

ment, after which Chairman Cunningham announced the temporary organization as follows:

Chairman, Will W. Ray, of Salt Lake. Secretary, Stephen L. Richards, of Murray.

Sergeant-at-Arms, Nichol Hood, of Sugar Ward.

In assuming control of the convention W. W. Ray said:

"As is ordinarily the case we are holding our convention in Salt Lake. It is usually the case with Republicans, and as is also usually the case the place is very dirty with Republican filth. The delegates looked around at ballots announcing the candidacy of Harry Jones and others who started yesterday, and laughed to their hearts content."

AN IMPORTANT BURDEN.

Resuming the thread of his discourse, Chairman Ray called attention to the fact that an important burden was imposed on the convention, as in its power lay the only possibility of the solution of present political issues in Utah. "Those who have watched the political events," he said, "the convinced that next fall the people will turn the affairs of this state into the hands of the Democratic party, from the hands of Republican bosses and grafters, and this is the burden which we have a general victory for William J. Bryan in 1908."

Turning to local conditions, Mr. Ray declared that they were peculiar to Utah, and that here we were fighting out questions other states had not had to fight out. These conditions he held to be the outgrowth of misguided trust and the laxity of political parties. "After years of experience which should have been years of growth," he asserted, "we find there has been no growth, and we are hurled back into the very beginnings of our political existence as a state, to learn over again all those questions which we thought were settled once for all in our infancy as a state."

Hunting for the remedy, he held that it was only to be found in the Democratic party, as the Republican party was back in the Egyptian darkness of barbarism, in which only the bright star of Democracy was shining strong enough to be seen in the sky. The quarrels, turnouts and local disturbances now infesting the state, he said, are the rest of the action of a few bosses who have absolute contempt for the rights of their fellow citizens, and who have roared on slow fire all those who have dared to question their authority.

FOUR CLASSES.

In the Republican party he alleged there were four classes: Republicans by habit, Republicans by coercion, Republicans by contract, and reluctant Republicans who were not easily led by "One Headed Snout," who obtained his office by methods as pernicious as any used by the tyrants of old. "In our state this condition has been long prevalent. I do not charge that the dominant church has wilfully thrown itself into the breach, to destroy the citizenship of the state, but I do charge that Reed Smoot has prostituted or attempted to prostitute into this situation, the church of which he is a member. If this question is not settled, we will have worse political conditions and worse religious conditions to meet in the near future."

COUNTY BUILDING CROWD.

Mr. Ray took a good sized rap at the "County building crowd," stirring up applause by a declaration that the Republican convention could have saved much trouble for itself by simply nominating the county building, floor by floor, by acclamation. Col. Kaighn, and his remarks picturing Democracy as the cause of free soup houses, were handled at large, and then the speech was terminated with an appeal to put up a ticket that would be before the voters and win with no more profit than its own merit, and Democratic principles.

Calling for the next order of business, Judge William H. King asked a suggestion that committees on credentials, permanent organization and platform be named from each precinct. State Chairman Martineau incorporated the suggestion into a resolution, and committees were named as follows:

OPERA BY SALT LAKERS.

Race Whitney and Wally Young Close Contract With Stewart Company.

Race Whitney and Wally Young have landed their opera, "The King Maker," and everything now looks rosy for a production of the piece in New York.

The Ogden Standard last evening in this connection printed the following:

Two Salt Lake boys, Race Whitney and Wally Young, who wrote and produced "The Old Bedstead" in Salt Lake, and later in this city, under the auspices of the Press club, this morning signed a contract with W. G. Stewart to furnish Stewart's company within 60 days with a musical comedy called "The King Maker."

Whitney and Young, both of whom were employed on the Chronicle in San Francisco at the time of the big earthquake, had been working on this, their most ambitious effort, for a couple of months preceding the great disaster. They had received strong encouragement from the firm of Belasco & Mayer of San Francisco, the former being a brother of David Belasco, the famous New York producer, and had even opened negotiations with the Shuberts of New York to handle their musical creation. At the time of the history-making tremor, however, they realized that Utah after all had its advantages.

Returning to Salt Lake, they wrote "The Old Bedstead," and after that had been produced, they immediately turned their attention again to "The King Maker." While in Salt Lake, W. G. Stewart heard of the clever burlesque for a new attraction—he cared not whether it was romantic opera or musical comedy. The result was that today Whitney and Young signed a contract calling not only for "The King Maker" but also for the writing of another opera within a year.

While the contract is for 10 years, it does not prevent the authors writing for other artists. They already have under way a farce-comedy for William Collier, which will probably be called "The Piker," though this point has not yet been finally decided. This play is to be delivered to Collier in New York within 60 days.

Whitney and Young have been spending the past two days in Ogden, negotiating with W. G. Stewart. They will return tomorrow to Salt Lake and will leave shortly thereafter for New York.

RAILROAD DAY AT BULLFROG

J. Ross Clark Arrives Here Tomorrow to Make Final Arrangements.

SENATOR CLARK NOT COMING.

Will be a Special Train of Private Cars To Carry Prominent Men to Bullfrog.

J. Ross Clark, vice president of the Salt Lake Route and president of the Las Vegas & Tonopah road, is due to arrive in Salt Lake tomorrow, when he will make arrangements for railroad day at Beatty, Bullfrog, which is set for Oct. 22-23.

It is believed that Senator W. A. Clark will not arrive in the west in time to participate in the festival, but at the same time there will be a special train of private cars arrive from the east to take in the big jubilee. In addition to a number of prominent men from the American mining congress in Denver, there will be Charles M. Schwab and other heavyweights on the ground. Taken all in all it will be the largest party of representative mining men of the country that ever visited the Nevada mining districts in a body.

The railroad company is now having printed in this city some artistic posters, announcing the big celebration and negotiations are under way to take a brass band along.

Commencing on Friday, it is the intention to run trains into Gold Center, as the track to this place was to be completed today.

J. C. KEATING RESIGNS.

Depot and Baggage Master Goes to Denver Union Station.

(Special to the "News.")

Ogden, Oct. 10.—The announcement of the resignation of John C. Keating as depot and baggage master at the Ogden Union depot came as a surprise to his many friends. His resignation was given Superintendent Maudslow, who accepted the same, expressing his regrets at having to lose a most competent and obliging official. Some time ago Mr. Keating received a flattering offer from the Denver Union depot company to accept the position of general baggage agent at that city, and he has decided to accept the same, leaving Ogden as soon as possible for Denver.

Mr. Keating has been one of the most efficient and courteous officials the depot company has had in their baggage department for years, ever attentive to his duties, and ready to do a kind act to the traveling public. He came to Ogden a little less than three years ago as baggage agent, and was soon made baggage master, and when the offices of baggage master and depot agent were separated, he was chosen to fill the two positions, which he has done most creditably. Who his successor will be is not known yet.

WANT CHARTER REVOKED.

Shingle Mills Bureau is Out After the Northern Pacific.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 10.—Alleging discrimination against the shippers of forest products in the matter of car supply by the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroad companies, and failure of both to keep their equipment, rolling stock and motive power up to the demands of the business, which it is asserted they should have foreseen, the shingle mills bureau yesterday employed counsel to investigate the matter and ascertain the rights of the shippers in a case before the Interstate commerce commission and perhaps also the state railroad commission. The attorney, Austin E. Griffith, of Seattle, was instructed to consider the advisability of the bureau's bringing suit to revoke the charter of the Northern Pacific railroad. A fund is being raised for the purpose, and the Lumber Manufacturers' association of the northwest, it is understood, are to be helped in the movement.

TRAFFIC CONGESTED.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—The congestion of freight traffic has increased so fast within the last few days that railway officials fear they are soon to be faced with a blockade. Conditions on the eastern roads which have not only to handle the business which they originate, but have the crops of the west pointing upon them for export, are naturally the worst, but those on the western lines also are rapidly becoming extremely serious.

With the approach of winter the movement of coal has swiftly grown heavier, aggravating the congested conditions which already exist, and traffic men say that they do not know what they will do for cars.

SPIKE AND RAIL.

Frank Vincent of the Erie, who has returned from a trip to Boise, reports that 400 carloads of prunes have been shipped east from that city this season, with about 50 more yet to follow. The shipments of Idaho apples east this year will be heavier than last.

In making a cut for the railroad grade (Moffat road) on Oak creek, a 14 foot vein of coal was exposed for a distance of about 200 feet. This will be exhibited at the side of the railroad track and all comers to Routt county, when the line is completed, can see a practical exhibition of the wealth stored in our hills. The graders are making good progress and have more than half completed a five mile stretch of roadbed. More men are wanted.—Steamboat Pilot.

CIVIC LEAGUE MEETING.

Want City Governed by a Commission Of Three Citizens.

This special committee appointed by the Civic league to prepare a plan of operations for the conduct and maintenance of a new form of city administration, met this afternoon, at the Commercial club, where the matter was discussed and a good start made in the preliminaries. The idea that seemed most suitable was to have the city governed by a commission of three citizens elected by the city at large, and who shall continue in office at salaries that will secure the best administrative talent. A sub-committee was appointed to consider the legal questions arising from the plan, and a second sub-committee was appointed to prepare a tabulated statement, showing the financial saving to be accomplished. The committee will meet again tomorrow, and will exhibit at the side of the railroad track and all comers to Routt county, when the line is completed, can see a practical exhibition of the wealth stored in our hills. The graders are making good progress and have more than half completed a five mile stretch of roadbed. More men are wanted.—Steamboat Pilot.

In San Francisco They Are Turning Their Attention to Women.

San Francisco, Oct. 10.—The footpads who are plying their craft on the streets of San Francisco have turned their attention to women and are making them hand over purses and jewels.

Stopped by thugs on the streets both girls had to submit to search and were so badly frightened that they are still suffering from the shock.
