democrats at the next election (1008) would outnumber them about 500 votes and how to overcome this ma-jolity was next to be considered. The employes and section hands of the Utah & Northern and Oregon Short. John Bright has written for public nse a letter to Peter Rylands, Liberal Unionist, to aid him in securing re-election. In this letter Bright says he hopes Rylands will be successful in Lines were then to be induced to vote hopes Rylands will be successful in carrying Burnsby district and adds: "WBat your opponents think an error may prove patribtism and wisdom. It is grievous to see how Liberais treat Liberais whose only fault lies in their support of principles the Liberais ac-cepted a year ago. Honesty and cap-acity seem of small value compared to suppleness which permits and enables members to turn their backs upon themselves whenever a great leader the ticket; these having little or no inthe ticket; these naving little or no in-terest in the Territory, and being spurred up with anti-"Mormonism," and plenty of whisky, a holiday and a free ride (the two former furnished by Dubois and the "Hash" party, and the two latter by the U. P. R. Co.). a motley throng met at the polls and voted for the men whom Dubois had members to tarn their backs upon themselves whenever a great leader changes his mind on any course." Gladstone in a letter regretting his inability to address the electors of Chester says: "The Tory policy of twenty years of coercion for Ireland is more rational and contains more promise of being effectival than any one of the intermediate and fantastic schemes which have come to birth un-der the exigencies of the election. The Duke of Westminister recent-ly said it was time for the Liberals, to put their country before their party. That is first what I tried to do when I made known to the Marquis of Salisbury my desire to support him when he was Prime Minister if he should intro-duce a comprehensive measure of re-form for the government and peace of ireland, in conformity with, as we now know them, the views then enter-tained by his own Lord Lieutenant." elected, and whom he knew he could handle in the Legislature in passing laws inimical to the Democrats, and 'Mormons." But these were found insufficient to overcome the five hundred majority and it was agreed behind the scenes to run special trains on the rail-roads and bring men from other counties, but even then they could not get sufficient votes, and it was found necessary to take possession of three of the outside polling places, and some of the most unscruppious of the gang were sent, who with well stuffed bal-lot boyes and instructions to read lot boxes and instructions to pay no heed to the "registry law" and REGARDLESS OF ALL CONCEQUENCES to obtain a sufficient number of votes to gain the election for the con-spirators. The result of that election is too well known to admit of comnent.
