Local and Other Matters.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, NOV. 26.

Potatoes.—That potatoes have eyes, even an Irishman will concede; and that this is the season when they begin "looking up," all will agree who notice the loads that are now on the market.

"Lightning" Changes.—The Western Union Telegraph Office removed, yesterday, from the Trowbridge building to its new quarters, next door to the Herald office. We congratulate our co-temporary on the change. Take in your kite strings.

The Ontario.—It is reported that work at the Ontario mine, which was so seriously damaged by fire some time ago, will resume tomorrow. The pumps are actively engaged in emptying the mine of water which, at the time they began, had nearly reached the 100 foot level.

Beauties of Punctuation.—New Haven has the girl of the "Boston Post." "Albany has her."—Albany Argus. "You ought to go and see her family."—New York Herald. "What for?"—her? (Note by the compositor: The character used by our insane paragraphist is a two-em brace.)—Ogden Junction, cal idea.

"Junction" Items.—Ogden is the "centripetal point."

Mrs. Siddons will appear at the "centripetal," to-morrow evening. The notorious Denis Kearney arrived there Sunday evening, on his way to California.

On Monday next the Junction will appear as a morning paper. Let the world rejoice.

To the Ladies.—Prof. Ed. Adolph, a Russian expert in the art of cutting and fitting, is in this city and will give instructions to ladies, on very reasonable terms. For particulars, see his advertisement. The gentleman comes very highly recommended, by press notices, and is endorsed by several ladies of Ogden City, who have learned his system. His office is at the residence of Mrs. E. Hawkins, two doors west of the Juvenile Instructor office.

Police Court.—George McDonald, attorney at law, arrested for vagrancy, was fined $30.

Nephi Corbit, John Tillet and Fred. Whooton, arrested for stealing chickens, were temporarily released last evening, on promise to reappear at 10 o'clock to-day. Young Corbit came at 2 p.m., but his confederates have not put in an appearance. A warrant is out for the arrest of the absentees and the case will come up to-morrow at 10 a.m.

District Court.—Tuesday, Nov. 26.

People, etc., vs. Geo. W. Beck; defendant arraigned and given one day to plead.

Isaacs vs. Barnes; defendant given six days additional time in which to answer.

People, etc., vs. Gus Le Bore; motion to dismiss indictment allowed, and defendant held to await the action of the grand jury.

People, etc., vs. J. H. Nounnan; jury trial in progress.

House That Jack Built.—Brother Walter Reynolds, janitor of the Council House, showed us, today, a unique specimen of his handiwork in wood. It is after the pattern of an English villa, and though but three feet high, a little over two feet long, and 16 inches in width, it is a most cunning imitation. It has two stories, with two rooms on each floor, doors, windows, stair-way, hall, portico, bay window and a shingled roof surmounted by two chimneys and an observatory. The front has a picket fence intended to enclose a garden. When painted and furnished it will make a beautiful and substantial toy. Bro. Reynolds has been engaged upon it about two months, during his spare moments. The person for whom he made it not being able to purchase it now, the maker will part with it for ten dollars, which all things considered, is a cheap valuation. It will probably be exhibited in one of the Main Street show windows on Christmas.

The New Tabernacle.—This morning, in company with Superintendent Henry Grow, we paid a visit to the New Tabernacle. The outside is approaching completion, and already presents a fine and imposing appearance. The structure is 116 feet in length, by 64 feet in width, exclusive of four recesses of Street, one at each of the four main entrances, and when finished, will measure from the ground to the summit of the central tower, 110 feet. The walls are built almost entirely of granite, most of which is the refuse from the rock used in the Temple. The monotony of the surface is relieved by 13 pilasters, between which are placed at regular and convenient intervals, 46 windows of various shapes and sizes. The building has four gables, above the four main entrances, facing the cardinal points of the compass, and is covered with a slate colored roof, around the edge of which is an ornamental balustrade that adds much to the general appearance of the edifice.

Work on the interior has not yet commenced. The projected height from the floor to the ceiling, which is angular, and rises from the walls 6 feet to the centre, is 32 feet. A gallery extends entirely around, and like the ground floor, beneath, runs from west to east with an ascent of four feet. The seating capacity of the interior is estimated at 3,000. The west end of the gallery will be used by the choir, the organ occupying the recess behind, while a vestry will be placed in the recess beneath the gallery. The pulpits are to be erected in front of the choir, as in the large Tabernacle. Two heaters will be placed in the basement at the west end, to warm the building and render it serviceable at all seasons of the year. The work will continue during the winter, and if the necessary means are forthcoming will be pushed steadily forward to completion in the spring.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, NOV. 27.

Accident.—We learn from Bro. J. A. Reese, of Grantsville, that W. C. Rydall, Esq., of that place, the other day, met with a severe accident. He was on his way home from Cottonwood, when, by his horses running away, two of his ribs and the collar bone were broken. Further particulars unknown.

Y. M. M. I. A.—We learn from a correspondent at Joseph, Sevier County, that the Y. M. M. I. A. of that place, was organized on the 17th inst., with the following as officers: President, James H. Wells; Counselors, Jno. W. Ross and Osborn B. Cooley; Secretary, Robert E. Lainsbury; Treasurer, Jas. L. Harmon.

A New Engineer.—This morning, at the witching hour of twenty minutes to 2 o'clock, the household of our worthy friend, Engineer Judson, were roused from their slumbers by the startling intelligence that a strange young man was in the house. The family were quite delighted, however, and welcomed the youngster like an old acquaintance. Ben's "Thanksgiving" will be a hearty one. Long life to the baby!

District Court.—Wednesday morning, November 27.

People, etc., vs. Thomas O'Neil, indicted for burglary; jury trial in progress.

The New Organ.—In our description of the New Tabernacle, yesterday, we admitted mentioning the organ which is being made to occupy the recess in the gallery at the west extreme of the building. It will have a frontage of 17 or 18 feet, the longest pipes being about 16 feet. A few parts of the organ that was in the Old Tabernacle are being used in its construction, but as it is being enlarged, with additional pipes, bellows, stops, etc., it can really be called a new organ.

Police Court.—Wednesday, Nov. 27.

Joseph Braithwaite, for disturbing the peace, and assault and battery on his wife, was fined $75.

Nephi Corbit, Fred. Whooton, John Renshaw and John Tillet, small boys, arrested for stealing chickens, were fined for that offence, the first three $10 each, the last $5.

Diphtheria.—Elsewhere we print through the courtesy of Bro. Chas. Smith, of Z. C. M. I., an article on diphtheria, a disease which is committing great ravages in this city, as well as other parts of the United States. Bro. Judson, who has had great experience in the treatment of this disease says he has used it with great benefit, but recommends that in cases of diphtheritic croup, or of cough of any kind, in complication with diphtheria, the substitution of apis mellifica for belladonna, in the same quantities and manner of administration.

"The House We Live In."—A very good audience listened to Mrs. Ferguson's lecture, last evening, paying the most profound attention throughout. The Doctor showed that she was not only familiar with the subject she had chosen, but knew how to present it to her hearers in an interesting and instructive manner. The science of physiology is one with which everybody should become acquainted, treating, as it does, of the earthly tabernacles we inhabit, a correct knowledge of whose laws and operations is necessary to the health and happiness of human beings. Mrs. Ferguson's advice to the young on the proper care of their health and the avoidance of all intoxicating drinks, tobacco, tea, and other stimulants and poisons, was most valuable. We trust we may hear from the lady again shortly, for all who pay attention to her lectures cannot but be benefited by their study.

Scalded Fatally.—We learn from S. C. Toole's correspondent, of the fatal termination of an accident that befel a little daughter of Bro. A. C. Shields, of Lake View, on Saturday, the 23 inst.

The little girl, a child about two years, had been playing around the house, and in the absence of its mother, ran to the stove and pulled over a cup, the hot contents of which came over it, and before help could prevent, the little thing was so badly scalded that it was found dead next morn. It lingered in pain until Monday morning, when death released it from its sufferings. Bro. Shields has a family of 14, and this is the only accident that has happened to any of them. The family have the sympathy of all the charitable.

From the same source we learn that the Y. M. M. I. Association of Tooele has been lately re-organized with the following new list of officials: President, Jno. A. Bevan; Counsellors, Charles H. Wright and William C. Rowberry; Secretary, Jno. W. Late.

From New Mexico.—This morning, we received a call from Brother W. A. Peirce, formerly of Springville, who, for nearly three years, has been a resident of New Mexico. In company with a few others, he reached the Animas River early in the spring of 1876, and remained there about 5 months, when he removed farther south, and with others, founded the settlement of Riverside, near the junction of the San Juan and Animas Rivers. The facilities of the country he describes as excellent. Stone coal, timber, and water are abundant, the soil is productive and adapted to almost every growth, the climate very mild, and the Indians, the line of whose reservation is within eight miles of Riverside, very friendly. A specimen of the corn raised there, he brought with him, it compares favorably with that raised in Utah. Excellent opportunities are offered to good, steady young men, desiring to locate, and find themselves comfortable homes. All such will be welcome. Brother Peirce is up to Salt Lake on business, and will probably remain in Utah until spring, when he will return to New Mexico.

City Council.—Meeting of the City Council, Tuesday evening, Nov. 26, 1878, Alderman Sharp presiding:

A petition was received from a number of residents of the Sixth Ward, protesting against the establishment of a skating rink on the south block of the old adobe yard, for the reason that the land thereabouts is already so low that crops cannot be planted until five weeks later than in other places, and asking, instead, that a ditch be dug to drain the water off. The petition was received and referred to the committee on public grounds.

A petition was received from Martin H. Peck, representing that in 1876 he was appointed sealer of weights for the city, and having no weights at the time, he had borrowed those used by his predecessor and as the person from whom he had borrowed them, is about to leave the city, Mr. Peck asked the Council to purchase the weights from the owner, as well as some purchased by the petitioner. Referred to the committee on claims.

The committee to whom was referred the petition of D. H. Wells, for asking the refunding of money paid by him for digging a trench, reported that the petitioner had volunteered to perform the work, considering that the expense of digging the trench would be more than compensated by the benefit done to his premises; the committee, therefore, recommended that the prayer be not granted. The report was adopted.

The committee to whom was referred the petition of C. W. Bennett, and others, asking for the privilege of renting the west half of Washington Square for one year, reported recommending that the ground be rented on the same conditions as those of the preceding year. The report and recommendations were adopted.

An appropriation of $10,000 was made to bills payable account to take up corporation notes and $139 for interest on the same.

An appropriation of $568.91 was also made to pay for water pipes.

An appropriation of $2,000 was made to the water works' contingent fund.

A resolution was adopted, giving to all citizens the privilege of erecting carriage steps or platforms in front of their places of business or residences, under certain restrictions, the steps to be built to the acceptance of the city marshal.

The committee on claims reported unfavorably on the petition of Mr. Phillip Margetts, asking remuneration for damages to the value of his property, on Jordan Street; the committee considering that the petitioner had no just claim on the city, for damages. The report was then adopted. A motion was then made and carried, referring the matter of grading Jordan Street, where it has been damaged by citizens hauling away gravel, to the committee on streets and alleys, in connection with the street supervisor.

Collector Winder made another report of the progress made by him in enforcing the provisions of the revenue law regarding the collection of taxes, and asked if the Council had any suggestions to offer him. It was understood as the sense of the Council, that the Collector should be maintained and supported in his labors, and that he should prosecute them as he had done, there being nothing else left for him to do under the law.

Dr. S. B. Young made a verba communication to the Council, in which he asked if the Council had any recommendations to offer regarding precautionary measures against the spread of diphtheria. He was instructed as an officer of the city to publish such suggestions as he deemed proper to adopt in the matter.

Council adjourned till next Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock.

Chicken Stealing.—The season again approaches in which this evil and petty practice becomes most prevalent. Wednesday, four small boys were brought before Justice Pyper on a charge of stealing some fowls, and on substantial evidence being adduced, confessed their guilt and were fined for the offense. So far so good; but the matter does not end here. If something else is not done to correct these vicious proclivities, the same boys will very likely be arrested soon for similar and grosser outrages, nor will any amount of fining have the effect of staying the evil. Something else is necessary. It is the parents of these boys who must pay their fines; it is the parents that should correct these growing propensities for evil; or it will be the parents who in the future will shed tears of sorrow and regret for their criminal negligence in this important matter. Not only do some fathers and mothers fail to teach their children righteous principles, but actually encourage them in the wilful violation of law and morality. For instance; in the Police Court on Wednesday, the mother of one of the culprits referred to, endeavored to shield her son from blame, and avoid the penalty of a fine inflicted by the justice of the peace. The child confessed to having stolen the chickens, but the mother maintained stoutly that he had not done so. "because he had always been taught better." If parents act in this manner, and through foolish fondness, attempt to screen their offspring from due punishment, they need not be surprised if their children continue from bad to worse, until in the prime of life, they become the inmates of the penitentiary, or exiate on the gallows the commission of some terrible crime.

Home is the place to teach, and if necessary, to punish; but, parents and guardians, when your teachings and corrections have failed, and your children have been found guilty of some breach of civil propriety, and brought before the proper authorities to receive the due penalty of their wrong doings, as you value their happiness and your own, in time or eternity, beware how you interpose one word or act to defeat the ends of justice, thereby becoming the aiders and abettors of crime and infamy. If you are indeed friends to your children and love them truly, do all you can to assist in bringing them to justice, and they will, in after years bless you for your seeming severity and your sound and righteous principle.

BORN.

November 27th, to the wife of Benjamin Judson, of the 10th Ward, a son; mother and child doing well.

DIED.

In the 4th Ward of this city, Nov. 30th, 1878, of diphtheria, LOUISA H., daughter of James and Martha Needham, aged 7 years, 3 months and 15 days.
