

WESTERN NOTES.

There are nearly two hundred cases on the Circuit Court calendar for Nov. in Portland, besides twenty-four divorce suits.

The Pantagraph says: "Emigrants are daily passing through Roseburg, bound for the Coquille country. This portion of the country now offers better inducements for settlers than any other part of Oregon."

The orthography in the last number of the Liberal Republican gives unmistakable signs that "the schoolmaster is abroad" in that region. Ben Simpson's name is spelt "Simpson," and an island in the West Indies "Haiti." The editor speaks of the iron "heal" and "gauling" chains.

The Lewiston Signal has discovered a good place to make a new Territory. It proposes to let Washington Territory keep all her country lying west of the Columbia river. All that portion lying east of the Columbia, embracing Walla Walla, Whitman, and a good portion of Idaho lying north of Salmon river, to be made into a new Territory called Columbia.

Three men at Dallas became badly frightened last week because they heard a burglar, as they thought, drilling a hole through the roof of the building in which they were sleeping. So they got up, and hastily arming themselves with bowie knives, shot-guns and pistols, sallied forth to slay the thief, when they found it was the gentle rain pattering on the tin roof. No one was hurt.

An Alaska Indian lately presented an officer of the government with some home distilled spirits as a matter of friendship and hospitality. After the officer and his friends had exhausted the gift and pronounced it excellent, the former, in accordance with his duty, as he viewed it, hunted up the still and destroyed the "poor Indian's" source of supply.

FOREIGN NOTES.

Prince Arthur contradicts the rumor of his engagement to write a series of magazine articles on army affairs.

The Prince de Joinville suggests to crown the new Vendome column with the simple statue of a French soldier. There would then be no need of toppling it over every few years.

Miss Kate Field writes to the American Register that rather than accept a "home on the rolling deep," she would go out as governess in an English family, which is the worst fate she can imagine falling to the lot of woman.

A French musical journal announces a series of articles which are to take the form of a book, which will describe the adventures, while in America, of M. Paulus, leader of the French band.

"Photoglyptic" is the name of a discovery by a Mr. Woodbury, a chemist of London, which it is supposed will take the place of photography. The process is the same, except that gelatine is used upon the plate that takes the picture.

A special correspondent of the World writes that he has been in Paris a week keeping his eyes wide open three-quarters of the time, patiently waiting to be overwhelmed by something or somebody. He finds nothing astonishing and very little to go into raptures about.

Rome has increased greatly in population since it became the capital of Italy, and the demand for houses is so great that improvements are being made in every direction. Not a sewer is dug or a foundation laid without the discovery of many rare objects of art—the debris of the ancient city.

The London correspondent of the New York World says:

A very serious manifestation of the smouldering discontent which pervades so many classes of English society, and which needs only a little more fuel to cause it to break out into flame, was furnished the other day at a great meeting of the police of the metropolitan district. There was no concealment about the meeting; the men all came in plain clothes, but they met in a public place—the large hall of the Cannon street hotel, and they came in such numbers that they filled the hall. The object of the meeting was to express indignation at the refusal of the chief of the department, Col. Henderson, to listen to their demand for an increase of pay, and for a proper system of retiring pensions. The cries most in favor with the meeting were "Down with Henderson!" "Down with the superintendents!" "Away with military rule!" and all this was accompanied by the very plainest of talk to the effect that the position of the men had become perfectly intolerable, and that unless relief was afforded they would "strike." The complaints of the police seem to be perfectly well founded. They say they can no longer live on their wages, and it is clear enough that they cannot. More than 2,000 of the best men of the force have resigned, and their places have been filled with difficulty by inferior importations from the country.

THE CELEBRATED

HOME STOMACH BITTERS.

Are endorsed and prescribed by more leading Physicians than any other tonic or stimulant now in use. They are a SURE PREVENTIVE for Fever and Ague, Intermittents, Biliousness, and all disorders arising from miasmatic causes. They are highly recommended as an anti-dyspeptic, and in cases of indigestion are invaluable as an Appetizer and Recuprator, and in cases of General Debility they have never in a single instance failed in producing the most happy results. They are particularly BENEFICIAL TO FEMALES, strengthening the body, invigorating the mind and giving tone and elasticity to the whole system. The HOME BITTERS are compounded with the greatest care, and no Tonic Stimulant has ever been offered to the public SO PLEASANT TO THE TASTE, and at the same time combining so many remedial agents, endorsed by the medical fraternity as the best known to the Pharmacopoeia. It costs little to give them a fair trial, and

Every Family should have a Bottle.

We ask every one to read the following Certificates from many of the most eminent physicians in the country: St. Louis, July, 1870.—JAMES A. JACKSON & CO.: Gentlemen—As you have communicated to the medical profession the recipe of the "Home Bitters," it can not therefore be considered as a secret or patent medicine, no patent having been taken for it. We have examined the formula for making the "Home Bitters," and unhesitatingly say the combination is one of rare excellence, all the articles used in its composition are the best of the class to which they belong, being highly Tonic, Stimulant, Stomachic, Carminative and slightly Laxative. The mode of preparing them is strictly in accordance with the rules of pharmacy. Having used them, seen its effect in our private practice, we take pleasure in recommending them to all persons desirous of taking Bitters, as being the best Tonic and Stimulant now offered to the public.

U. S. MARINE HOSPITAL, St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 8, 1870.—JAS. A. JACKSON & Co.: I have examined the formula for making the "Home Stomach Bitters," and used them in the Hospital for the last four months. I consider them the most valuable tonic and stimulant now in use. L. MELCHER, St. Louis, July 6, 1870.—JAS. A. JACKSON & Co.: Having examined the formula from which your celebrated "Stomach Bitters" are prepared, and having witnessed the method of combining the different ingredients, we can safely recommend them as the best tonic with which we are acquainted, from the great care with which they are compounded, and from the choice materials which enter into them. We have no doubt that they will prove, as they deserve to be, the most popular tonic and stimulant in use. Respectfully yours, T. J. YASTINE, M. D. T. G. COMSTOCK, M. D.

We cheerfully concur with every word contained in the above testimonial.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 19th, 1870.—Messrs. W. B. KENNEDY & Co., Agents "Home Bitters": Gentlemen—Agreeable to your request, I have examined the formula of the "Home Stomach Bitters," and find the remedies it contains such as are in general use by the Medical profession. They are very scientifically and pleasantly combined, and as stimulating tonics will be found especially adapted as corroborants to the treatment of low or debilitated stages of the system, whether arising from impaired digestion, or from malarious diseases.
