"Jefferson Hall was open last Sanday Buight, by a Protestant church, for a promenade concert and fair for the benefit of the church. At 11 p. m., some 400 burch fairs were on sale, while a bar in one corner was principally patronized by the boys. Salt Lake, Dec. 23, 1878. From the "Junction" .-- Last Saturday Hyrum Edwards, a young man who resides in the Eleventh Ward, Salt Lake City, while on his way home from the Utah Northern terminus, to spend Christmas, was set upon by two masked highwaymen, and robbed. He left the train at Marsh Valley, intending to walk to Clifton, a distance of eight miles, to see a friend. Midway between the two villages, in a lonely place, toward night, he met the two highwaymen, one of whom inquir-ed his destination. He told them; they conferred for a moment, and then told him to throw up his hands, and one of themiat the same time, covering him with a pistol. The sum of $50 was taken from bim, and the robbers then left. Mr. evening, and is now probably at

The E.v.
