Ivan S. Jones Asks for $20,000 Damages for Injuries Sustained.

Alleges that the Air Brakes Were Defective on the Cars of Train.

—Court News.

Trial of the case of Ivan S. Jones against the Oregon Short Line Railroad company was commenced before Judge Moore and a jury this afternoon.

The plaintiff was a fireman in the employ of the company and on June 26, 1900, he was injured by the cars of a train on which he was riding coming violently in collision with the engine on account of alleged ineffective action of air brakes, by reason of which he was thrown violently to the ground. He was badly injured and had to have his right leg amputated. For those injuries he is suing for $20,000 damages. He is represented by Judge Powers and the company's interests are being defended by Attorney George H. Smith, with J. W. N. Whitehead associated.

SUES COAL COMPANY.

Daughters of a Dead Miner Ask for $20,000 Damages.

The Pleasant Valley Coal company and Mrs. Rosa White have been made defendants in a $20,000 damage suit filed at Price by Mary and Annie White of Lake Point, Tootle county, owing to the death of their father, Richard White, in one of the company's mines for which the plaintiff holds the company responsible. E. L. Carpenter, an officer of the coal company, made a settlement with the widow for $2,000 and Mrs. White and her stepdaughter, the plaintiffs in this case, absolved the company from further indemnity. The daughters now allege misrepresentation on the part of their stepmother and that they received no compensation. Another daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Girard, of Anandria, signed a similar release for $10,000, but the understanding that her younger sisters had been indemnified. The suit is brought for the purpose of settling the release.

JUDGE DIEHL'S COURT.

John Read, alias Indian Lo, said he was guilty of being drunk, but would never do it again. Lo was discharged.

William Kemp will be five days' work for the city for violating the drunk ordinance.

Jas. McGulhane and Paddy Layne both pleaded guilty to being drunk, but proved it was their first offense and they were discharged.

Isaac Taylor and Chas. White, the two hole-in-the-ground boys arrested last night for drunkenness, were before the court this afternoon and pleaded guilty to the charge against them. They were remanded pending an investigation.

H. R. Sutherland explained he just came in for a general good time and admitted that he devoured 75 cents worth of tomatoes belonging to H. E. Woodard, a negro, but he was willing and anxious to come forward with the money. He was discharged.

Woodard pleaded guilty to being drunk but as it was his first appearance he too was discharged.

PEOPLE WHO ARE PASSING

C. S. Carter of Vernal is at the Cullen. Mr. Carter is the owner of eight large bands of sheep which he is wintering on the Uintah reservation where he finds the range in good condition. The result will be sheep in good condition when spring comes and plenty of wool. Mr. Carter is a large lessee of reservation land.

Judge G. F. Talbot of Nevada came up this morning from Pioche and registered at the Cullen on route west to Carson City. The judge has been holding court at Pioche where there was a fair sized docket. The railway cases do not come up before him until next month.

Judge Botkin returned yesterday from a Kansas trip and is at the Cullen. He says the Kansas granger is a very temperate person, notwithstanding the loss of his corn crop last summer. Corn is bringing 50 and 65 cents, wheat is bringing him 65 to 70 cents and corn and hogs 6 and 6 1/2 cents. So the Kansas farmer has no particular kick coming. He can drive about in his new carriage, laugh at the money lenders, in fact become one himself, and there is no longer a mighty army of mortgage holders ready to grab their interest on the first of the month or threaten the Kansas mortgagee with foreclosure and the loss of his home. It is no longer a case of bleeding Kansas, but money loaded Kansas.

Ex-Congressman Charles D. Palmer, of Troy, N. Y., and Mrs. Haines are guests at the Knottford. They are on a transcontinental trip, en route to the Pacific coast, and this is their first visit to Salt Lake with which they are much pleased. Col. Haines was a member of the forty-seventh congress, and has since become prominently identified with many active business enterprises. He is the owner of the Columbia company, N. Y. Times and is the president of fourteen different industrial and commercial corporations, so that he is a very busy man. Mr. and Mrs. Haines spent the morning driving about the city, and this afternoon were intending to go out to the lake.

ERNEST CRONK APPEARS IN COURT

Promptly at 2:30 this afternoon the trial of Ernest Cronk on the charge of attempted extortion began in Judge Diehl's court. The defendant is represented by Judge James D. Pardee and Assistant County Attorney Looftbourrow prosecuted.

During the examination of the jurors by Mr. Looftbourrow, one of them, H. L. Stein, said he had no taxable property at present. No household goods nor any personal property.

"Have you a watch?" he was asked.

"No, it was stolen from me," he was excused.

The defendant appeared in court and was accompanied by his ex-wife and his brother.

Judge Pardee challenged Juror William Naylor on the ground that he was an uncle of Sheriff Naylor. The motion was resisted by Mr. Looftbourrow, but Judge Pardee excused him peremptorily.

The jury finally closed to try the case consists of S. M. Barlow, Leo H. Mangum, Samuel Benjamin and G. B. Blakely.

CAUSE OF STORM.

Observer Jas. T. Widmeyer, temporarily in charge of the local weather bureau, stated today that a very high wind occurred last night about 11:25, reaching in intensity a rate of 42 miles an hour from the north. This is particularly responsible for the fact that a heavy rain storm did not occur, however there was some precipitation between the hours of 12 and 3 o'clock a. m. There has been considerable precipitation and some snow in Helen and Lander during the past twelve hours.

SNOW FELL TODAY.

The weather clerk who for the past few weeks has seemed intent on giving this intermountain country weather suggestive more of "I'm sweet little Buttercup," June daisies, humming birds, tree toads, lightning bugs and "Tid-willows," concluded this morning to change his program, and sent Salt Lake City a heavy rain storm, as a hint that he would reform and hereafter favor it with weather more in accordance with the time of year. The atmosphere in consequence is more invigorating, and if the cold continues there ought to be a decrease in sickness from fever and other troubles which thrive on a "green Christmas."

LATE LOCALS.

Chaplain Marvin of Port Douglas was given a cordial reception at last night's meeting, in the post chapel, of the Christian Endeavor society of the garden. Quite a number of school teachers were present with the boys to shake hands with him, and an enjoyable meeting was held.

The delayed trains of yesterday arrived after last midnight from the east. He reported trouble with the falling of a large boulder on the track from a cliff east of Grand Junction, which broke the rail and No. 5 ran off into the tank. Had the engine turned the other way it would have gone into the river.

Contrary to the general impression the schools will not close at noon Monday to enable the pupils to attend the Italian band concert. The schools will not close till 2 o'clock, which will give the pupils ample time to reach the Tabernacle by 2:30 when the concert commences.

PERSONALS.

Mr. Jos. J. Daynes Jr., who has been in England engaged in missionary work for the past two years, returned this morning with his wife and child.

J. C. Oxnard of New York, one of the Oxnards of the best sugar interest, arrived last night and registered at the Knottford. He went to Lehi on the early morning train.

County Clerk C. T. Wordlaw of Dawes county, Neb., is the guest in this city of W. H. Korns a former Nebraska acquaintance. Mr. Wordlaw proposes to make Salt Lake his home.

State Superintendent Nelson of Kansas is visiting the schools at Nephi today and on Sunday will lecture at Draper in the interest of the proposed high school to be built the coming year in the southern part of this county.

IMPROVEMENTS IN IDAHO.

Salt Lake Brewing Company to Spend $5,000 At Once.

Will Erect Big Storage and Ice Houses in Pocatello at a Cost of $5,000 to $10,000.

The Salt Lake Brewing company has completed the plans for an extensive storage and ice plant to be built at once in Pocatello. The new plant will consist of storage and ice houses of big capacity and other improvements, which will cost upwards of $5,000. Jacob Moritz, vice president and general manager of the Salt Lake Brewing company, stated today that the Idaho business of his company had increased so greatly during the past few months that large storage and other facilities are absolutely necessary and must be had as soon as possible. The new buildings will be commenced within the next few weeks, and an amount between $5,000 and $10,000 will be expended in improvements in Pocatello.
