ucky, where she was born Nov. 29, 1821. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, joined the church in very early days, and with their family, moved to Nauvoo, where they were living during the trying scenes that culminated in the death of the Prophet Joseph, and the expulsion of the Saints from Illinois.

Mrs. Criddle saw the body of the Prophet Joseph when it was brought from Carthage.

In 1840 she married Samuel Driggs, at Nauvoo, and during their 14 years of married life five children were born, of whom four are now living, Louisa Burnett of Preston, Ida, Marie Bennett of Downey, Ida, Jane Hyde of Fairview, Ida, and Amasa Driggs of Kaysville.

In 1850 Mr. and Mrs. Driggs came to Utah and to Kaysville, where they settled on a farm near the mountain, which has ever since been the family residence. Here in 1854 Mr. Driggs died, and here yesterday Mrs. Criddle passed away.

After the death of Mr. Driggs, the family married John Criddle, and four children survive her from this marriage.

Failing Strength

A weak and exhausted condition usually follows overwork, too close confinement, or unusual mental strain. Every day a certain amount of vitality is consumed, and if not replenished by sleep, rest and nourishment, soon wrecks the nervous system. The results are sleeplessness, headache, indigestion, imperfect circulation, etc., which affects the organs of the body.

Restore your nerve strength—your vitality, with Dr. Miles' Nerve and your whole system will recuperate. Your sleep will be sound and refreshing, headaches will disappear, and digestion improve.

"When I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve I was physically in a very bad condition. I was weak and exhausted, and was unable to keep up my strength. I suffered greatly from sleeplessness and got very little rest. This Restorative Nerve soon brought refreshing sleep and I gained rapidly in strength until I was fully restored. I have since taken it whenever I have felt the need of it, and it has always with very satisfactory results."

NEPHI.

DISTRICT COURT BUSINESS.

Tilt Between Attorneys—George Ockey Convicted—Other Cases.

Special Correspondence.

Nephi, Juab Co., March 10.—Judge Greenwood and a jury have been busy here the past week trying criminal cases, and there is one other case set for Monday before the criminal calendar is completed.

Arthur Parsons, who was charged with assault with intent to commit a horrible crime on a young girl at Mammoth, was acquitted.

Thomas W. Miller, for an assault with a deadly weapon with intent to do bodily harm was convicted of battery, and fined $250 which he promptly paid.

Last November Samuel Shaw attempted to impound some cattle belonging to Miller, when Miller appeared, and in an effort to take the cattle away from Shaw, a quarrel ensued in which Miller struck Shaw with a club breaking his arm and otherwise brutally treating him.

Last night at 11 o'clock the jury returned with a verdict against George Ockey, who was charged with a serious immoral offense. Ockey is a man 46 years of age. About four years ago he was convicted of a crime and left leaving him with six children, that he had very poorly supported by reason of his indolence and intemperate habits.

Nephi, March 10.—Judge Greenwood today sentenced Ockey to seven years in the state prison.

TILT OF ATTORNEYS.

A sharp tilt occurred the other day between District Attorney Melville and County Attorney Adams. The case of the state against Matt Mannus was in progress of trial—the defendant having been charged with stealing $14 from the bank house of some Finn named in Eureka. The jury was impaneled and one of the witnesses was partially examined on behalf of the state when the noon adjournment was reached. Upon the reconvening of court at 2 o'clock, District Attorney Melville arose and stated to the court that this case had been brought by the county attorney and that he had not had time before to look into the case, but that he was now satisfied that there was not sufficient evidence to warrant putting the state to any further expense in the matter. County Attorney Adams, who was associated with the prosecution, was very much surprised at this move, and so stated to the court, and added that while he was associated in the prosecution of the case that Melville had never previously confined to him before, and suggested such a move to him before. He insisted that Melville had never taken the trouble to investigate the case sufficiently to know anything about it, and that having conducted the case in the lower court he (Adams) knew all about it, and that there was plenty of evidence to convict if the case was properly tried, and as all the witnesses were in attendance on court the state would be put to no further expense than it already had been. Mr. Adams said that he wanted to go on record as being opposed to the dismissal, and gave notice to the district attorney that he would refuse to be associated with him in the prosecution of any more criminal cases. Whereupon Mr. Adams withdrew from the court room leaving the district attorney to conduct the prosecution of the next case alone. Mannus was discharged.

Several sad deaths have occurred at this place within the past few weeks, principally confined to infants and young people. Considerable ja-grippe and bad colds are reported.

HEAVY BETTING CLOSED TOURNEY.

Star Combinations of Bowlers Met to Make a Little Money.

COST TO GET IN THE GAMES.

And the Seattle Team Pulled Down First Money by Defeating Denver in Close Contest.

All-Star combinations from the men who participated in the bowling congress here, fought it out last night to win money on side bets, and with more money on other bets made by those who were interested in seeing Denver get a package of defeat after its tournament winnings.

In the gentle art of bowling, the gentler art of side betting is assuming a larger and larger importance, and with it is coming the decay of the sport as a sport, and the increase of a professional class who will soon be found lounging around local alleys hunting for a chance to bowl for a purse large enough to carry them over at the home-going house to the next day of bowling.

Nearly every city where the sport has become popular two years ago, now has a class of bowlers who hang around the bowling alleys, hunting for a chance to bowl for a purse large enough to carry them over at the home-going house to the next day of bowling.

Prizes were big.

The first for money in the present tourney almost missed it in its straits as a sport, and went far towards causing it here with forms of gambling, instead of helping to preserve it in its established position in athletics.

Of course the amateur spirit died hard, and bowlers were more than willing to give the sport, and to whom it was giving pleasure. Many of them expressed regrets that it was the money instead of the sport that looked like the end of the game. See, Jenkins was so far as to express the hope that the game could be preserved in its standing as a gentleman's game. However, despite the protest the men climbed to the top of the league ladder to post notices of where all could see them, and to hang up his alluring chalk notes on purses.

SOME WINNERS.

In last night's rolling $500 went to the Seattle team for defeating Denver, Jenkins won $50 for defeating the other cracks in an individual match, running through 30 games, total score to count.
