KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

The most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister.

READ PROOF BELOW from

Rev. P. N. GRANGER,
Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

St. Alban's, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with 'Kendall's' Spavin Cure' has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. ALL DRUGGISTS have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vermont.

"How came you in there, Charley?" asked his father.

"I fell in," answered the boy. "I was out there under that maple when the panther jumped onto Tige. I ran to the top of this rock, and stumbling, fell down in there. The panther came several times and tried to reach me, but he couldn't. Oh, I'm so tired and hungry!"

"We'll be at home soon," said his father. "Your mother will be looking for you."

They hastened toward the cabin with eager footsteps, and soon met the other party, who were returning from a fruitless search for boy or panther. Just then the report of a gun was heard at the settlement.

"What does that mean?" asked a brawny pioneer.

"I don't know," answered Goodwin.

"Something must be the matter."

The party hastened their steps to a run.

At the close of the long afternoon, Dolly Goodwin, a girl of about sixteen, had gone out to do the milking. The cows had not been turned to the pasture that day, but had been kept in an enclosure near the barn, shut in by a stone wall eight feet high.

Her mother had objected to Dolly's doing this. "Father will be at home soon," she said, "and there will be time enough then."

But Dolly, who was a busy little body, insisted. "If you are afraid for me, I will take my gun. You won't have to worry then. The cows really ought to be milked, for it's almost dark. Besides, Brindle and Loo like me."

The girl took down a small, pretty musket from its place over the deer antler; it was her own, purchased the year before from her own savings.

The yard seemed a safe, cozy place, and Dolly felt like smiling at her mother's fears as she sat down on a stool and began milking one of the gentle, mild-eyed animals that were complacently chewing their cuds. She has one of the pails about filled, when there was a sudden disturbance among the horned inmates of the inclosure.

Dolly rose to her feet and gazed around, grasping her musket in both hands. We can see how she looked—a thin slip of a girl, with tare feet and ankles, a gown of linsey-woosley, her gingham bonnet thrown back from her curls, and hanging to her neck by its fastened strings. The red in her cheeks and the flash in her eye made her look very charming.

Her quick eye soon caught a glance of a lithe, cat-like animal creeping stealthily along the high stone wall, its glaring eyes, the long undulating tail, and the tawny-colored hide, told well enough the character of the intruder. She knew it was a panther.

Dolly's heart rose into her throat, and for a moment, as she said afterward, she thought she should run as poor Brindle had done. But she was a pioneer girl, strong and healthy, and her nerves were soon under control. She raised her weapon to her shoulder and leveled it full at the tawny breast of the crouchihg panther.

Her aim was taken instantly. She saw the greenish eyes glitter and the long tail lash the wall excitedly. The next moment the savage beast sprang toward her. At the same moment her finger pressed the trigger.

She knew no more until she heard the baying of the hounds and the loud cries of the returning hunters. Her father opened the heavy wooden gate, and came in where she was leaning half fainting against the wall.

"I am all right now, father," said Dolly, in reply to his anxious interrogation, "but I was kind of sick like a while ago."

She still looked very pale.

"The girl has beat the hull of us!" cried a rough pioneer. "It's the very beast we were arter. See, there's the marks of the hounds' teeth. Well, it's saved us a journey to-morrow; that's a comfort. But you beat the dickens, Dolly, you do."

They all crowded around, offering congratulations, and for weeks afterward her exploit was the talk of the neighborhood.

The panther proved on measurement to be one of the largest of its kind, lacking only an inch of being seven feet in length, including its tail. The State bounty was forty dollars. This sum, with what she realized from its skin, made Dolly quite a rich young lady for those times.—Harper's Young People.

THE CASE
AGITATOR
Ahead of all Other Competitors!

SALT LAKE CITY,
August 12th, 1882.

J. W. Lowell, Esq.,

Dear Sir.—The J. I. Case Agitator we bought of you last season is the best machine we ever saw or used; it will thresh more grain and thresh it better and cleaner than any other machine we have ever seen, and we can confidently recommend it to any persons wishing to purchase a good Thresher.

Yours, etc.,
G. W. LUFKIN,
W. A. BARRON.

ASHLEY'S FORK,
UINTAH CO., Feb. 26th, 1882.

John W. Lowell,

Dear Sir.—The Agitator Separator and Woodbury Power that we bought of you, we can truly say give entire satisfaction. It beats anything that we ever saw to thresh and clean. We have run seven different kinds of machines, but this is the champion. The cleaning and the separating are perfect. We have not had a man find fault with it yet, and we believe that the people here will testify to our statement as being the truth. It comes as near being perfect as it is possible for a machine to be. We cannot tell you upon paper all its superior qualities or how much we think of it, but can say this, that could we not get another like it, no money would buy it.

Yours truly,
GEORGE BROWN,
S. J. CAMPBELL,
WM. P. REYNOLDS,
ROBERT BODILY.

CEDAR CITY, Sep. 23rd, 1881.

John W. Lowell,

Dear Sir.—Our machine, Agitator, is doing excellent work. Cleans the best and threshes faster than any Thresher we ever saw.

We remain,
CORRY & HUNTER.

LEHI, Utah County,
February 7th, 1882.

To John W. Lowell, Esq.,

Dear Sir.—As our opinions have often been asked about the merits of the Agitator Threshing Machine we purchased from you last fall, we take pleasure in sending you the following as our experience with it. To answer the numerous inquiries, and perhaps others who would like to know, we recommend the following points of superiority over all other machines we are acquainted with—

1st.—Lightness of draft. Our team of five span of average native horses and mules, being fully equal to the work, and without crowding or hurrying them, they gave us all the speed and power we needed.

2nd.—Thorough threshing and cleaning, and that without extra effort on our part; such a thing as the sieves being crowded or clogged, or requiring the attendance of one person at the tail end of machine having never occurred or been needed.

3rd.—Lightness of wear. After having threshed 18000 bushels of grain, lucern seed, etc., the general wear on the machine being scarcely perceptible.

4th.—Lightness of running expenses. By comparing notes with our friends of other machines, we find ours have not exceeded half of theirs.

We also consider the capacity for threshing in quantity, superior to other makes of machines. Although the farms here are small, necessitating a great deal of moving, and often to distant points, yet we threshed as high as 800 bushels per day.

We also consider the Straw Stacker, End Shake, Elevator principle and many other points are all worthy of notice and examination of any and all persons who may contemplate purchasing a machine.

A. J. EVANS,
M. T. WOODHOUSE,
H. M. ROYAL,
M. B. BUSHMAN.

I have helped wear out four machines of other kinds, and I heartily endorse all of the foregoing points.

A. D. RHODES, Jr.

CEDAR CITY, March 18th, 1882.

Mr. J. W. Lowell.

We bought one of the J. I. Case 32 inch Agitator Threshers last year and consider it by far the best Thresher ever brought to this country. It runs very light, saves all the grain and is a very durable machine. We threshed grain at the rate 2½ bushels per minute.

Yours, etc.,
CORRY & HUNTER.

I also take the liberty to refer thresher men to the following reliable people who have purchased the Agitator Machines:
