

ly too, is the most interesting department in the building. On the South wall hang oil paintings, crayons, water colors, sketches, etc., while the photographer's art is displayed on either side. With characteristic enterprise the photographers have sought to outvie each other and make indeed a good showing. There are beautiful portraits and oil paintings of Judge Sutherland, Judge Baskin, J. W. Carrigan, A. Cohn, L. Cohn, J. J. Daly, Dr. J. E. Tallmage, Spencer Clawson, John D. Spencer and others.

The north end of the gallery is occupied by the ladies' work department which is a wonder in itself. From the Deaf Mute Department of the University of Deseret are exhibited fine specimens of mechanical work.

The grounds have been improved much since last year in the way of beauty and accommodation, yet they are inadequate to the demand for entrances and twenty-eight new stalls for stock were built yesterday. Would the exhibitors have been refused admission on account of lack of room, and their applications being filed too late.

A. L. Burnham of Bountiful shows a very fine Percheron stallion and filly.

Wm. P. Bowen and Bros. of Spanish Fork, make a magnificent showing of French coach and Percheron horses.

These gentlemen lost a splendid specimen of the French coach horse yesterday, and a recent importation; the purchase price of which was $2600. The cause of the fatality was a change of water. It is claimed that this was the finest horse but one, of the kind in the Territory.

Sexton, Warren and Offord, importers of English horses and red polled cattle, exhibit three magnificent Shires and several Clydesdale stallions, the heaviest of which weighs 2010 pounds.

Ex-Marshall Dyer has eight head of Cleveland Bays and Shires, some of which are very fine.

Rex and Hasbrouch exhibit the only English hackney horse in the Territory. This breed of horses are celebrated for their great speed and endurance. They also show a Cleveland Bay stallion, which, they feel certain, will take first prize.

Burton & Winder again have on exhibition their celebrated Cleveland Bay stallion, "Lord Barton," together with three of his colts. This horse took first prize last year, and will doubtless carry off the prize again.

Thos. Matthews has six head of fine carriage horses, two of which are by the famous L. C. Lee, and make a fine showing.

B. C. Harvey has a number of standard bred horses, some of which have good records.

Smith Bros., of Logan, exhibit two very fine stallions, one an English Shire and the other a French coach horse.

Rasmus Neilson of Spanish Fork has twenty head of standard bred horses of various breeds, most of which are very good. This is the largest number of horses entered by any one man.

L. G. Hardy makes a good showing of standard bred horses.

W. Price has on exhibition a number of fine Shetland ponies.

CATTLE.

F. A. Mitchell, of the Jordan Stock Farm, has several head each of Durham and Holsteins. Some of these have been exhibited for the third time. "Jacob Wit's Bar dolf," the famous Holstein bull, and as fine an animal as can well be found, weighs within a very little of 3,000 pounds. His record is well known.

Of the cows, "Queen Alta" and "Krone" are the finest. "Queen Alta's" milk records is as follows: 80½ pounds in one day and 2380 pounds and 14 ounces in one month. "Krone" has a milk record of 92½ pounds in one day and 2471 pounds in a month. This makes her one of the heaviest milkers in the United States.

"Utah Girl" has a milk record of 65 pounds in one day.

"Serapta" has a milk record of 64 pounds in one day.

Of the Durham breed, "Cypress Duke the Third," is the most noteworthy. This animal was shown last year and weighs 2160 pounds.

Faust & Sons show fifteen head of very fine Holsteins. The bull "Augustine" is a richly bred butter bull, sired by "Neptune" of the celebrated Aaggie family.

"Lady Whiskie" an imported cow, shown by them has a milk record of ninety-one pounds in one day.

"Lady Baker Third," a two-year-old, is from Lady Baker who beat the world's record for butter last year, with 34.6 ounces in one milking.

They also have two cows from the famous prize winner "Imogene"—"Lady Imogene" and "Imogene Third."

Also two heifers from the celebrated bull "Barrington," both of which are beauties.

Arthur Brown show nine head of Shorthorns, all of which are as fine as can be desired. Most of them have been shown before. "Grover Cleveland," his famous bull, has taken the prize for the best beef breed at every fair at which he has been exhibited.

L. G. Hardy shows nine head of Galloways and four Jerseys; all of them are standard bred and fine animals.

James P. Freeze again shows his splendid red polled bull, "Magistrate." He has taken two silver and one gold medal. With him thirteen others of the same breed are shown, and all are good.

Ben E. Eldredge, of Provo, again shows his Devon bull "Birmingham" with several more of the same breed. Without doubt they are the choicest lot of Devons in the West.

There are many other fine animals that might have honorable mention, but which we are obliged to omit without any desire to discriminate.

POULTRY.

The poultry show undoubtedly is the finest exhibit of the kind that has ever been made in this Territory. The kinds are numerous, and the breeds the best. The chickens and turkeys are especially fine.

Today, the fourth day of the Fair, opened with a very small attendance. The rain which commenced last night, continued to fall without interruption until near noon, and the air was exceedingly chilly. At 12 o'clock less than 1000 people had entered the Exposition building, but between that time and 2 o'clock the crowd was so augmented by the arrival of persons curious to see the marriage ceremonies performed, that the main building and gallery soon became densely packed with people, eager, waiting and impatient.

Two couples presented themselves. They were Geo. F. Layton and Emily De Shazo, aged 21 and 18 years respectively; both were of Kayaville. The other couple are both of this city; they are each 22 years of age and their names are Louis F. Haas and Bettie Brown.

In a short speech appropriate to the occasion, Henry W. Lawrence announced that the ceremonies would be performed forthwith. As he concluded the band struck up a wedding march, and the two couple ascended the grand stairway leading to the balcony amidst stupendous applause. Miss Brown was dressed in a handsome brocade silk and presented the very picture of neatness. Miss De-Shazo was dressed in a purple satin, and as the two couples stood up to be united they presented a very pleasing picture.

Mayor Geo. M. Scott performed the ceremonies and the now united couples descended the stairway amidst a profusion of flowers and thunderous hurrahs and wended their way through the throng to the dining room where the wedding dinner was served by F. S. Ball.

One of the brides, in response to the question—"Do you not anticipate gloomy results from a union consummated on such a gloomy day?" said, quickly and happily:

"Cursed is the corpse that the sun shines on.
But blessed is the bride that the rain rains on."
