

HUBBARD CHARGED WITH FOUR CRIME

Accused of Enticing Little Girls to His Room.

ARRESTED SATURDAY NIGHT

Locked Up in the City Jail, but Will be Sent to County Jail Today.

A most unexpected sensation was sprung Saturday evening in this city when Officers Sperry and Gillespie arrested W. E. Hubbard, the well known mining and real estate man, and locked him up in the city jail on the charge of a shocking crime.

It is alleged by the officers and Mrs. Sarah Lawler of the Beatty block, that Hubbard is guilty of criminally assaulting little Helen Knox, a 12-year-old girl.

According to the statement of Mrs. Lawler, who is proprietress of the house where Hubbard resides, there are other little girls who are his victims. The matter was reported to the police several days ago and Officers Sperry and Gillespie were detailed by Chief Hilton to work on the case.

Accordingly, they shadowed Hubbard day and night and waited for an opportunity to arrest him, which came Saturday night. The officers secured a room adjoining Hubbard's and after witnessing through a transom window the girl's entrance into the room, they entered and arrested him. When Mrs. Lawler first reported the matter to the police she said she had seen a number of children go up to Hubbard's room and on one occasion heard one of the little girls crying. She cited other evidence which, however, is unfit for publication.

Tuesday afternoon while the police were away Mrs. Lawler reported that the Knox girl was assaulted. She said that about 6 o'clock Hubbard appeared at the house accompanied by two little girls, one he left out in the hall and the Knox girl he took into his room. Mrs. Lawler hastened to find the officers, but when she returned, the man was gone.

The officers were stationed in the room Saturday afternoon when Hubbard put in an appearance, accompanied by the Knox child and a little 5-year-old girl named Mattie Thompson. The children went into Hubbard's room and the door was closed and locked. The officers were on a bureau in the next room and looking through the transom could see all that was going on. They say that Hubbard told the smaller child to leave the room when he mistreated the Knox girl. The officers say they did not witness an actual assault. Hubbard had covered one of the transoms with cloth as his suspicious had been aroused. He told the little girl to visit him again the next afternoon and he would give her an umbrella and a silver bracelet.

Just as Hubbard opened the door to permit the little girl to go out, the officers stepped into the room and placed him under arrest. Hubbard was taken completely by surprise and began to stammer that he had done nothing wrong.

"Shut up, you mongrel," Gillespie replied, "we have been watching the whole proceedings and know what you have been doing."

The officers said Hubbard asked how they knew what was going on, and when he learned that he had been watched for several days, he trembled so that he could scarcely walk to the police station.

Helen Knox, the child who was assaulted, lives with her widowed mother, Mrs. Perry R. Knox, at 235 south First west street. Recently she, Mrs. Knox, lost her husband and this additional loss has almost prostrated her. At the police station, Helen told the most shocking story. She said that one day last week she and Mattie Thompson were looking at some remarks in a window on First South when Hubbard came along and began talking to them. They say he followed them around and finally invited them to go to the sanitarium with him and they consented. When they left he told Helen if she would come to his room the next day he would give her a Kodak. She went to the room and claims she was then assaulted. Her story is corroborated by the Thompson child.

After his arrest Hubbard sent for Judge Powers and had a long conversation with him. He denied the assault charge against him and says he can prove his innocence. Beyond that, he refuses to talk. His bonds have been fixed at $500 and it is understood that an effort will be made this afternoon or tomorrow to secure his release from jail.

Since his arrest Hubbard has been in constant communication with his family but so far has been unable to secure bail, although he expects to do so soon. He appears to be perfectly cool and untroubled by little over the case, during the day time he is permitted to remain in the officers' quarters, where he is closely guarded, but at night is locked up in the woman's ward of the city jail.

This morning he turned over all his cash and a number of valuable papers to H. C. Hoffman, the real estate man. It is likely that Hubbard will be arraigned before Judge Timmony tomorrow afternoon; as yet no complaint has been filed against him and arrangements are being made to have him sent to the county jail this evening.

CHARGES PREFERRED.
Later this afternoon Hubbard was arraigned before Judge Timmony on two charges. The first charges him with rape upon Helen Knox. The complaint is sworn to by Officer Gillespie. Hubbard entered a plea of not guilty. The other complaint was sworn to by Judge Powers and Attorney Lippman were in court and acted for the county. Judge Timmony, however, fixed the bail at $5,000 in the first case and $3,000 in the other. Hubbard was committed to the county jail.

AFTER TOUGHS.

Four Toughs Arrested at the Point of Officers' Guns.

(Special to the "News.")
Ogden, Utah, April 15.—Detective Pender and Officer Brown, after a brisk struggle, arrested four men who gave the names of Dan Carroll, Joseph Smith, William Riley and John Knowles. Two of the men this morning entered the shoe store of S. L. Ives, while the other two kept watch outside. While the clerk was taking down some goods at their request the fellows seized an armful of shoes and departed. A lively race for over a mile was the result before the men were captured. The clerk, reinforced by the officers of the law and citizens, gave the fellows the warmest foot race they had

JUDGE RYDALCH DEAD.

Another Well Known Old Timer Passes Away—Aged 78 Years.

(Special to the "News.")

Granville, April 15.—At 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon Judge William C. Rydahl died at his residence in this city at the ripe age of 78 years. His funeral will take place from the Granville ward assembly rooms on Tuesday afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock.

Judge Rydahl was one of the pioneer settlers of Tooele county and one of the founders of Granville city. He was also one of her best known citizens and had numerous friends in every part of Utah. He had served Tooele county in numerous official positions, among his offices being those of county selectman and probate judge. His business was that of a farmer and raiser of cattle, horses and sheep. By birth he was an Englishman and had many friends in this city and elsewhere who will learn with regret of his passing away.

PEOPLE WHO ARE PASSING

The many friends of P. Emerson Glafcke, of Cheyenne, who represents J. P. Paulson of Denver and this city in the intermountain region, will be surprised to learn that he contemplates retiring the state of matrimony. This morning he looked out that the traveling man was engaged to Miss Elizabeth Loya Hilliard, a charming young school teacher of Evanston and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hilliard of Ogden. The circumstances surrounding the meeting of these two young people is said to have been of a very romantic nature and included a disposition on the part of the parents of the young lady to refuse to entertain the proposed union for a moment. This opposition, however, has been removed and it is said that the wedding will occur at an early date. Mr. Glafcke is well known in this and adjacent States as an inventor of no mean merit, a practical mining engineer and an expert in the art of the Phillips. In addition to being an Elk, Mr. Glafcke is a prominent member of Cheyenne society.

SUDDEN DEMISE

OF WM. CALDER.

Old and Respected Pioneer Passes Away Without Warning.

Attacked in the Night.

Was a Native of Scotland—Emigrated to Utah in the Early Fifties—A Faithful Police Officer.

Many Salt Lake people were both grieved and surprised today on learning that William Calder, one of the city's stalwart pioneers, died in a most sudden manner at his home, shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. He had always been pointed out as a fine specimen of physical manhood and when he retired last evening he was conscious of no ailment whatever. At about midnight he was aroused by a severe pain in his side. He called his wife and one of his sons who were in the house and they did all they could to ease the sufferer. Although they did not feel apprehensive, still they wanted to send for a physician but he would not permit it. His suffering, however, became more acute and in a short time he breathed his last. It was so sudden that the family was almost stunned for the time being.

For nearly fifty years William Calder has been one of the strong, sturdy citizens of this community and his untimely death has produced profound sorrow among his friends of whom there was a goodly host. Just the other day Bishop John R. Winder, who will be married to the daughter of President Cannon's funeral, was talking to Mr. Calder and intended to make him one of his aides at the funeral.

William Calder was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, on September 23, 1833, of a staunch Scotch race. He was baptized into the "Mormon" Church on March 16, 1848, and emigrated to Utah in the early fifties. The community soon found a place for his courage, by making him one of its peace officers. A capacity in which he faithfully served the public for many years. At the time of his death he was night watchman at the City and County building. He is generally regarded as one of the bravest and most efficient guards in Salt Lake. The peace of the city of Salt Lake ever had a man who was an unswerving Latter-day Saint and always held himself ready to serve his Church in any and every way for this far, and more contracts are in sight. Mr. Smith will leave here in May, and Bishop C. G. Hyde of Hyde Park, will succeed him as field man for the company.

JUDGE TIMMONY'S COURT.

W. G. Brown, a stenographer, would only admit that he was under the influence and was not really drunk. It being his first offense, he was released.

C. West was charged with having used obscene and abusive language to Officer Jim Williams and Officer Higgins. It appears that West was laying some stone on Commercial street and was cursing considerably, when the officers cautioned him to desist. West became angry at this, and proceeded to curse them. Then they placed him under arrest. West emphatically denied using bad language, and said the officers were the officers who swore, and he wanted to know if he could not have Williams arrested. His answer was a fine of $10.

An individual who was booked as "No Name," but who proved to be E. W. Walk, pleaded guilty to being drunk and he was fined $5.

John Patton, Albert Draker, Chas. Selby, Wallace Miles, Evan Morgan and J. P. Allred were fined $5 each for drunkenness.

Allred was also accused of assault and battery upon the person of Wallace Miles. Allred pleaded guilty. The case is a shocking one in the extreme. It appears that Miles was in jail when Allred was brought in, and he at once proceeded to beat Miles, who is a cripple. Miles defended himself as best he could, but Allred threw him down and bit his hands and face in a horrible manner. Miles cried for help and the jailer, a man named L. L. L. like a mad dog and tore the flesh from the unfortunate man's leg. The other prisoners were aroused by the noise and rushed to the assistance of Miles. Allred was fined $40.

THE BOOK OF MORMON.

Schroeder's Essay on That Work Discussed by Ministers Today.

The Salt Lake Ministerial association met this morning in the Y. M. C. A. parlors and held their regular weekly meeting. A paper was read by Rev. H. H. McCreary, pastor-at-large, Utah Presbytery. The subject was a review of Schroeder's "Essay on the Book of Mormon." The general idea throughout the review as well as the essay was that the Book of Mormon is simply the result of some one's good imagination and that it is pure invention. The review was received with indifferent interest and no discussion.

A collection of $15 was raised by the ministers for the purpose of assisting the Y. M. C. A. to newly carpet the parlors of the association.

CITY ENGINEER WORSE.

Mr. Kelsey's Condition This Afternoon Was Not Reassuring.

City Engineer Kelsey's condition was rather worse when a "News" reporter called at his home this afternoon. Mrs. Kelsey attributes the relapse to the excitement of receiving several visitors Sunday afternoon which she believes was hazardous to Mr. Kelsey's nervous condition.

Ever since Friday night the city engineer has been in a state of complete nervous collapse. This condition has been coming on Mr. Kelsey for several months, and is largely attributable to his painstaking and conscientious work for the city which has kept him at his desk practically day and night. Mr. Kelsey has been under Dr. Beatty's care for some time past, and it was against the doctor's advice that he attended the meeting of the council last Friday night when the new form of contract and specifications for public work was adopted which completely shuts out the engineer from consultation as to all public contracts. When Mr. Kelsey returned home that night he seemed utterly exhausted and about 2:30 in the morning woke up with a severe pain at the base of his brain. Shortly afterwards he lapsed into unconsciousness and remained in a semicomatose condition till 6 o'clock in the evening. Dr. Beatty says that his patient will have to take a complete rest for a month or so, and would be better to have a change of scene and climate.

DROPPED DEAD.

Oscar Williams of Ogden Dies Suddenly at Green River.

Ogden, April 15.—Word has been received in this city of the sudden death of Oscar Williams, the well known tinsmith and cornice maker. Mr. Williams dropped dead suddenly at Green River, Wyoming, yesterday afternoon while working on a contract for cornice work for a building there. The cause of his death is said to be heart trouble. He ceased to be thirty-five years of age and leaves a wife and several children to mourn his death. Mr. Williams was numbered among the foremost and respected citizens of Ogden. The remains will arrive in this city this afternoon.

WHO IS JAMES C. WILSON?

Resident of Salt Lake Killed in Ohio This Morning.

Chief of Police Hilton this morning received the following dispatch which had originally been sent to David Keith, care of the First National bank, Park City.

Youngstown, Ohio—James C. Wilson killed here this morning. Claims to know you. Age about fifty; height five feet ten or eleven inches; red mustache hangs over mouth; claims to have family and property in Salt Lake. Can you give address and information concerning body?

NATIONAL STEEL CO., Ohio Works.

Up to a late hour this afternoon, the relatives of the dead man had not been located in this city. Diligent inquiry was made of the police force and the "News" reporters failed to find anyone who was acquainted with James C. Wilson during his supposed residence in this State. The man does not appear in the city directory and as Mr. Keith is at the present time on a vacation in Europe, no information regarding the gentleman can be gleaned from that source.

THE M'CONAHAY SVER CUP.

Beautiful Prize Given to L. D. S. College Girls This Morning.

TOKEN OF CHAMPIONSHIP.

E. B. Phippen Makes Presentation—College Trip to Prove on Saturday Next, for Athletic Contests.

This morning, Mr. Phippen, in behalf of the State league, visited the L. D. S. College, and was present at the general meeting at 10 a. m. in the new college assembly hall. Nearly all the students and teachers were present.

The school sang "America," under the direction of Prof. Giles. One of the students, Mr. Dennis White, then offered the devotional prayer. President Paul announced that the presentation of the Athletic League silver cup, in token of the State championship, would now be made by Mr. E. B. Phippen, secretary of the association, to the college girls' basketball team.

The M'Conahay cup is a beautiful silver urn, gold lined, nine inches in height and six inches in circumference. The two handles and base are very artistically engraved. On one side of the cup in a handsomely carved wreath the following is engraved: "The M'Conahay Cup." On the opposite side this inscription appears:

"Girls' Basketball League of Salt Lake High Rippetoe Pres. E. B. Phippen Sec. Championship 1901."

Won by L. D. S. College. Edna Worthen, Capt. Florence Ashton, Emma Morris, Emma Frewin, Rosa Hicks, Vida Fox, Zeta Haas, Florence Lloyd, Freeman P. Bassett, Coach.

Mr. Phippen took the stand and said: "Friends and students of the L. D. S. College. A very pleasant duty falls to my lot this morning, a duty that it is a pleasure to perform because it is that of a rewarding merit. In presenting this beautiful cup to the girls' basketball team of this college, I do so knowing full well that they have won it honestly and fairly. It is equally true that had they not practiced as diligently or given their coach such strict attention, the playing of their match games on their own grounds would not have counted for much in the end. 'Practice makes perfect' and 'keeping everlastingly at it brings success' seems to have been their motto. They realize that success does not come to the sluggard or the indifferent. They know that no task is accomplished by sitting down and hoping, longer and dreaming that it is done, but that to be up and doing, one and all, is the only way to its accomplishment. Realizing this, each girl put her shoulder to the wheel and worked for success. The result of this united effort has made possible our meeting this morning. I wish to compliment the girls on an occasion for which they have all earned the right to respond to every call made upon them by Mr. Bassett, their coach."

"I also wish to compliment them on the patience and good will they have shown in attending the daily practices which they had to attend in order to make perfect their playing. Meeting day after day and going over and over again the same old things is not much pleasure, but it seems the girls weren't in for pleasure; they were in to win the championship and the beautiful trophy, and win it they did; but it was only hard work and diligent and painstaking practices on the part of each player that won the trophy."

"The girls have shown what they are capable of doing and let us hope they will always show that same spirit. If ever they strike any thing that seems like it can not be accomplished, let this poet in the following little poem say:

KEEP A-GOIN'!

If you strike a thorn or rose,

Keep a-go!

If it hurts or if it stings,

Keep a-go!

Taint no use to set and whine

When the fish ain't on your line;

Bait your hook, keep on tryin',

Keep a-go!

When the weather kills your crop,

Keep a-go!

When you tumble from the top,

Keep a-go!

'Spose you're out o' every dime!

Spoke the words, and you're in a crime!

Tell the world your feelin' prime!

Keep a-go!

When it looks like all is up,

Keep a-go!

Drain the sweetness from the cup,

Keep a-go!

See the wild birds on the wing!

How the bells that sweetly ring!

When you feel like singin', sing,

Keep a-go!

Mr. Phippen's speech was followed by prolonged applause.

Miss Edna Worthen, in behalf of the team, accepted with thanks the beautiful trophy, and said that the girls' basketball team regarded the prize as a great honor, and would endeavor to defend it in a manner that would be worthy of the institution which they were proud to represent.

On motion of Mr. John Asth, president of the Athletic association, a vote of thanks was unanimously tendered by the students of the L. D. S. to Mr. William M'Conahay for his generous gift of the beautiful silver cup presented to the girls' basketball team, champion of the Girls' Basketball League of Salt Lake.

The school then sang the college song, "Our Alma Mater 'tis for thee our voices now we raise. Let every tongue be bold and free. In truth to sing thy praise," etc. It was announced that on Saturday next the college Athletic association would take a trip to Provo, to meet the various athletic teams of the B. Y. academy there, in a series of inter-collegiate contests, consisting of basketball, foot race, jumping, weight throwing, etc.

The train will leave the R. G. W. depot at 8:45 a. m. next Saturday morning, and will return to Salt Lake City at midnight. But there are several earlier trains. One will leave Provo at 4:30 in the afternoon, and one other later than the regular train.

All friends of the college are invited to go to Provo on this occasion. A fine series of games is assured, and the excursion will be a delightful one.
