L. B. MATTHEWSON, Blue Front, near Seaview Hall, d.w. 11

Like the Fortune Teller from beds of flowers in the breath that has been rendered agreeably odorous with SOZODONT, which communicates to the teeth a marble whiteness, and to the gums a rosy tint. Use it, and beautify your mouth.

Travelers often wonder why their fellow travelers are so loud in their praise of the Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, but, after a visit themselves, they are satisfied of its famous excellence.

GILLET'S EXTRACTS. The best in use.

NO DISCOVERY IN MEDICAL CHEMISTRY has been productive of such benefit to the human race as GILLET'S SULPHUR SOAP. All local diseases of the skin are speedily eradicated by it and it is at once the best and most inexpensive clarifier and emollient of the complexion in use. With a box of this Soap, which only costs 50 cents, all the advantages of a series of sulphur baths, which cannot be enjoyed without incurring considerable expense, are secured. Nothing opens the pores so effectively and no adjunct of the bath so happily combines the properties of a specific with those of a toilet article. All cutaneous defects are obviated by its use and it invariably mitigates rheumatic pain. Sold by all druggists.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Wanted.—Edward Draper, who lately arrived in this city, is a coach and general blacksmith, a most excellent and experienced workman. He would like to get employment. He can be heard of at the office of Bishop Edward Hunter.

From the East.—We received a pleasant call, this morning, from Mr. R. L. Pihlman, of New York, a scientific gentleman, making a two days' visit to Salt Lake, on his way to San Francisco. He intends leaving for the west to-morrow, and after a sojourn for pleasure on the Pacific coast, will return to New York by way of Panama.

Provo Mortuary.—The following is the sexton's report of Provo City for the half year ending June, 1878, as published in the Examiner:

Neuritis on the brain, 1; dropsy, 1; cancer, 1; cholera, 1; Whooping cough, 4; diphtheria, 1; lung fever, 4; inflammation of the kidneys, 2; inflammation of the lungs, 4; immediately after birth, 1; convulsions, 1; inflammation of windpipe, 1; old age, 1; pneumonia, 1; paralytic stroke, 1; scarlet fever, 1; still born, 1—total 30. Males, 15; Females, 15. Two of the above were brought from other settlements.

JOHN GRILES, Sexton.

Child Drowned.—We learn from Brother Briggs, of Bonanza, that a son of Brother William Ashdown, about eight years old, was drowned, while bathing, in a sawmill pond, at that place, on the 4th of July. Deceased is said to have been a fine boy, of good disposition. A little over a week previous to his death, he was, at his own request, baptized and confirmed a member of the Church.

A Coroner's inquest was held over the remains, and a verdict of accidental drowning rendered, in accordance with the facts.

Cricket Match.—To vary the monotony of base ball contests, which, for some time, have monopolized the interest of the sporting public, a match game of cricket is to be played on Washington Square, Monday the 15th inst., between the Salt Lake eleven and an eleven selected from Ogden and the northern settlements. This will be followed, shortly, by a match between the clubs of Ogden and Salt Lake, for the championship of the Territory. A practice game is being played to-day, and another on Friday afternoon, when it is expected the cricketers will turn out in force, to exercise for the coming trial of skill.

The Firemen's Holiday.—The gala day at Fuller's Hill, yesterday, was a success. From the time the united companies of Salt Lake and Ogden Firemen and musicians, with the multitude of pleasure-seekers who followed them, arrived at the gardens, mirth and enjoyment ruled. At eight o'clock in the evening, the firemen formed opposite the engine house on First South street, and, preceded by the brass band, commenced their torch light procession. They presented an imposing and beautiful appearance. After parading the streets to the inspiring strains of music, for some time, they again marched to Fuller's Hill, followed by crowds of people on their way to the same place, where it was determined to institute and hereafter observe the 15th of July in every year as the Firemen's holiday.

Died on the Way.—We learn, by telegram from New York, that, yesterday, the body of Elder Joseph E. Hyde, who died of consumption on the 3rd inst., while crossing the Atlantic, arrived at that port, in charge of Elder Lorenzo D. Young, who is returning from his mission to Europe. The dispatch states that Elder Hyde applied for and was granted permission, by the board of health, to transmit the corpse, by way of the Pennsylvania Railroad, to Logan, Utah, for burial.

Elder Hyde had been on a mission to England also, and was returning, in company with Elder Young, when he succumbed to disease and passed away. He was an exemplary young man, devoted to the interests of the work of the Lord. He resided for a considerable time at Logan, Cache County, where his family are now living. Elder Hyde was formerly a member of the Salt Lake City Deseret Association, and performed at the Theatre.

From the Southern Mission.—Elder Joseph Standing writes from Cassandra, Georgia, that the cause of the gospel is progressing favorably in that quarter, the meetings of the Elders being well attended, and notwithstanding the efforts of their enemies, the heretofore unconverted Northern and South Methodist, joining their influence against the "Common Mormon enemy," many honest-hearted people were being found who were willing to hear, before they condemned, the truth.

The rains in this region were firm in the fall, and prospects encouraging for an increase of their number.

The wheat yield of the country was very poor, the average, realizing about four to five bushels to the acre. In one instance, a man had sown 12 bushels of grain and harvested 13. The Christians, however, would not be deterred by this, and dried peaches 20 and 25 cents per pound; beans, 4 and 5 cents per pound; and corn 10 cents per bushel.

Inducement to Settlers.—Bro. W. W. Danson writes from Deseret, Beaver County, some items of news that are important to all persons out of employment, desiring to locate themselves advantageously, and possess homes of their own. He says:

"There is room here for a hundred more settlers, to locate and obtain land, either by homestead or pre-emption. We have an almost unlimited supply of water, for irrigation. The land is probably more fertile than any other body of agricultural land, equally large, in the Territory. Lumber is plentiful, and is delivered in the settlement at $40.00 per thousand. All that we lack to make the largest settlement in Southern Utah, is laborers to develop the resources of the country. Those who come here will, of course, have to endure the hardships, and, if they are successful, perform the labor that are incident to the development of a new place, but a few years will surely bring the reward of independent competence. We have erected a good meeting-house, and missionaries who have visited us, say our meetings are more largely attended, in proportion to our population, than the meetings of any other settlement in this country.

Our Sunday school is largely attended. Our Mutual Improvement Association and Relief Society are very popular institutions. We are just making arrangements for the establishment of a circulating library, and do not mean to be behind our neighbors in anything that tends to material or spiritual progress.

To the working men of the cities, to the farmers who are trying to make a little twenty acre patch sustain a family of boys, who could readily do the work of a hundred acres, we say: Come and see the agricultural facilities, lying unused here, awaiting the hand of labor. As an evidence of the productivity of the soil, I will mention a case that, in many places, would be considered extraordinary farming. On the 3rd day of June, last year, Brother Arthur John Henry, of this place, sowed with barley, and immediately irrigated, a piece of land, from which he afterwards thrashed seventy-five bushels of grain per acre.

"Up to the present time, freighters to the mines have furnished us a home market for all our surplus produce.

The Fourth was celebrated here in a very patriotic and enjoyable manner. It reminded me of a Utah celebration of twenty years ago. No drunkenness, no fighting, none of those lately-imported concomitants of civilization, that sometimes disgrace the national holiday, in a manner that would bring a blush of shame to the cheeks of the Fathers of American Independence, were they still living, to behold the unworthy acts that sometimes appear to be regarded as essential in the commemoration of their heroism."

A Northern Trip.—Bishops R. T. Burton and E. F. Sheets have just returned from a trip through northern Utah and a portion of Idaho. They left the city on July 1st, and at Logan, were joined by Counselor Fredrickson. They proceeded to Bear Lake Valley, via Logan Canon, where they visited the Temple sawmill, which is one of the best in Utah. An agreeable feature connected with the mill machinery is, that it is of home manufacture, having been made at the Logan co-operative shop. The little party proceeded to Meadowville and thence to St. Charles, arriving at the latter place in time to attend the funeral services of the son of President Charles C. Rich, who was accidentally killed on the 3rd. They visited the Church herds in Nounan Valley, finding them in good condition. While there they took pleasure in examining the co-operative dairy, a thriving factory, in which is produced 350 pounds of cheese daily. There is another of the same description and capacity, near Liberty, under the superintendency of Brother J. U. Stucki. They also visited the factory of President Rich, where Swiss cheese is made exclusively. The next point visited was Long Island, in the north end of Bear Lake, where it is intended to winter the Church stock.

The hay yield throughout the valley will not exceed half a crop this season, but the crops of grain and vegetables will be far in excess of any harvest since the settlement of that part of the country.

Last Sunday was spent by the party at Paris, and on Monday the other Church herds at Blacksmith's Fork, was visited. The stock are in fine condition there, notwithstanding that grass is very dry, and the mountain springs were never known to be so meagre.

The general crops in Cache are also excellent, with the exception of hay, which is light there as well as farther north.

The people in the north country are feeling well and affairs generally are very prosperous.

A Pioneer Conductor Goes.—The St. Louis papers announce the death of Captain Hiram Darby, in that city, on the 3rd inst., at the ripe age of 72 years. Capt. Darby was a resident of St. Louis for 50 years, one of the first conductors on the Missouri Pacific Railroad, and thought not acting in that capacity for several years past, on account of his age, such was the high esteem in which he was held by the company that, although in independent circumstances, his salary of $100 per month was allowed him to the day of his death—a most unusual occurrence in the history of railroad corporations. He was the father of Mrs. J. D. Lomax, of this city, and brother of the Hon. John F. Darby, ex-member of Congress from St. Louis district and now the oldest member of the bar of that city.

Another Change.—We understand another change has occurred in the publication of Deseret. Brother John Brun, who has been conducting the editorial department, and Brother A. Jensen, who has been acting as business agent, have retired from those positions, the paper and its entire management being turned over to its original publisher, Brother A. W. Whitaker. Since this last change, Brother Jensen has taken the position of assistant to Brother Winberg.

District Court.—Thursday, July 11th, 1878.

Theresa Lindbeck, murder, 1st trial in progress.

CLEANING BLACK SKIN.—One of the things "not generally known," at least in this country, is the Persian method of cleaning black skin; the modern operators in every simple and the result infinitely superior to that achieved in any other manner. The skin must be thoroughly brushed and wiped with a cloth, then laid flat on a board or table and sponged well with hot coffee, thoroughly freed from sediment by being strained through muslin. The skin is sponged on the side intended to show, it is allowed to become partially dry and then ironed on the wrong side. The coffee removes every particle of grease and restores the brilliancy of the skin without imparting to it either the shiny appearance or crackling and papery stiffness obtained by beer, or indeed any other liquid. The skin really appears thickened by the process, and this good effect is permanent. Our readers who will experiment on an apron or cravat, will never again try any other method.

THE ANSWER.—"O, why was I born?" said her "sway did they yank me by the hair of eternal nothingness into concrete existence, to buffet the storms of this rude world, with no postponement on account of the liquid. Why, then, is this problem of human destiny with which science has impotently wrestled for so many centuries? But she told him, all the same, that there was no ball for him that afternoon; and, if he didn't get the kindling-wood split before his father came home, there would be some wrestling that would make science open her eyes when she struck the wood-shed.
