Heart Weakness

The action of the heart depends upon the heart nerves and muscles. When from any cause they become weak or exhausted, and fail to furnish sufficient power, the heart flut-ters, palpitates, skips beats; and in its effort to keep up its work, causes pain and distress, such as smothering spells, short breath, fainting, pain around heart, arm and shoulders. The circulation is impeded, and the entire system suffers from lack of nourish-

STOMACH SUFFERERS SQUANDER MILLIONS

In Search of Relief.

The world is full of disordered stonachs and 90 per cent of the money spent upon physicians and drugs goes in an attempt to cure the stomach.

People are made to believe that in order to gain health they must doctor their stomachs and use cathartics. So the doctor gets his fee for the stomach treatment and the druggist for the physic, until the savings of a life time are exhausted and yet no cure.

physic, until the savings of a life time are exhausted and yet no cure.

Let's be reasonable.

The sick stomach is in every case the result of over-eating, hurried mastication and improper choice of foods. The mucous lining all the way down the food tract loses its sensitiveness, and when food is forced down the muscles fall to respond. They do not churn the food as they should. The glands no longer give out gastric juice to dissolve the food and render it capable of assimilation. The man has become a dyspeptic.

come a dyspeptic.

There is one sure way and only one to bring positive relief. Put into that stomach of yours the very elements that it lacks to get that food into liquid that it lacks to get that food into liquid form. It takes pepsin, diastase, golden seal and other ferments to accomplish this. The healthy stomach contains these elements. The dyspeptic stomach lacks part or all of them. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet is made up of just what the dyspeptic stomach lacks—nature's digestives.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a medicine, not a drug, not a cathartic. They do not cure anybody of anything but Dyspepsia and Indigestion and such allments as arise from poorly digested allments as arise from poorly digested

While they digest the food the stomach recuperates. The mucous mem-brane is coming out of its stupor, the gastric juice is coming to the sur-face, the muscles are regaining their power. Every organ of the body takes on new life, the skin gains color, and the eyes are no longer tinged with yellow. You live.

Why doctor and why drug yourself? Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will take care of your food while Nature cures

CONDUCT OF HORSES WHILE IN BATTLE.

In Great Engagements the Faithful Animals Frequently Display Rare Courage and Sagacity.

The lists of killed and injured after a battle seldom refer to man's most faithful friend, the horse; yet his part in warfard is of the greatest importance, and warfard is of the greatest importance, and he suffers on the battlefield quite as much as man, without man's hope of honor and fame in victory.

The horse is, in many respects, an unique individuality show itself as clearly as on the battlefield.

When horses are hit in battle they stop, tremble in every muscle, and groan deeply, while their eyes show wild astonishment. During the battle of Waterloo some of the horses, as they lay on the ground, having recovered from the first agony of their wounds, fell to eating the grass about them, thus surrounding themselves with a circle of bare ground.

Steamship Competition,

Consul Maxwell Blake writes from Enchol that the latest evidence of the grewing competion between the rival German and English steamship lines alying (via Madeira) from Europe to Brazil is found in the announcement of a new 19-bou-ten steamer for the Hamburg-American line, preceding only by a few months a similar move on the part of the Worrmann line, whose three new steamers of 6,000 tons capacity are now rapidly nearing completion. Mr. Blake says that it seems that this has been done by the German companies in opposition to the Koyal Mail Steamship 'company, whose recent additions to their Scuth American feet have compelled other companies to effer have compelled other companies to offer the same inducement of conforts to the airendy important and growing passenger traffic to South America.

Riding Astride.

Riding Astride.

"The fashion of riding astride seems to be growing in popularity." writes Lady Violet Greville to the Graphic. "Several ladies of tifle have adopted it. Lady Castlereagh, Lady Constance Stewart Richardson, the Duchess of Westminister and the Hon. M.s. Fairbairn are a few of the best known women, but for years travelers, explorers, and ladies who rede hard and far in foreign countries have found the benefit of the habit, it should certainly be adopted with prudence and cars, for little girls are spt to grow one-sided by riding in a side saddle, and I understand those who advected it find the attitude far more comfortable and less fatiguing. Of course, it is no new thing. The side saddle is more or less a modern invention. For centuries, especially in oriental countries, women thave ridden astride. Better command over the horse, oriental countries, women have ridden astride. Better command over the lowes, a finer balance, and a graceful position can be more easily attained. As for the dress, that is now almost perfectica, and may safely be left to each one's sense of propriety."
