

the decorative feature of the afternoon, and was carried out in scores, tallies, and all details.

On Thursday night Mr. and Mrs. John Gibson, at their residence, corner of P and Second streets, gave a delightful party in honor of their daughter Bella, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. There was a program of music and recitations and a bounteous repast was served, about 27 guests being present to enjoy the affair. Mrs. Deelan and Mr. Gibson created much amusement in their character costumes, representing Japan and England respectively.

A most enjoyable dancing party was given on Thursday night by the members of the Bandanna Sewing club, the hall being decorated with bandanna handkerchiefs, while palms, carnations

The event of the week was the reception by Col. and Mrs. E. F. Holmes on Tuesday night in honor of the officers and ladies of Fort Douglas. The beautiful home was transformed into a bower of American Beauty roses, azaleas and carnations, with palms, ferns and vines making an effective picture. The hosts were assisted in receiving by Gov. and Mrs. Wells, Col. and Mrs. Babb, and Mayor and Mrs. Morris, the party being stationed in the drawing room. Refreshments were served in the beautifully decorated dining room, and punch in the library. The new art gallery was thrown open, and here a delightful entertainment was provided the guests in the paintings, pieces of sculpture, and rare bric-a-brac picked up by the hosts in their trips abroad. The gallery in itself is a handsome addition to the house proper, and is done in deep red, gold and ebony. This is a platform being a stage for theatricals, and a dressing room for such occasions has also been provided. Paintings from noted foreign artists are on the walls of the gallery, and also choice bits from the brushes of local artists, including H. L. A. Culmer, and Miss Rose Hartwell, the latter's Paris salon picture being seen there. The gallery was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the platform being a veritable bank of flowers and palms. An orchestra was stationed behind these and furnished delightful music during the evening. About 400 guests enjoyed the event, which will rank with the notable ones of the past several years.

Miss Nellie Cullen gave two delightful luncheons this week, the first being on Monday and the second on Tuesday afternoon. The valentine idea was prettily carried out, in heartshaped place cards and in the refreshments, red and white being the colors. Her guests were Mrs. Henry E. Cullen, Miss Mary, Miss Short, Miss Fisher, Miss Johnson, Miss Farrell, Miss Geary and Miss Strickley, Miss June Bantz, Miss Margaret Donnellan, Miss Sadie Merrill, Miss Carrie Sappington, Miss Helen Cramer, Miss Mercy Berkeley, Mrs. Brammell.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Hutchinson Moyes of Ogden, announce the engagement of their daughter Kathryn, to Mr. James A. Northrup, member of the firm of Northrup Glove Manufacturing Co. of New York, and son of Mrs. J. C. Northrup.

Miss Moyes has for the past three years been private secretary to Mr. John K. Macdow of the American Smelting & Refining Co., New York. Miss Moyes is expected home on the first of March and the wedding will take place in the early spring.

One of the most delightful affairs of the week was the farewell party on Monday evening, given in honor of Miss Maud Reeder, before her departure to California. Among those present were Miss Pearl Vincent, Mr. Warren Blake, Miss Louise Stead, Mr. Joseph Wilcox, Miss Tillie Thomas, Mr. Charles Vincent, Miss Alice Blake, Mr. Walter Stead, Miss Amand Vincent, Mr. James Blake and Allan Cameron.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mueller entertained at dinner on Tuesday in honor of Mrs. W. H. Palmer of Kansas City, covers being laid for nine. The table was prettily decorated with red and white carnations, and ferns, and the following were present besides the guest of honor: Miss Bessie Light, Miss Schulte, Miss Ella Schulte, Messrs. Melster, Francis and Adolph S. Fritsch.

A very pleasant surprise party was given Mrs. William White, president of the Twenty-fifth ward Relief society, on Tuesday night, by members of the society and people of the ward. The evening was spent in an enjoyable manner, with songs, recitations, etc. A delicious supper finished the festivities of the evening.

One of the pleasantest Valentine parties of the week was that given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Sheets on Seventh East street Monday evening, by the Autumn club. The rooms were artistically decorated in red, green and white, and a delicious supper was served, covers being laid for 16. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Charles Reader and the evening was delightfully spent with games. Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Will Derrick, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Emme, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Moroni Iverson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reader, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Sheets entertained Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Whipple Wednesday evening. Mr. Whipple leaves for the Philippine Islands on Tuesday next to accept a government position.

Mrs. E. F. Root was hostess at three delightful card parties this week, the first being given on Thursday afternoon, with euchre as the amusement. The rooms were prettily decorated, the hall and library in red carnations, with candelabra shaded in red, and the parlor in pink, the tallies being hand-painted in flowers and figures. The first prize was won by Mrs. McKenna, the lone hand by Mrs. H. N. Mayo, and the consolation by Mrs. R. A. Whitehead.

On Thursday night Mrs. Root entertained at a second euchre party, the floral decorations of the afternoon being supplemented with hearts, which in every conceivable way carried out the Valentine idea. The prizes in the contest were won by Mrs. McKenna, Mrs. H. N. Mayo, and Mrs. C. H. Bell, who carried off first, lone hand, and consolation, respectively. The gentlemen's prizes went to Dr. Stauffer, A. C. Wherry and E. W. Whitner.

Yesterday Mrs. Root gave the third in her series of card parties, the game being "43." The Valentine scheme was

The senior girls of the West Side High school will entertain the boys of the class on Washington's birthday at the home of Miss Maud Wheeler.

No prettier valentine party has been given than that at which Mrs. G. L. Savage was hostess on Monday afternoon. The rooms were veritable Cupid's bowers, with cards, bows and arrows being strung in festoons from the chandelier to the corners, and forming portiere and window shades, while miniature Cupid figures, armed with reboatable darts, presided like little deities about the rooms. The score cards were valentines, the counters, hearts, and the tallies glided turkey feathers. The luncheon cloths and napkins were ornamented with Cupids.

Mrs. J. S. Bransford, 134 First street, entertained the East Side Card club on Wednesday evening.

Judge and Mrs. Powers have issued invitations for a reception to be given Feb. 22.

Mrs. W. R. Warren of 174 L street entertained the members of St. Mark's guild on Tuesday afternoon at her home.

Mrs. C. A. Walker entertained at a delightful tea this afternoon in honor of Miss Buford. The rooms were handsomely decorated with cut flowers and vines, and a number of the friends of the hostess assisted in receiving and entertaining.
