RICHFIELD.

Artesian Wells for Irrigation a Grand Success-Building Boom. Special Correspondence.

Richfield, Sevier Co., Aug. 15 .- James Bolitho, sometime ago, sold out his hardware business and bought 200 acres of land of the Bean Brothers, and has gone into business as a rancher, farmer and stock raiser. His effort in the poultry line is a grand success, hav-ing imported some line stock from the east. One hundred and fifty young turkeys surround the old bronze gabler of thirty-four pounds imported

But all this sinks out of sight in the ing drive wells on his farm; there are three-inch pipes, and two inch pipes, throwing out quite a fine irrigation stream. His attempt with three-inch pipe has been watched very closely by his neighbors, and now he has been successful in obtaining good, strong flows, at ninety-six feet, his neighboring large land owner. Prest, W. H. Seegmiller has sunk five threethe school board from Kansas, where she has been during her vacation, that other. Three of them are within a space of nine feet, and are throwing out a full, strong three-inch stream, supplemented by the other two deiven within a rod of the others. Further days the stream when the stream when the stream when the stream within a rod of the others. Further lar school term begins. Miss Sadie down the stream which these pour forth, are three three-inch pipes, and the water thus obtained makes a fine irrigating stream.

While three-juch flows may be of frequent occurrences elsewhere it has been a surprise hereabouts, and many people have come from far and near to see the flow of water obtained, con-sequently wells are being driven in all directions, and more contemplated. Some four-inch pipes have been driven with success and Mr. Seegmiller is re-gretting that he did not use six-inch pipes on his land.

With such success as attained here, the expensive reservoir and canal sys-tem will be a thing of the past, every-one will be his own water-master, no water tax, no assessments; the people here are of the opinion that only go deep enough and the water can be tapped for all the lands of Utab.

FINE COAL PROPOSITION. McClure Wilson has opened up and is developing a new coal mine eight miles north of Price, which is said to be a bonanza. The coal is of very fine quality, and in the market here brings from $1 to $2 more per ton than the product of any other mine hereabouts. He has contracted three hundred tons to local parties, and expects by winter that the output will reach the thous-and ton mark. It is of excellent cok-ing quality, and it is possible outside capital may become interested in ship. The painters crew of the Rio Grande Western has been here for a week or more, and a new coat of the standard color of the line is being given to every outlding of the company here. A new color, a lighter one, is being adopted, which stands the dust and dirt better than the old one. Special Agent Ketchum of the Ric Grande Western is being mentioned as a candidate for sheriff on the Demo-cratic ticket this full. He lives at Hel-per, and his friends insist would make
