Box quotations, New York, per 100 lbs., $4.25.

On Saturday lightning struck a pear tree in the block south of Pioneer square.

There was one death from scarlet fever in the Tenth Ward on Saturday evening.

Silver quotations, corrected daily by Wells, Fargo & Co., New York, $1.06 1/2; London, 48 1/2-167.

An unknown disease is killing large numbers of chickens in the northeastern part of the city.

J. W. Wiley, a discharged soldier, will leave for Pittsburgh via the D. & R. G. to-morrow.

HERBERT PEMBREK, the stationer, calls attention to today's paper to his full supply of school apparatus, etc.

JOHN WATKINS, the captured convict, was brought back to the city on Saturday evening, and placed in the Penitentiary.

The ball storm yesterday afternoon, in Utah County, stripped the corn fields on Provo Bench of leaves and ears, leaving only the stumps standing.

GRACE HAWTHORNE, one of the greatest actresses of the day, will appear at the Opera House on Friday and Saturday next, supported by a strong company.

MR. WILLARD WEHR, leader of the Theatre orchestra, has returned from his rusticated trip to Strawberry Valley, and desires to announce that the orchestra will meet for rehearsal to-morrow (Tuesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock.

This afternoon we were pleased to receive a call from Mr. Chamberlain, of Kansas City, who is delighted with his visit to Salt Lake. He arrived here on Saturday, and expects to visit for a few days, and on Wednesday, to rejoin Mrs. Chamberlain at that point.

A lady living in the Fifteenth Ward was severely injured a few days ago, by falling partly into an old well. Some boards had been placed over the opening, and when the lady stepped on them they gave way. She succeeded in extricating herself, but was considerably bruised and shaken.

LOCAL NEWS.

Behind Time.—The D. & R. G. W. train due here this evening is reported five minutes late, in consequence of the track in Price Cañon having been submerged in water to a depth of six inches by the storm yesterday.

More Diphtheria.—On Saturday people were congratulating themselves that the city was free from diphtheria, but to-day we have to chronicle that another outbreak of the fearful malady has occurred. This morning the quarantine physician came out yellow fever at four places in the Twentieth Ward, there being one case at each place.

Primary Fair.—The Primary Association of this State will hold their regular biennial fair in this city about the middle of next month. The children composing the various associations throughout the State are requested to prepare for it, that it may be made a grand success in every respect.

Progressing Favorably.—On last Thursday afternoon a little boy, James Iverson, residing in the Second Ward, attempted to jump on the city gravel train on Fourth South Street, just before it stopped, and was thrown down and had his leg laid open by a car wheel. Dr. Anderson attended the patient, and now thinks that the boy's leg may be saved, though the injury is a serious one, and it will probably be many months before the patient entirely recovers. His right arm was also bruised, and the lobe of his right ear severed.

At Cedar Fort.—On Saturday evening there was held at Cedar Fort, Utah County, a district conjoint entertainment of the Young Men's and Young Ladies' Improvement Associations. The district includes about half a dozen of the towns contiguous to Cedar Fort. A large number started from those settlements to attend the gathering, in vehicles of various kinds. They were, however, caught in a tremendous storm, before they got very far on the way and were obliged to turn back.

A conference of the same associations was held at the same place, yesterday, but the war of the elements prevented a large attendance as there would have been otherwise. Elders Junius F. Wells, Nephi W. Clayton and Wm. C. Burton, officers of the general organization of the Young Men's Association, attended and a profitable time was spent. These brethren returned last night, having traveled by team a distance of fifteen miles from Cedar Fort to Lehi—through a pelting storm, and the balance of the way by U. C. train, and consequently they did not get home till a rather late hour.

The Storm.—About 5 o'clock last evening a squall, approaching a tornado in violence, struck this city, and while its fury lasted, which, however, was but for a few minutes, scattered and rattled things that were loose in a pretty lively manner. A great many shade trees in different parts of the city were blown over and others broken, and a large number of the lumber shanties being unroofed by the wind. Some narrow escapes occurred, but we have heard of no one being injured.

Jack Siegel, of Fort Douglas, was driving alone one of the streets in this city at the time of the storm when a large shade tree was prostrated by the fall, falling just in the rear of his buggy; in fact, some of the smaller branches struck the vehicle, but without doing any damage.

On the bench east of the city, haystacks were scattered and damaged considerably, and at Fort Douglas a number of trees were uprooted, one of which, in falling, smashed a window of the sutler's house.

The bathing train, which was just proceeding towards the Lake when the storm occurred, had to stop for a short time lest it should be blown off the track.

Brother John B. Winder mentions a curious phenomenon which he and a number of others, who had sought shelter in his house at Mill Creek, noticed during the storm. A flash, or rather a perpendicular column of lightning, apparently only a short distance away, descended in a straight line to the earth, and on reaching it one of the most terrific claps of thunder occurred that he ever listened to.

The storm was very heavy in City Creek Cañon, and doubtless a good many pleasure seekers and persons who are camping out up there for the benefit of their health were caught in it, but we have not yet learned of any damage resulting from it.

Police Items.—In the Police Court this morning, before Judge Speers, Thomas White was arraigned on a charge of trespass and being proven guilty, was fined $10. White was released from the city jail on Saturday afternoon, and after dark crept around to the back of the jail with a bottle of whisky, which he attached to a string that had been lowered from the jail window above. Just as the bottle was being drawn up, the jailor appeared on the scene, and seizing a rock, threw it, breaking the bottle. He then started after White whom he saw running away, and after a lively chase of three blocks, succeeded in capturing him. Unfortunately the culprit could only be proceeded against for trespass, as there was no city ordinance against the violation of prison rules.

George Head was fined $5 this morning for drunkenness.

Richard Hamilton, John Kinney and Wm. Gehnen were brought up for trial this morning for engaging in a row at the back of the Wasatch saloon, on Second South Street, on Saturday night. Hamilton was convicted on the charges of fighting, drunkenness and profanity, and fined $17.50. Kinney was assessed $15 for being drunk and fighting. The charge of fighting against Gehnen was dismissed, it being shown that he acted on the defensive; his drunk cost him $5. The three men will work out their fines in repairing the streets.

A boy named Charles Martini, about 11 years old, was arrested this morning for disturbing the peace. His trial was set for to-morrow.

Raymond Jeffs, a soldier belonging to Company G, is under arrest, charged with being drunk and disturbing the peace.

Charles Steiner, a soldier, imbibed too freely of intoxicants on Saturday, and created considerable disturbance on the street. By the time he got in the vicinity of the City Hall, he had his war pistol on, and made an assault on the building, breaking one of the windows. The officers interfered at this stage of the attack and placed the belligerent "boy in blue" in the jail, where his courage would be allowed to cool.

The three vagrants who were arrested on Friday night for begging money, which they spent in drink, were being tried in the Police Court this afternoon.

A lost boy about four years of age was brought to the City Hall this afternoon. He gave the name of O'Connor. Last month fourteen lost children were reported at the police office; eight have been reported thus far this month.

Obsequies.—From Brother Larson Pratt, who went to Grantsville yesterday to attend the funeral of W. R. Judd, we learn that seven or eight carriages met the party from this city, which consisted of quite a number of persons, a little this side or the Halfway House, and conveyed them to Grantsville, where they arrived at 1 o'clock. The services were conducted under the direction of Elder W. C. Reddish, and commenced shortly after 2 o'clock.

The opening prayer was offered by Elder W. H. Lee, of Tooele, after which remarks appropriate to the occasion were made by Elders James N. A. Empey and Samuel Hill of this city, and C. L. Anderson of Grantsville. The closing prayer was offered by Elder John Gillespie of Tooele.

The meeting house was tastefully decorated with emblems of mourning. There was a large cortege which was headed by the Grantsville brass band, and in assembling around the grave the choir sang:

"There is sweet rest in heaven."

Altogether the services were quite impressive.

As the cortege was leaving the cemetery to return to Grantsville, one of the most terrible hailstorms our informant ever witnessed occurred.

The hailstones, which were as large as marbles, came down in sheets, and the storm lasted about twenty-five minutes. Many of the visitors sought refuge in the meeting house, the north windows of which were broken by the hailstones. The town was soon flooded with water, which was rushing in torrents down the streets and overflowing the ditches.

A number of children were hurt more or less seriously by the hailstones, and there was probably considerable damage done through the flooding of the streets, and the hailstones beating out the wheat grains, etc. Many inhabitants had to turn out to keep their houses from being flooded.

He Wants to go to Jail.—On Saturday evening a squall, approaching a tornado in violence, struck this city, and while its fury lasted, which, however, was but for a few minutes, scattered and rattled things that were loose in a pretty lively manner. A great many shade trees in different parts of the city were blown over and others broken, and a large number of the lumber shanties being unroofed by the wind. Some narrow escapes occurred, but we have heard of no one being injured.

Jack Siegel, of Fort Douglas, was driving alone one of the streets in this city at the time of the storm when a large shade tree was prostrated by the fall, falling just in the rear of his buggy; in fact, some of the smaller branches struck the vehicle, but without doing any damage.

The storm was very heavy in City Creek Cañon, and doubtless a good many pleasure seekers and persons who are camping out up there for the benefit of their health were caught in it, but we have not yet learned of any damage resulting from it.

Ran into a Snowshed.—In addition to the accident caused by the snowshed on the street, on Friday night, another occurred further west, near Seco, Nevada. In consequence of a misplaced switch, a passenger train ran into the snowsheds, carrying away about 100 feet of the sheds. One fireman was killed and two of the train men were scalded.

Another of the Same.—The Salt Lake and Western Railway Hors d'combat, a considerable portion of the track having been washed away by the recent storm. Superintendent Ritter will have the road in working order again as soon as energy and hard work are capable of getting it into its normal condition again. It is stated that the damage extends over a distance of nearly one mile. Last night passengers from the west end of the break connected with the Utah Central by train.

A Smashup.—Yesterday evening the wind caught a coal car and a box car which were standing on a switch just south of the D. & R. G. depot, and threw them on to the main track. The train from Bingham came along shortly after, and the engineer did not notice the obstruction until within a short distance of it. The air brakes were applied, but the locomotive struck the cars, both of which were pretty well smashed, and the engine was considerably damaged. There were about 100 passengers on the train at the time, but none were injured.

Effects of the Storm South.—Last night the Utah Central train from the South was delayed three hours by a washout between the Point of the Mountain and Draper. The break extended over a distance of about 500 yards. When the proximity of the southern end was reached the engine was detached and run back to Lehi Junction, from which point a dispatch was sent to the city, asking that a train be forwarded by which to transfer the passengers. This was accordingly done, and all reached this city at the time above mentioned, in good shape, no accident of any kind occurring. The transfer was accomplished with as little delay and inconvenience as possible by Conductor J. Jacobs.

The trouble occurred near the same point where the obstruction was made by the storm of week before last.

The track was, in one place, under a depth of from five to six feet of sand and gravel, and between the sand-washes was under water. Although the clearing of the road would necessitate a large amount of work, the characteristic energy of the officers of the line would soon have it accomplished.

The storm throughout the south yesterday afternoon, as far as the railroad reaches, was terrific. In addition to the wind, thunder, lightning and copious rainfall, hailstones came down in great profusion, many of them being as large as ordinary marbles.

Superstitious people in various parts of the Union are noting as an ominous fact that the dies are not so numerous as they were some years ago.

It is said that the year before an epidemic of cholera was signified by a scarcity of dies, and many people therefore believe that the cholera will visit us next year. In India and other hot countries, if the dies fail to turn up in large numbers during the summer, the people feel great alarm. They regard it as a sure sign that there is danger ahead.

The Boston Budget says: "Everybody has a cure for sore throat, but simple remedies appear to be most effective. Salt and water is used by many as a gargle, but a little alum and honey dissolved in sage tea is better. An application of cloths wrung out of hot water and applied to the neck, changing as often as they begin to cool, has the most potent effect for removing inflammation of anything we ever tried. It should be kept up for a number of hours; during the evening is usually the most convenient time for applying this remedy."
