

Mayor," "Great Scott," etc., and those cries seem to mean success. Tammany Hall is the main wing of the old Democracy in the city and between it and the County Democracy there has been a feud for some time; and the County Democracy this year goes against Tammany and Grant and ratifies the appointment of Scott. Then the women have leagued against Grant in favor of Scott and the strong hope with them all is that they will win and overthrow Tammany. So far the mass meeting has been the only excitement, no parade having as yet occurred.

The character of Tammany rulers and the present city administration is graphically told in the Evening Post in this shape:

Hugh J. Grant, who heads the Tammany ticket as its candidate for mayor is the son of a liquor-dealer and the owner of large liquor properties in this city.

THE ANTI-TAMMANY MAJORITY.

The following election returns since 1874 show that, when the anti-Tammany forces are united as they are this year, they have a majority over the largest possible Tammany vote. The last mayor ever elected as a Tammany candidate, with a majority over all opponents, was Wm. H. Wickham, who ran in 1874 against Wales, Republican, and Ottendorfer, Independent.

New York weather is awful just now. In one day we get wind, rain, hail, sleet, sunshine, heat and cold and one never thinks of going out without an umbrella even if there is not a cloud in the sky. Nothing but good sidewalks and street railway service make it bearable. The upper system of elevated road is greatly patronized, carrying in one day what our road will carry in nearly a year.

Theatricals in New York are picking up and we find over thirty prominent theatres running to good houses generally. Our party has taken advantage of the opportunities presented (and the tickets, too, by the way) and visited some of the prominent play houses of the city. Proctor's Theatre with "All the Comforts of Home" and "Men and Women;" Broadway Theatre with "Paul Jones;" Niblos with "Nero;" Madison Square with "Bean Brummell" (Mr. Mansfield); Lyceum with Sothorn in "Maister of Woodbarrow"; Garden Theatre with "Dr. Bill," and others, have all yielded to our applause.

The lone lady is being quietly sat down upon in New York and what was commenced in the interest of respectability has ended in hardship and false delicacy. A woman without a male companion cannot get a meal in an uptown restaurant after 8 o'clock; and she cannot at any time secure a room in a hotel. A woman reporter of one of the New York papers to test the strictness of such hotel rules went the "rounds," made application for a room at many of the leading hotels and was refused admission. "No lone lady need apply" was the rule. She protested, claimed to be a stranger but that was no matter. How was she to get a place to live in she asked and the word came from nearly all, "Get a gentleman to book it for you," or "Bring a man with you and it will be all right," thus showing that they profess a virtue which they have not. And circumstances which occasionally come to light show that a large proportion of this population live outwardly good and virtuous lives while secretly they are rotten and wicked. However this may be, it is a fact that New York has too much sin and misery and wickedness in her to attract for long one who has breathed the pure air of fair, gentle, peaceful Utah.

CITY COUNCIL.

The meeting of the City Council on October 28th, began promptly on time. There was an unusually small amount of business to be transacted, and it was dispatched with unusual celerity.

M. H. Hennesy and others asked for an extension of the water mains on Second West Street. Referred to the committee on waterworks.

C. R. Howe asked permission to connect a private water pipe with that of F. M. Bates, on First North Street. Referred to the committee on waterworks.

A communication from John Thompson requested immediate action on his claim for damages for injuries received through alleged fault on the part of the city.

A communication from the deputy watermasters of the city described the onerous nature of their duties, and asked that their salaries be increased from $90 to $100 per month. Referred to the committee on waterworks.

In a brief communication which stated no particulars, Dr. W. H. Groves presented a claim against the city for $250 for the use of his water pipes for five years. Referred to the committee on waterworks.

D. J. Russell and others complained of the condition of Third West Street, between Fifth and Seventh North, and of Sixth North, between Second and Third West, and asked that the same be repaired. Referred to committee on streets.

W. H. Goshell and others asked to have the electric lights extended on Third Street. Referred to the committee on improvements.

Robert Willis and others asked that the street railroad company be required to widen the space allowed on Third West Street for teams. Referred to the committee on streets.

The Master Plumbers Association urged the necessity of the appointment of an assistant plumbing inspector. It was explained that the committee to whom the same subject had been previously referred were about to report upon it, and the communication was filed.

The Salt Lake Power, Light and Heating Company sent in a bill for $1260. Hall said it was a former bill properly corrected, and it was ordered paid.

Fred A. Hale, architect, sent in a bill of $500 for examining the plans of the city and county building. Mayor Scott explained that "a committee" had ordered the examination made, and that only one half the amount was chargeable to the city. The sum of $250 was ordered placed on the appropriation list.

The request of Edela Johnson for a remission of her taxes was tabled.

A petition from T. H. Chesley and 30 to 40 others stating that within eighteen months a hundred houses had been erected near First South street west of Fifth West, but that that portion of the first named street was in a bad condition. Petitioners asked to have it improved as provided by law. Referred to the committee on streets.
