in North Ogden. A farewell reception Deserct News, to set the matter right was held for the departing missionaries this evening, and another will be given before the public. It is true that but one ticket, the Renext Monday evening in the North Ogpublican, was placed on the ballot, T, J. Winter, by common consent, was placed at the head. The city committee thought it unnecessary to organize for campaign work, thinking that one vote Last Saturday members of the stake would elect the ticket, and most of them were out of town on the election This gave opportunity to the ever present discontented minority, which join-ing with a solid saloon contingent of 90 votes, ciected John L. Jacobs by writing his name in the separate space on the local organization in conference, and effected a reorganization as fol-lows: Lillian Ferrin, president; Susan Ellis, Josephine Swensen, counselors; Mary Montgomery, Ethel Shaw, secre-tary and assistant secretary respective-ly; Esther Ellis, chorister; Lottie Jones, organist; Irene Ferrin, assistant or-ganist; and as aids; Mary Jones, Flor-ence Montgomery, Bell Woodfield, Al-bina Chatelain, Ettle Ward, Maggie Woodfield, Cora Ellis, Mary J. Brown, Esther Randall and Sophia Shupe. Mr. Jacobs received seven votes more than Mr. Winter, but many of the electors, however, falled to erase Mr Winter's name, and under the election law of the state, these votes should no have been counted. Mr. Winter, how ever, being legally sleeted, could qual figs for same if he wished to push it but is quite willing his friend Mr. Ja-cohs, should be mayor for the next two years. Mr. Jacobs, who is al starch Republican, was out of the city and took no part nor lot in his own behalf and was entirely ignorants of the move until he heard of it the following day. Had any work been done by the organization. Mr. Winter would have received a large yots. As It was, less than a two-thirds vote of the city was coat, notwithstanding the city was cast, notwithstanding they voted "bonds" for city water works.
