

FIREMAN EDGAR JONES KILLED

Two Engineers Also Seriously Hurt in a Midland Wreck.

PASSENGER AND A FREIGHT

Came Together, Head-on, Two Trains Belonged to Two Roads, Santa Fe and Midland.

News reached this city today that a fatal collision had occurred about two miles south of Palmer Lake, Colorado. The information at hand showed that the collision was between a northbound Colorado Midland passenger train and a Santa Fe freight, both coming together head on.

Fireman Edgar Jones of the Santa Fe freight train was killed and Engineers Leavitt and Turk of both engines were very severely injured.

No passengers are reported hurt and the cause of the wreck is not known.

CHEYENNE FLYER WRECKED.

Express Messenger and Fourteen Other Persons Badly Injured.

The Cheyenne Flyer on the Union Pacific crashed into the Boulder Valley train at Brighton, which is 6 o'clock this morning. One man was killed and fourteen persons injured as follows:

KILLED.

Winfield Randleman, express manager, Denver; body burned to crisp.

PASSENGERS INJURED.

B. S. Hooker, Olin, Iowa, head cut badly.

Mrs. Margaret Young, Mansfield, Mo., forehead cut.

S. G. Hurst, banker, Brighton, badly cut and bruised.

F. V. Davis, traveling salesman, Denver, head and body cut, back injured, ribs broken.

W. G. Tompkins, traveling salesman for Bradley, Alderson & Co., Kansas City, head badly cut, back injured.

C. Payne, Laramie, Wyo., head badly cut, ribs broken.

Mrs. McCanna, Laramie, bruised.

TRAUMATISM INJURED.

Fred Laws, brakeman, Denver, right leg cut off.

Michael Regan, section foreman, head badly cut.

Thos. McGovern, section foreman, leg bruised, head cut and bruised.

John Kennedy, badly cut and bruised.

John Cunningham, head cut.

Frank Sloan, cut and bruised.

Jerry Flannery, back hurt.

The Boulder Valley train left Denver a little late this morning and, as a result, stopped at Brighton, which is the junction of the Boulder Valley line from the main line to Cheyenne. It was here that the Cheyenne Flyer, which was on the train, just before the collision.

The Cheyenne Flyer, Union Pacific train No. 3, also left Denver late, and was on the main line at the early morning hour, ran into the rear end of the Boulder train, telescoping two or three cars and derailing the passenger locomotive. The section gangs from the Denver yards and half a dozen passengers occupied the Boulder train.

The Boulder train, which had been carrying mail and baggage car and the smoker of the flyer were burned.

Mrs. Young was in the chair car with six children. None of the children were hurt.

Supt. Deuel went out on a special train from Denver with Mrs. Lemon and Taylor. They took a lot of stretchers and other supplies. They found all the wounded at the Brighton hotel being cared for by the citizens. The Brighton house company was pouring water over the burning baggage car and had discovered the remains of the dead baggage man.

Supt. Deuel says he cannot understand why the Boulder train was not on the side track, as it had twenty minutes to clear the Cheyenne Flyer. The Boulder train consisted of fourteen loaded freight cars and a heavy caboose. Engine No. 815, the big locomotive hauling the flyer, lies out on the prairie, a total wreck, an evidence of how hard the crash was.

The wounded were brought to Denver about noon and taken to hospitals.

Conductor McAllister, of the Boulder Valley train, was crazed by the accident. He attempted to jump into the burning wreckage and had to be forcibly restrained.

FUMIGATING CARS.

Railways Running Through Sanpete Take Sanitary Measures.

It may not be generally known that the local railway companies have been operating in the Sanpete county have taken steps to protect their passengers from smallpox. However, the fact is that such has been done and the cars are receiving a thorough cleansing and fumigation. It has been suggested that Dr. Beatty would be thoroughly appeared if the cars were vaccinated.

The matter of cleanliness and fumigation, however, is a precautionary measure of value and will doubtless be appreciated by patrons of the railways.

DETERMINED.

Boise City Is After That Railroad and Will Get It.

Boise has rolled up her sleeves in earnest to get that through line across the state to the statement the railroad committee yesterday moved its headquarters to the city hall and the work of completing the fund was commenced with a vim. Special committees of volunteers, including many business men who have left their business especially for that purpose, went out after the delinquents and a number were induced to sign up yesterday. There was a great deal of preliminary work to be done, so the real result of the first day's work was not in evidence on that day.

A large sign has been placed across the entrance of the city hall. No one can miss seeing it. The sidewalks and fences have been covered with dogtags bearing the single word "Railroad." The members of the special committees wear in their buttonholes a white ribbon badge bearing the words, "I have, have you?" Every subscriber is entitled to one of these.

The committee will be able to complete the fund by the first of the year if every property owner will step up and do his or her duty. There is about $48,000 of the $120,000 to be raised yet. The sooner it is done the sooner the main line will be brought to Boise.

GONE TO WASATCH.

Sheriff Howells went to Wasatch county today for the purpose of subpoenaing witnesses in the case of the State against Paul Lovelace, who is awaiting trial on the charge of grand larceny.

FISH HATCHING BEGINS.

State Fish and Game Warden John Sharp will begin operating the new fish hatchery, east of Murray, tomorrow on Monday. A shipment of 50,000 trout eggs is due to arrive Saturday, but the other lot of fish eggs, aggregating 1,000,000, will not be here until next week, or perhaps later.

HAYWORTH SAYS HE IS INNOCENT.

Declares Emphatically He Did Not Kill Nightwatchman Sandall.

SAYS HE'LL PROVE AN ALIBI

Sheriff Abbott, However, Is Positive He Has the Right Man—Accused Sailing Under Many Aliases.

(SPECIAL TO THE "NEWS.") Farmington, Dec. 29.—Sheriff Abbott of Davis county, arrived here over the Oregon Short Line from Portland this morning with "Nick" Hayworth, the man who is charged with the murder of Nightwatchman Sandall, at Layton, in March of the present year.

Mr. Abbott is firmly convinced in his own mind that he has arrested the guilty man, although the prisoner stoutly and emphatically maintains that he is innocent of the serious charge laid against him. He denies all knowledge of the affair and declares that he will be able to prove an alibi.

On the arrival of Sheriff Abbott, Hayworth was taken to the Farmington jail, where he remained during the day. He had very little to say other than that a great mistake had been made in his arrest, and that he would be able to prove that he was not the man wanted. Sheriff Abbott had a long, hard chase for this man and followed him through the wilds of Idaho and Oregon, where he pursued the vocation of horse trader. He was sure that it would be difficult for him to explain the fact that he went by a different name in each new locality. When he was arrested he was answering to the cognomen of Nick Frost, although he was decidedly reticent about coming to Utah to answer for the crime of murder. He gave the officer no trouble.

Hayworth will be arraigned tomorrow on the charge of murder before Justice of the Peace Richards.

On the same train with Sheriff Abbott and Hayworth were two other sheriffs returning with prisoners. One was Sheriff Burns of Cache county, who had in custody the notorious "Diamondville Jack," who is under sentence of death for having killed a sheep man up in the north country. The other officer was the sheriff of Bannock county, Idaho, who was returning with a burglar whom he had picked up somewhere in Oregon.

ARREST OF HAYWORTH.

San Francisco Detective Figured in His Location and Apprehension.

San Francisco, Dec. 28.—Through the efforts of Detective Fitzgerald of this city, "Nick" Hayworth, the brutal murderer of a watchman in Layton, Davis county, Utah, some time ago, has at last been apprehended. He was arrested in a lumber camp on the Wood river, Oregon, after making a desperate resistance to Sheriff Abbott, who had traveled hundreds of miles to secure him.

The crime for which Hayworth is wanted is the killing of a man named Sandall, who was employed as a watchman in a hardware store in Layton. He had two accomplices, Louis Roxy and James Stephens, who are supposed to be in this city. Detective Fitzgerald, who located the accused man, will receive $1,000 reward offered by the State of Utah.

MORE SCARLET FEVER.

The Health Department Reports Twenty-six Flags Now Out.

Six Cases Reported Since Last Saturday—Most of Them are in the Eighteenth Ward.

Something like an epidemic of scarlet fever is raging in the Eighteenth ward, several new cases having developed in that neighborhood during the past few days. On Saturday last there were seventeen cases in the city, and the number has now increased to twenty-three. Bishop Whitney's home is one of those under quarantine, his 8-year-old son Byron having come down with the disease, although it is fortunately a mild form. A son of J. Golden Kimball has been ill with the disease for three days, and there is another case at the home of G. F. Felt, all of these being in the same block. Gov. Wells' child is improving, and the case at the home of Rulon S. Wells is progressing favorably.

At the board of health, it is said that physicians are tardy in reporting new cases, so that some times the disease is well developed before strict quarantine regulations are put in effect.

WHERE IS MR. RICH.

Health Officials Attempting to Locate a Man Exposed to Smallpox.

The local health officers have been busy today in trying to locate one Dave Rich, who it is said in a dispatch to Dr. Beatty, left Platte some days ago, riding in a car to Richfield, which was occupied by a woman who was known to have had smallpox. The Platte officer in a letter to Dr. Beatty said that Rich should be placed under quarantine, and that he resided on South West Temple street, in this city. A diligent search has been instituted, and that section of the city has been scoured but the whereabouts of Rich have not yet been obtained. It has been thought that he might be a student of either the University High School or Latter-day Saints' college, but an examination of the records of those institutions revealed the fact that he was identified with neither of them. Whether he will be found during the evening is not known, but is quite probable that the police will be called on to assist in finding him.

Persons who may know of Mr. Rich, are kindly requested by the health officers, to communicate with them, in order that he may be found, and the community rid of a menace.

THESE FELLOWS HAD NERVE.

Two Men Rob the Pleasant Valley Coal Company's Office.

THE WORK OF RUFFIANS.

Yardmaster Crandall Forced to Lie Down; When He Did So the Robbers Ransacked the Place.

There was a buzz of excitement about police headquarters last evening arising from the fact that a most daring robbery was committed just a short time before 6 o'clock.

The branch office of the Pleasant Valley Coal company, which is situated at the corner of Eighth South and State streets was the scene of the robbery.

At the time stated, Yardmaster C. S. Crandall was at the telephone engaged in conversation with some one when his attention was called by the hurried entrance of two men, and the gruff command: "throw up your hands." Turning around Mr. Crandall found himself looking down the muzzles of two ugly revolvers in the hands of masked men. The yardmaster's hands went skyward and while one of the desperadoes covered him with his "persuader," the other ransacked the place. Had they been a little earlier they would have been better paid for the bold deed, for over $150, the receipts of the day, had but a short time previous been taken to an office up town. As it was, the fellows secured the yardmaster's gold watch and chain and between $14 and $20 in cash. In their eager search for plunder they overlooked a $5 gold piece which reposed in the till.

The men were very cool and deliberate in their actions and the manner in which they covered up their retreat argues that they are not exactly "green chickens" at the business. At the point of a gun Mr. Crandall was told to lie down on the floor. The robbers then covered the yardmaster with quilts and informed him that they would "plug" him a few times if he dared to move or sound an alarm.

Not satisfied with the booty secured, the men told Crandall they would kill him if he did not divulge the place where the rest of the cash was hidden. Crandall assured them that they had secured everything.

Once more they told him to keep still, and ran out.

Crandall was badly scared. As soon as he dared to move he jumped up and gave the alarm. Men who were working in the yard rushed up and down the streets looking for the hold-ups, but they had vanished as completely as though they had dissolved into the gathering gloom.

Police headquarters was informed by telephone of the robbery and Chief Hilton, Detective Sheets and a squad of blue-coats were rapidly sent in the patrol wagon to the coal yard.

The ruffians had left absolutely no clue as to their identity or the route taken in the flight. Crandall was so badly shocked that he could not tell whether the robbers were a party of blue-coats or not.

The officers are inclined to the theory that the men made their escape in a buggy. Towns north and south have been apprised of the robbery and a sharp lookout will be kept for all suspicious looking persons.

GOOD GAME TONIGHT.

Basket Ball Between Picked Team and Y. M. C. A. Reds.

Another game of basket ball between picked teams is to be played at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium tonight.

A team, organized by F. E. Tregea, and the Christian reds will participate in the contest. Both teams consist of good players.

Following will be the line-up:

Reds. . . . . Picked Team.

Clark. . . . . Johnson.

Tucker. . . . . Smith.

Rasmussen. . . . . Tregea.

Cheshire. . . . . Demming.

BUFFALO BILL PROTESTS.

Objects to the Department Discontinuing Indian Exhibitions.

A Washington dispatch of December 28, says: Since the recent announcement of the new policy of the department, discontinuing the display of Indian exhibitions the department has been deluged with both written and oral inquiries. Col. W. F. Cody has protested that the action will nearly ruin his business. He says a number of his friends have urged Commissioner of Indian Affairs Jones to make an exception in his case. A large number of letters on the subject, mostly indorsing the department's attitude, have come by mail.

Commissioner Jones said there would be no change in the department's policy, and that he was convinced the exhibitions have a demoralizing tendency and retard Indian progress. It is recognized, however, that failing the government consent Indians may be contracted with and withdrawn from the reservations and exhibited without the present formality of securing official action.

WITH THE JUSTICES.

Yesterday afternoon a warrant was issued by Justice Kroeger for the arrest of C. Cartun on the charge of petit larceny. The complaint was sworn to by Rosenthal, a tailor, who alleged that the defendant broke into his desk and purloined a note for $150.00, which he held against Cartun. The defendant was arraigned today and pleaded not guilty. He gave bonds in the sum of $200.

R. E. Fowler and O. C. Hanson are the bondsmen.

OLD BEAR RIVER CANAL.

Scheme on Foot in Boxelder County to Get It Complete.

County Attorney Jones Believes the Plan Will Succeed—Case of Young Abe Majors.

Prosecuting Attorney B. H. Jones of Brigham City, Boxelder county, was in Salt Lake today on business connected with the State Supreme court.

Referring to Boxelder county matters Mr. Jones said there was a scheme on foot in the eastern part of the county to have the Bear river canal completed. The plan proposed is to get the farmers of the county to agree to subscribe for water, as soon as the canal is completed.

Mr. Jones says there are about 5,000 acres subscribed for already, and people are in hopes that the old Bear river canal company will be induced soon to complete the canal.

Attorney Jones will leave for Washington next Friday. While there he will appear before the United States Supreme court for the defendant in the case of D. P. Tarpey vs. Andrew Madison, involving the title to Central Pacific railroad lands which were settled upon before the 20th of October, 1868.

Speaking of Abe Majors, who is now under sentence of death, Mr. Jones said the transcript on appeal was filed October 7, 1899, and a hearing will be had at the February term of court.

The Supreme court records in the case show that no abstract has been filed as yet, and that the attorneys for the State desirous of presenting a motion for a dismissal, on the ground that one of the rules of the Supreme court had been violated, the chances are Majors' sentence would be affirmed. The reason for a dismissal of the appeal, if it has not been presented is doubtless because the life of a human being is involved.

FUNERAL TODAY.

Services Over the Remains of the Late James Anderson.

The funeral of Elder James Anderson was held in the Sixth ward meeting house, in this city, today. The services were largely attended and were presided over by Bishop Watson. The choir, which rendered a number of sympathetic selections, was under the leadership of Conductor Poulton. The opening prayer was offered by Elder Joseph McMurrin, after which remarks of a eulogistic character upon the splendid and worthy deeds of the deceased were made by Bishop Watson, Elders George Teasdale, C. W. Penrose and F. M. Lyman. The benediction was pronounced by Elder M. F. Cowley. Interment took place at the city cemetery this afternoon.

BURIED AT BOUNTIFUL.

Last Sad Rites Over the Remains of Judge C. W. Stayner.

(SPECIAL TO THE "NEWS.") Bountiful, Dec. 29.—The last sad rites were administered this afternoon over the remains of Judge Charles W. Stayner, whose death occurred here a few days ago. The funeral took place from the family residence and was attended by a number of Salt Lake friends in addition to those present from this place.

The services were conducted by Bishop Stoker and appropriate remarks were made by Elder B. S. Young, Bishop of Stoker of Bountiful, Bishop Whitney of Salt Lake, and Elders John Beck and Arthur Winter, also of Salt Lake. The opening prayer was offered by Elder Thomas Briggs, and the benediction was pronounced by Elder Edward McLellan. Touching music was rendered by a quartette conducted by Elder Edward Thomas. The selections given were "God moves in a mysterious way," "O, my Father," and "Sweet Rest in Heaven." Interment took place at the Bountiful cemetery.

JUDGE TIMMONY'S COURT.

Tom Tennent was not compelled to answer to the charge of drunkenness before Judge Timmony today. Some kind friend put up $5 for him, which was forfeited.

Thomas Burdock entered a plea of guilty to being drunk yesterday, but promised to reform if the judge would let him go. As this was his first appearance in court his request was granted.

T. W. Brown, the hellstone shoemaker who tried to hit Officer Gillespie with a poker last night, said guilty to the charge of drunkenness and stated that he had a chance to leave the city if the court would allow him to go. The view Judge Timmony took of the matter made it necessary for Brown to do one of two things, to wit: Go to jail for three days or pay $5.

A PREPARATION FOR THE SCHOOL

That is the Province and Distinction of the Home.

PAPER BY MRS. COULTER.

Woman Now Fills the Sphere Denied Her Anciently—Prof. Stephens on Music in Education.

This morning's session of the State Teachers' association opened with an address by Mrs. Mary G. Coulter of Ogden, president of the Utah Federation of Women's clubs. Her theme was: "The Home as a Preparation for the School." She said that while the home had lost none of its influence, its responsibility has been shifted. Anciently the mother was not much more than the slave, the father was the all in all. But in modern times woman has been permitted to fill her sphere. She is who shapes the minds of her children, and it is in the home that all progress and education takes deep root. Mrs. Coulter proceeded to portray the salutary influence of the home, and indicated what way it assisted the school. The main thing was the education of the heart, a province in which woman is queen. It is a question whether the mother of Johnson, Carlyle, or Burns knew the way from Mead to Mecca.

The speaker briefly alluded to the law of heredity, but there were many conditions in children laid at the door of heredity which were due only to a bad breakfast. The home should be organized like the school and the child's study should be as specific in the former as the latter. The indifferent parent is the father of that boy who calls the henhen. Slack, easy, good nature makes a child an ordinary walks but it doesn't count for much in the great battle of life. Children should not be forced into the unnatural position of conventionality. The home should be so full of good and beautiful things that the children should have no place for contemplating anything evil.

The home can help the school greatly in cultivating a taste for literature, and the teacher should assume that the training of the child begins at home.

The home and the school must solve the problem. Their motto must be: "A universal brotherhood."

Following Mrs. Coulter's lecture was a song by Prof. Young's class of the Washington school, which was rendered in a very creditable manner.

MUSIC IN EDUCATION.

"Music as a Potent Factor in Education" was the theme explicated in an extremely interesting style by Prof. Evan Stephens, music teacher in the Ogden public schools. He treated his subject in an unfortunate treat with delicious fruit, which is plucked before it is ripe, it is not mastered. The first obstacle that should be removed in the teaching of music, is incorrect method; second, making it an amusement instead of a study. Third, the habit of using the faculty of imitation instead of thought, of pouring the melody into the ear instead of evolving it from the mind; fourth, the lack of individual application; and fifth, the failure to give music the proper time and attention.

Prof. Stephens treated his subject in an able and learned style. Going into detail in pointing out the many errors in the method of teaching music, and submitting many splendid precepts. The discussion of the subject was opened by Miss Felsch, instructor of music in the Ogden City public schools. Her treatment of the theme was interesting in the extreme. The burden of her paper being a discussion of the songs of Mrs. Gaynor. Prof. Young, instructor of music in the Salt Lake schools, closed the discussion. He placed music upon the same plane as anything else in the school curriculum. It should be a study and not a recreation.

Gilliam moved the appointment of a committee of three on memorial to draw up resolutions to be presented to the State Teachers' association by the late Prof. T. B. Lewis and Prof. George R. Mathews. The motion was adopted. The committee are Prof. Marshall of the University, Engle of Ogden, and President Kerr of Logan.

Prof. Martin of the Grantsville school moved that fraternal greetings be sent to Boise, Idaho,
