Remarks, Rev. M. J. Murphy, S. M. The exercises of the evening closed with an eloquent address from Father Murphy, who said in part: "I am very sorry that this entertainment, beautiful as it has been, lacks the fin-ish that would have made it one of the most interesting and auroassful yet most interesting and successful yet given in All Hallows; and this lack of finish arises from the unavoidable ab-sence of our beloved President, Father Larkin. I will try to say what he would have said so well and effectively. In the name of the faculty, then, I thank the fadles and gentlemen, who have spent the evening with us, contributing by their presence and sympathy, en-couragement to our youthful artists. We have reason to feel proud of the disinguished and representative audi-ence which fill our hall. We have here with his noble lady, the first citizen in the sovereign State or Utah, his excellency, Governor He-ber M. Wells. The Governor of Utah is loyed by the many and respected by all within the state. His amiable qualities endear him to all those with whom he comes in contact, while his broad and liberal principles make him re-spected as a true and enlightened Amarican.

Whenever possible, he is present to give encouragement to those who are endeavoring to make upright men and patriotic citizens. He believes, as we all believe, that the public school system should be maintained at the high-est possible standard; because all irus knowledge is power, because all true knowledge contributes to the progress and glory of our country. He belleves, likewise, as every intelligent American London, Dec. 19 .- Sir Thomas Lipton, in a long interview, which he had with King Edward yesterday, during which Alog Edward yesterday, during which the America's cup races were minutely discussed, unfolded his plans for the future. His majesty exhibited the keenest interest, and at times offered suggestions. He expressed the opin-ion that it would be hard to get a boat to beat the Americans, to which Sir Themas resulted that he way at Sir Thomas replied that he was at least confident he could secure a yacht a good deal better than the Shamrock 11. When Sir Thomas had finished ex-plaining his reasons for this belief, the king appeared to be satisfied and heart-ily wished him success.

Sir Thomas Lipton also conveyed to King Edward a recapitulation of Presi-dent Roosevelt's friendly comments on the king and on England, which formed the gist of a conversation between Sir Thomas and Mr. Roosevelt while the former was in the United States. The king was evidently much pleased. In turn he told Sir Thomas how greatly he admired President Roosevelt's person-ality, which, unfortunately, he knew only by heresay. The king-takes great interest in the preparations for building another chal-lenger, which are believed to be already

WAS SURPRISED

"I have called a convention of the bishops and laity of the diacese to con-vene in January," said Bishop Spald-ing. It will choose a co-adjutor to as-sist me in my work. I know of no reason why Bishop Leonard should be chosen and think it incoming that he reason why Bishop Leonard should be chosen and think it improbable that he will be selected. He is doing a good work in an important diocese and I see no reason why he should change. The story that I will be replaced by Bishop Leonard has no foundation and I cannot imagine how it started."

When Bishop Leonard was shown the above dispatch this morning, he was much amused, laughed heartily, and declared that was about as good a means of settling his breakfast as could be offered. He remarked, further, that the report about himself referred to by Bishop Spalding, was unques-tionably the flowery product of some fertile imagination in one of the Den-ver newspaper offices. He had never heard of any such thing before, and the likelthood of his being transferred to heard of any such thing before, and the likelthood of his being transferred to the diocese of Colorado was so very re-mote that it did not warrant being given a second's thought. As to who would be likely to be appointed bishop co-adjutor, Bishop Leonard had not the faintest idea; he was not worrying over the affairs of the Colorado dio-cese, and had not be n laying awake nights thinking of what they might, and what they might not do over there. He had enough problems of his own to keep track of. keep track of.

Last night at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Edward Jennings, Miss Nancy Solomon and Mr. Frank G. Lin-Nancy Solomon and Mr. Frank G. Lin-coin were united in marriage the cere-mony being performed by Bishop M. M. Atwood, of Sugar ward. The bride was attired in a pretty costume of gray cloth with trimmings of applique lace and cream silk, and her bridesmaid, Miss Mattie Batley, was gowned in lavender silk. Buring the evening a sumptuous wedding repast was served. The rooms were prettily decorated and about thirty-five guests were present about thirty-five guests were present to enjoy the evening.

Miss Leonard and Miss Sallie Leonand were hostesses at an informal so-clai function at their home last night. Portrait Frames This Week.

If you want a portrait en-larged, remember is pays to deal direct with the artist. If portrait don't suit pay nothing. Bring your order in today. We make cabinet photos from any old ple-believes, that according to the Constitution of the United States, private schools have as much right of existence as any other, and that every parent has the inborn, inalienable right to send his child to whatever school he may deem proper. All Hallows was not always at the same high tide of success and prosper-ity. Not many years ago, we had a few dozen boarders, and a few dozen from the city used to patronize our en-teriainments. We were then poor and struggling, and as you are wall aware, popular favor is not lavish on those who are fighting for an existence, but popular we were not, however, discouraged. We aim in All Hallows at an education "Totus, teres, atque rotundus." An education which will develop in strength and harmony the physical, in tellectual and spiritual elements which constitute a human being. You have seen just a little of the able work which Professor Gallagher is doing in our gymnasium. We have teams in the college ranging from 150 lbs. to 60. We have a team which for three years has never known defeat, and has carried the blue to victory in many has carried the blue contest and against a hard fought contest and against heavy odds, and that is the famous team, known as the West Wind Buck-crs, so ably captained by John Rossi Flynn. Our second team suffered only Flynn. Our second team subered only one defeat during the season, and our first was second in the race for the In-tercollegiate championship. Father Guerymard, the indefatigable manager of the college team, declares that next year All Hallows will not be second in the second but first the race, but first. The music you have heard this even-ing is sufficient evidence of the care we take in developing the asthetic faculty. We do not pretend that our band is in the same class as Sousa's or the Royal Italian; but we do pretend, and com-petent judges have declared, that it is the best college band in the United States. We pretend, likewise, that our orchestra, if not already the 'est, will be before the end of the year the best orchestra in the State of Utah. The success of our musical organizations, we owe to Professor Pedersen, an art-ist of rare merit known to you all.

Our intellectual training is that fol-lowed by the best modern colleges, viz., The Ancient Classics, Modern Lan-guages, the English Language and Literature, Science and Mathematics. Our graduates are able to enter any of the great Eastern universities and are re ceived without examination in the Catholic University at Washington. The spiritual training of our students is not neglected. We believe that religious training should go hand in hand with physical and intellectual; and we do so, because man has spiritual fac-ulties which need development, because a truly religious man, all other things being equal, is a much better citizen than a man without religion; and because believe with the certainty of faith that this life is a preparation for a higher and nobler life beyond the grave. Although this college is distinctively

Catholic, although on the staft there are nine priests of the Hory Roman Catholic and Apostolic church, about one-third of our students are non Catholics. We have Episcopalians in number, some attending the Episcopa Sunday school, we have Christian Scientists attending the Christian Scient 'hurch, and we have Hebrews attend ing the synagogue, we have Latter-day Saints, Presbyterians, Baptists, Meth-odists and Unitarians. When the late war was declared against Spain, ou boys were not slow in coming forward some joined the Rough Riders, some were in the Utah battery, and one of our Montana boys won by dash and galantry on the fighting line in the Philippines a commission of first licu-We have reason to be proud lenant. of our boys, and we are proud of them In conclusion. I wish you all a Merry Christmas, that during this joyous sea-son the fondest desires of your hearts may be satisfied, that your New Year may be bright and prosperous, and that you will often come to encourage, by your presence and sympathy, our ef-forts in making citizens who will be in

It takes a majority of these, or 136 signers to the petition, before the county commissioners can take the matter up. It has been ascertained by the county clerk that of the 134 signers of the petition-two short of a majority-only seventy are registered voters. The only thing left to do in the circumstances is to take a census of the district, and the clerk has detailed Harry F. Evans, from his office to make the census. FORT DOUGLAS NOTES.

There will be a social this evening in the Fort Douglas chapel which promises to be well attended by the soldiers of the garrison. Mrs. Percy Somers-Cocks and Mr. Gilbert will sing, Mrs. Maud Gorham will give selected readings, and Chaplain and Mrs. Marvin, of the post, and Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wake, of this city, will participate. The commanding officer, Major G. S. Young, has been inquiring among the different company commands for men who can play band instruments, and has found twenty. With these he will make a beginning of a post band, in-creasing the number of musicians as they may be brought out in the garrisor. The quartermaster has written to Denver and Washington after band instruments, and a former bandmaster of the Third infantry, who is in town, may be placed in charge. Last night's Christian Endeavor meeting at the post was attended by over 100 soldiers, and many took an active part in the exercises. The new chaplain at Fort Douglas is proving to be a popular and energetic officer and is doing excellent work among the men. The batterymen do not believe that their horses will be sent on now before spring, as during the winter it will not be so easy to handle artillery mounts as later in the year.

GEORGE DIXON FAILED.

In Twenty Rounds Could Not Knock Out Austin Rice.

New London, Conn., Dec. 19 .- Austin Rice of New London and George Dixon of New York met tonight for twenty rounds at 122 pounds. During the early rounds Dixon led often for Rice's head. but had little success in landing. Up to the tenth round Dixon was sluggish, but in the tenth round Dixon com-menced to show some of his old-time footwork, and from that time com-menced to grow stronger.

The twentieth round was the hardest of all, first one man having the advantage and then the other. Several times Rice landed good blows, but lack of force prevented a knockout. Both men fighting strongly when the gong sounded and the referee gave Rice the decision. CHAMPION IS HOME.

TOM TRACY DEFEATED.

Al Neill Knocks Him Out in the Eighteenth Round.

San Francisco and Tom Tracy of Aus-tralia tonight met in the ring for the third time at the exposition building, and Neill won in the eighteenth round. In the first round Neill landed on Tracy's chin with his right and cut a gash an inch in length, from which the blood flowed in a stream. During the five rounds Nelll jabbed Tracy on the right eye with his left and all but closed that member. After the fifth round Tracy did some effective work, and during the next eight rounds landed hard with his right on Neill's stomach. The Fighting was fast, and Tracy proved to be a good in-fighter, but Neill kept up his jabbing on the face. In the seven-teenth Neill commenced to uppercut Tracy, and at the end of the round Tracy appeared tired. After a clinch Neill landed with his right on Tracy's jaw and he went down. Tracy was un-able to respond to the call of time, and Referee Joe Acton gave the fight to Neill.
