Reyes was elected vice president.

In thanking the large meeting for his election, Paterno said the war had lasted four years and blood was still flowing fast, saturating camps and making orphans. Fields which were formerly covered with flowers were now deserts. The time had come to drop petty party politics and the hankering after offices.

The Philippines must work in the interest of peace, and they would then receive the blessings of the rising and future generations.

The delegates, representing various industries, are here to discuss the question of reciprocity with various countries. The American Protective Tariff league decided to decline the invitation of the National Association of Manufacturers to be represented as a body on the floor of the convention. Fully 100 delegates, representing various associations of manufacturers are members of the American Protective Tariff league, so that the organization is well represented.

The judge advocate was Lieut. A. P. Nihil, U. S. N., assisted by Capt. R. H. Fuller, U. S. M. C., Col. Meade was represented by Lorenzo Semple, T. D. Temple and Paul Fuller
