There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition. The cure of this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. MASS MEETING HELD

By Young People's Christian Union in Presbyterian Church.

The Young People's Christian union the First Presbyterian church, with Revs. Brown, Young, Paden and Simpkin as the speakers. The topic was "The Relation of Young People to the Church," and a service of song was held 15 minutes prior to the main ser-vice, with Prof. Mabel Jones of the vice, with Prof. Mabel Jones of the high school at the plano.

Rev. D. A. Brown of the First Baptist church said he had been inspired by a passage in "The Winning of the West," by President Roosevelt in which reference is made to the work of the priests in the early French settlements about th Great Lake region. In the passage referred to it was said that these priests lived with and became a part of the people and in this that these priests lived with and became a part of the people and in this way the matter seemed to evolve itself into the proposition as treated in the Corinthians in which the church is referred to as being not unlike the human body. "As is the body one and has many members, so is the church."

Unity is the solution for the problem at hand to make the church strong and prosperous. It is the duty of the young people to labor to this end. Religion is the redemption of all things from the abnormal to a normal state. He said that it was the mission of the church to bring society, so-called, to church to bring society, so-called, to the plane of the true social life as in-tended. This means that it must be brought from its present abnormal state to the normal condition as ex-state to the normal condition as expressed in the teachings of the Christ.

Rev. Benjamin Young said it lay with the young people to understand the teachings and to get near to their teacher and then to go forth doing his work. He urged a passage which once came to his notice to the effect that as a gentleman is the perfection of a man so is a Christian the perfect. of a man, so is a Christian the perfec-tion of a gentleman. This rule prop-erly applied to the daily life of the oung people, would result in the ac-complishment of the end sought. Rev. W. M. Paden reviewed the difficulties which confronted the pioneers of Christianity and held up to their notice the advantages that are everywhere afforded soldiers of the cross of the present day. To take advantage of these things would mean the up-building of the church and the king-dom of God on earth. As the results of the olden times were shining with the luster of deeds of consequence well done and accomplishd under great difficulty that the work of today with all the advantages at hand should be the greater. Dr. Paden spoke also very feelingly of Mr. Sorenson, who was killed at Murray by a switch engine the week previous during the great gale. The deceased was a regular at-tendant at the services of the First Presbytrian church, and a man of high character and very much re-high character and very much respected.

Rev. P. A. Simpkin closed with a few remarks on the topic, and the meeting was dismissed at 7 o'clock, so that the members of other congregations could have plenty of time to reach their own houses of worship. The lights went out during the service, so that for about 29 minutes the meeting was continued in the dark tinued in the dark.

CALL FROM BURGLARS.

Discovered Robbing a House and Jumped Through Window.

When Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Madsen, who reside at 657 cast First South street, returned home last evening, after a short bsence, they found the upper part of their house lighted. Surmising that burglars were at work, Mr. Madsen went around to the rear for the purpose of entering and telephoning the police. Meanwhile, Mrs. Madsen stood in front of the house, and before her husband could gain entrance, a large plate win dow glass was shattered immediately above her head and out sprang one of the burglars, who landed squarely upo his feet and ran. His companion made the same sort of egress, but was not so successful, as he fell, almost at Mrs. Madsen's feet. He, too, made his escaps, closely followed for some distance by Mrs. Madsen and a number of others, who had been attracted by her screams for help. Upon investigation, it was found that the thieves had gained entrance to the house through a rear window, which had been pried open with a "Jimmy." Some of the rooms had been pretty thoroughly ransacked, but the only articles known to have been carried away were two pairs of opera glasses, a valuable gold watch and a child's safe, containing 10 or 29 dollars. Officers were at the scene of the robbery soon after the mater was reported, but no trace of the men could be found. the same sort of egress, but was not

TO AID HOSPITAL.

Rector Perkins Made Strong Appeal to His Congregation.

At St. Paul's Episcopal church, Rec. or Perkins appealed to his congrega. ion in aid of St. Mark's hospital, and "The principle of sympathetic help is one of the main supports of true family life. St. Mark's hospital has grown from a small adobe house with but a few beds to be the largest in-stitution of its kind in our midst. I say this, because St. Mark's hospital has never turned from its doors any indigent folk. It receives them and renders careful and loving service as if all bills were met. Its training school for nurses has had the highest commendations wherever its nurses have ministered. We are glad to see the new home for nurses being erected at this time as a memorial to our dear late Bishop Leonard, who labored so faithfully for this institution.

"Many are the accounts of true heroism and courage of both patient and nurse. The physicians, who gratuitously have given their services gratultously have given their services for true charity's sake, deserve our highest praise. What true Christlike work they are all doing! How all of life depends upon the spirit in which we bear each other's burdens! The stony path becomes harder by being trod upon, but the rose sheds forth its fragrance when trod on. So it is with life. One man would rather die than live with a broken back and no possibilities of moving his lower no possibilities of moving his lower limbs, another in the same condition smiles cheerly and rolls his invalid's chair, and wheels himself about, sending rays of sunshine across the path of many who think their lot is hard. Helping hands from him also minister in making bandages. Which is the rose? Which would we be? It depends upon how we are trying to do our part in this world of men. As we live, so we may expect to die. The late Archdeacon Ostenson and others before him and since can testify to us what the Master was to them. What is He to us? Have we caught His spirit? If so, let us minpath of many who think their lot is ister for Him, and count St. Mark' hospital among our prayers and in our alms and know that we are doing something to make life brighter for some one else, and so fulfill the law of Christ."
