

aided over by Hon. Stephen H. Love, and music was furnished by the Roosevelt Glee club. The principal speaker was Judge Theophilus Holtkin, who began by entering upon a discussion of national issues.

"The last Democratic national convention," said the speaker, "true to the instincts of Democratic leadership, denounced the Republican protective tariff as a robbery of the many to enrich the few, and the speakers at that convention challenged us to meet them upon that issue. The Democratic convention of this state reaffirmed the declaration of the St. Louis platform and pledged themselves to maintain the declaration of principles of the St. Louis convention, and upon that platform with its declaration that 'the tariff is a robbery,' they nominated for Congress our esteemed fellow citizen, Judge Orlando W. Powers, and for governor, the most excellent and noble man, the Hon. James H. Moyle. These two men are pledged by all the sacredness of their positions upon the Democratic ticket, to carry on the contest in this campaign upon the issues raised by that St. Louis convention, and also by their state convention, which reaffirmed and adopted that tariff declaration. But these gentlemen are now going about the state declaring to the people everywhere that if Judge Powers shall be elected to Congress, he will endeavor to retain the public protective duties upon all the products of Utah, and that he will, particularly, vote to retain those duties upon sugar, lead, wool and hides.

The speaker continued in this strain for some time, and then turned his attention to local matters, on which subject he said:

"Now, the rank and file of this new 'American' party is composed of as honest, as patriotic, and as pure-minded a crowd of men and women as live beneath the flag. I am acquainted with very many of them, and many of them are my best and most appreciated friends; and I wish it distinctly understood, by one and all, that I am not referring to the rank and file of the 'American' party when I denounce the unscrupulous, hypocritical, deceitful, treacherous leaders who have been and are now deceiving the honest men and women who have joined that party. I am told that in a recent meeting of the 'American' party, held up town, that one of their candidates, a man, I believe, by the name of Corser, said that some Republican speaker had denounced all the men and women in the 'American' party as traitors to the flag. I did not hear him but the next day on the streets I was informed by a number of men and women who did hear him, that he described the speaker referred to as 'an old soldier who wears the little bronze button of the Grand Army of the Republic,' and that the aspersions complained of were uttered by the Republican speaker at the Grand theater. Every one who mentioned the matter to me, was sure that he was referring to myself, in that charge. Now, if Mr. Corser did refer to me, and if he intended to make such a charge as that against me, I have this explanation to make: He has uttered a falsehood. I said in the speech at the Grand theater, concerning the rank and file of the 'American' party, just what I have said here tonight and which I now repeat: That the great rank and file of the 'American' party is composed of men and women whose motives are honest, whose purposes are patriotic and whose intentions are of the best and the purest.

"But you people have been and are being deceived—you are being imposed upon by the deceit, and unscrupulous cunning of a few leaders who do not have honest motives, nor patriotic purposes, nor lofty intentions."

Judge Holtkin then discussed the alleged alliance with the Democratic party, paying particular attention to Frank Cannon's allegiance to the 'Americans' and closed by appealing to his audience to rebuke the 'new' movement at the polls by voting the Republican ticket.

Dyspepsia

What's the use of a good cook if there's a bad stomach, —a stomach too weak properly to digest what is taken into it?

The owner of such a stomach experiences distress after eating, nausea between meals, and is troubled with belching and fits of nervous headache —he's dyspeptic and miserable.

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia and have suffered almost everything. I have tried many different remedies, but could get no relief until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. After the use of this medicine I could eat without distress, and today I am as well as ever, but I always keep Hood's Sarsaparilla on hand." Mrs. J. A. CAWELL, Canajoharie, N. Y.

"My stomach was weak. Reading how much good Hood's Sarsaparilla had done other people, I was encouraged to try it. My stomach soon grew stronger and now I can eat almost anything. My husband and I take Hood's for our blood in spring with good results." Mrs. A. J. GIBNEY, East North Yarmouth, Me.

INTOXICATED LOVER.

Prospective Groom Full of Ardent Spirits Sought a License.

A person in a high state of intoxication applied to County Clerk James this afternoon for a marriage license. He was accompanied by a very pretty lady. He walked up to the counter and in a loud voice called for "Johnnie James." "Come on, John," he said. "I want a marriage license." Mr. James informed the gentleman that he could not issue the license while he was in that condition. He then changed his tone and pleaded, but was again refused and he finally left the office threatening to get a license from the city clerk. He will probably return when sober and get the coveted document.

LINEMAN MET

DEATH ON WIRES.

George Hill, an Employee of Utah Light & Railway Company, Killed.

ELECTROCUTED ON A POLE.

Accident Occurred This Morning at Ninth South and Seventh East While Soldering Wire.

George Hill, one of the best linemen in the employ of the Utah Light and Railway company met death at 10:10 this morning while working on a pole at the intersection of Seventh East and Ninth South.

The unfortunate man was engaged in soldering a joint of a 200-volt wire when he came in contact with the ground wire which was attached to the pole. He fell across the wires with a groan and his companions at once went to his assistance and prevented him from falling to the ground.

When they grasped him he revived slightly and in a dazed voice said, "Oh, I am all right now. I can get down by myself."

Those were the last words he spoke. He was at once lowered to the ground but despite every known means of resuscitation in vogue among electrical workers being used he ceased to breathe and was dead five minutes after he had been taken from the pole.

Shortly afterwards Dr. Benedict, who had been summoned, arrived but beyond examining the dead body he could do nothing. There was not a mark on the body.

George Hill came recently from Kansas City, and, according to the application he signed in order to obtain work here he had been in the business for 15 years and had been employed to working on 6500-volt wires. Prior to coming to Utah he had been working in the Puget sound district at his trade. He was 35 years of age, a single man and roomed at the Valley house. He was a member of K. of P. W. M. Scott, superintendent of the Utah Light & Railway company, gives the unfortunate man a splendid character for efficiency and sobriety. "He was one of the best men we had," he declared this morning, "he was a good workman and not addicted to bad habits. Just how the accident occurred I am not in a position to state until I have thoroughly investigated."

The Forest Inspector in charge of the Salt Lake forest reserves to the east and southeast of Salt Lake City gives notice that for the season of 1905 no sheep grazing will be allowed there; and as to the grazing of horses and cattle, that will be decided on a little later. This prohibition is in accordance with the policy adopted to preserve the Salt Lake watershed from deterioration.

NOISY ORGAN OF THE UNDER WORLD

Shamefully, Brazenly and Maliciously Publishes Falsehood Of "Church Counsel."

SAYS TENDERLOIN WAS CAJOLED

Chief of Police Lynch and Sergeant Eddington Make Strong Denials of The Infamous Story.

The "American" party organ has published many menacing articles during the present campaign, its whole course has been one of mischief making. It drives upon the reader as fever and ague germs do in filth and noxious smells. There need be no doubt as to how it comes to speak for the barbers, pimps and gamblers. With these elements it is on the best of terms. It wants their votes and expects to get them for its disgruntled and spite breeding owners. If there is failure in one regard there must be none in others. The "how" is still a small consideration or no consideration at all.

The paper knowingly and deliberately declares that "Mormon" police officers are and have been "conspiring" and threatening the residents of Commercial street and other like thoroughfares; that they must vote as they are told or get out of town. The fact that it knows that such work has never been indulged in, does not in the least deter it from its infamous misrepresentation.

WHAT LYNCH SAYS.

With reference to the article, saying that Chief of Police William J. Lynch had given "private instructions" to Sergeant "Dick" Eddington, to take up a labor with the fallen women of the town, and the gamblers, and instruct them how to vote, Chief Lynch and Sergeant Eddington made statements to the "News" today. Chief Lynch said:

"I have never given Sergt. Eddington, or any other officer on the force, orders to see the women of the town, and the gamblers, or any other set of people, and tell them how to vote, or to say anything to them or anybody else with reference to voting. I characterize the article as a pack of contemptible and cowardly lies. The article is the evaporation of the diseased and depraved mind of a creature who could not tell the truth if he wanted to. You may quote me as saying this and make it as strong as you like."

EDDINGTON'S DENIAL.

When asked for a statement, Sergt. Eddington said:

"In the first place let me say that Chief Lynch never at any time gave me orders by word or intimation, to do the things charged by the miserable article, and I have never done them at any time, either during this campaign or any other. And, in the second place, I want to be quoted as saying that I have not been in a house of ill fame or a gambling house for more than two months, and then it was to notify the proprietors to come in and pay their fines. I have never in my life said anything to either class about how they should vote, nor have I ever mentioned politics to them. The statement that, on last Wednesday I spent three hours on Commercial street, is a lie, and the man who wrote it knows he was lying. In the discharge of my official duty it is sometimes necessary for me to go into these places and see that they do not overstep the restrictions placed on them. It is also sometimes necessary for me to go into these 'cribs' and console the women to whom they belong, otherwise they would be on the street. But so far as the charges made, I want to say that there is not a word of truth in them."

ROOSEVELT IS ONLY ON ONE TICKET—THE REPUBLICAN TICKET—VOTE IT STRAIGHT.

NEW SCHOOLHOUSE.

The handsome school building recently erected by the people of the Thirtieth district, and located on Seventh East between Fifteenth and Sixteenth South streets, was occupied for the first time this morning and gave satisfaction to teachers and pupils alike.

The school is a modern, six-room structure and was erected by Contractor E. Childs. It was dedicated on Wednesday, Nov. 2, when the parents and children met to celebrate its completion. The program began at 10 o'clock, noon, and consisted of songs and recitations by the little folks under the direction of Principal Steffensen and the Misses Smith and Burton. Trustee J. P. Hamilton made a short address of welcome and the dedicatory prayer was offered by William H. Hill. State Supt. Nelson and County Supt. Ashton were in attendance and expressed themselves as much pleased with the building. They also addressed the parents on the proper training of children, in order to make them strong and independent workers and not weaklings, relying upon others for their support.

J. C. Hamilton, William H. Hill and M. M. Miller expressed their pleasure in the completion of so fine a building and drew comparisons between the past and the present in school affairs. Trustee J. R. Nilson spoke of the workmanship of the building as being first class, and complimented the contractor therefor. He also expressed gratitude for the support of the people and of County Supt. Ashton, whom he moved a vote of thanks. Refreshments were then served, after which there was a children's dance, followed by a dance for the older folks in the evening.

The cost of the new schoolhouse was about $20,000 and the people of the Thirtieth district are justly proud of their improved facilities for education.

$100,000 HOTEL

FOR STATE STREET

Fred Wey is to Build it Just South Of the White Apartment House.

TO BE FINE MODERN STRUCTURE

Plans Are Being Prepared and Work Is to be Rushed—Building to Be Ready by Spring.

Salt Lake is to have a new family hotel just as soon as it can be rushed to completion. It is to be modern in every respect and is to cost in round numbers $100,000. Fred Wey of the Wron Hotel is to build it, and he is the proprietor. It will be located on State street, just south of the White apartment house, and will be five or six stories high. Plans are being, or will be, prepared at once and the structure is to be ready by next spring. The site is that selected a year or two ago for the projected Christensen Dancing academy.

Last week Mr. Wey quietly purchased this ground for the sum of $15,000, from Mr. L. P. Christensen. It is 75 by 185 feet, and considered a most valuable piece of property. The streets on all sides, east, west, north and south, are all paved. The Alta club, University club, Free Public library, Holmes apartment houses, Salt Lake theater, the new apartment house, the two telephone, and numerous other fine hotels are adjacent to it. It is stated that special pains are to be taken in the entire work of construction, and that it will be a building monument of which the city may be proud.
