DEMPSEY POUNDED

and threw Reagan again. It was evident that the latter had the worst of the bargain in agreeing to the London rules. He went on, however, like a Spartan. In the thirteenth, Dempsey attempted again to backheel his opponent, who went down on his knees to avoid the fall. Reagan was thrown hard in both the fourteenth and fifteenth, while the fighting was of the most savage character. In the sixteenth and seventeenth were two more falls for Dempsey, who also gave Reagan a terrible smash on the nose. In the eighteenth and nineteenth the same thing was kept up, although Reagan fought gamely and did the best he could. In the twentieth Dempsey kept up the tattoo on Reagan's rib until the oozing blood made the body to appear raw. When Reagan went down to avoid another fall, Dempsey cursed him, and told him to get up and fight. Reagan for the twenty-first, and the fighting was furious, Dempsey receiving some heavy blows. Reagan was thrown, however, in this and the next round. Round twenty-fifth was a savage one, Dempsey pounding his adversary's face in a horrible manner. The latter was game through and through. Rounds twenty-six to thirty-four were remarkable only for the way in which Dempsey hit his man, and the frequency with which Reagan went down to save himself. Dempsey's umpire even urged his man to strike Reagan while he was on his knees on account of the foul in the early part of the fight, but Jack refused to do it. Rounds thirty-five to thirty-eight were characterized by an apparent revival of power on the part of Reagan, who rushed Dempsey some, but without much result. In the thirty-seventh, Reagan received a on the ribs. In the forty-first, both men at the same instant fetched each other vicious clips with the right and left. Dempsey had scarcely a mark on him at this time, besides a swollen left eye. Rounds forty-two, forty-three and forty-four practically closed the battle. Dempsey unmercifully punished Reagan, whose lips were puffed and left eye closed. He was voted by the spectators as game a man as ever stood in the ring. He never cried quit. At the beginning of round 45, Smith, at the solicitation of Reagan's friends, who saw he had no chance to win, jumped into the ring and threw up the sponge. The fight lasted one hour and nine minutes. In the first ring there was 18 minutes fighting, and the second 41 minutes. The fight ended at 1:01 p. m., leaving Dempsey still middle-weight. Both men weighed 147. Dempsey has won 30 fights and had six draws. He has never been defeated. Reagan only fought two battles previous to this, winning both.

CAME UP ANGRY

TERRIBLE THUMP

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—The well known firm of D. De Casto & Co., supply and commission merchants, has failed. The firm was composed of Fernando Ferrate, Diego De Casto and Joaquin De Casto, both of Paris, and special partners. The capital of the house was placed at $500,000. The firm was looked upon as the most influential one in the Columbian trade, and for a time had the cream of the South and Central American trade. At the office of the firm it was said today that expected remittances in coffee consigned to them failed to arrive, and this had precipitated the assignment. The attorney for the assignee said the liabilities and assets, roughly estimated, were from $750,000 to $1,000,000, about three-fourths of which was due in Central and South America. The firm estimated that their assets were enough to pay the debts in time, but the entire capital of $500,000 would be gone.

BOSTON, Dec. 14.—In the case of Mrs. Robinson, who is on trial for murder, several witnesses were examined today. Dr. White expressed an opinion that Willie Robinson had received a dose of arsenic before he saw him on Thursday and must have received other doses between Friday and Saturday night when he found him much worse. Dr. Burrell testified to a conversation by Willie's bedside. He said in response to witness' statement that he could not live: "I know it; the old woman dosed me."

The afternoon session was occupied in taking the testimony of several who had analyzed portions of the viscera of Wm. Robinson. All concurred in the statement that death resulted from arsenical poison.

The right will interpellate the government on the re-assembling of the chambers in regard to the revolutionary plotting in the Paris municipal council during the presidential crisis.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 14.—Novoe Vremya publishes in its Paris correspondence a letter from

to M. Sasin, member of the Chamber of Deputies, declining the latter's offer to surrender his seat in General Boulanger's favor. The general writes that he considers it a patriotic duty to adhere to his military position in view of the fact that he expects war, and says that France has greater need of generals than of deputies.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—The Tortilla Gold and Silver Mining Company have brought suit against James Gordon Bennett for alleged libel, claiming $500,000 damages. The company's mines are in Arizona and it has its offices in this city. It was capitalized at $1,000,000, divided into 25 shares which were extensively advertised and sold. The complaint against Bennett is based on an article published in the Herald which it was asserted that the Tortilla mining scheme was a "colossal bouce scheme." It is alleged that Bennett has suffered actual pecuniary loss and damage to the sum of $500,000. Joseph H. Reali, president of the company, has brought suit in the same court individually against Bennett for alleged libel claiming $250,000 damages. He says the publication created the impression "among plaintiff's acquaintances and the public that plaintiff was running a dishonest enterprise and swindling people out of their money by selling worthless mining stock."

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—General Thos. Kirby Smith, of Philadelphia, a distinguished soldier in the war of the rebellion, died here today, aged 67 years. In 1856 President Pierce appointed him United States marshal for the southern district of Ohio, which position he retained until the accession of President Buchanan. He took part in many important engagements during the war and remained in the field until 1864, when sickness, contracted by exposure, compelled him to retire.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 14.—The American Federation of Labor continued in convention this morning. Shortly after the opening, the convention went into executive session, from which reporters were excluded. The session was taken up in receiving reports of the officers and various committees and a charter was granted to the Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators of America.

In the afternoon a letter was read from

chairman of the Trade Union Parliamentary Committee of England, asking the federation to send a representative to the international convention to be held in London next year, and one from the Russian-American National League at New York, asking the federation to use its influence to prevent Congress from enacting an extradition treaty with Russia.

H. M. Ogden, representing the Cincinnati Typographical Union, offered a resolution condemning the boycott instituted by the Knights of Labor in the State of New York.

W. R. Creamer, a member of the Trades Union Congress Parliamentary Committee of England, made a short address on the benefits to be derived by the working classes from arbitration.

NUMEROUS RESOLUTIONS

were introduced that caused a lengthy debate. There was a proposition to recommend a boycott on all the beer brewed in Milwaukee.

The United States Brewers' Association was denounced as the most powerful antagonist the organization has to contend with.

The convention adjourned until tomorrow.

The board of directors in their report say they are more than ever satisfied that the enterprise is absolutely based upon the application of the new motive power; that Keeley has underestimated in many particulars the time necessary to the completion of his work; that the chief difficulties have been removed, and we are now in sight of results Keeley made a long report, in which he reviews his work. He has recently become possessed of a new and important discovery. Hereafter, his operations will be conducted without either vaporic or etheric forces. What name to give his new form of force, he does not know, but the basis of it all is vibratory sympathy.

A number of fights took place and many persons were ejected from the hall, but the malcontents were finally subdued. Balfour said the radicals by their change at a word from Gladstone had sullied the character of their party forever. With the determination of their moral fibre, the radicals adopted the methods of the Irish allies. The utterances of the foremost separatist leaders showed the increasing want of moral perspection. Gladstone had been forced, under the threat of lawyers' letters, to retract some of the assertions made by him in his infamous speech at Nottingham.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—A heavy wind prevailed this morning at Crescent, a new town ten miles north, and a hotel with sixteen inmates was blown down. Mrs. Clementina Arnold and her ten-year-old daughter were killed, all the others badly injured.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some eruptions of the skin, such as milk crust, scall head, scurf, or dandruff, sure to develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning, and disfigurement of which make life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, and a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a Little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, are often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure. Hence, no mother who loves her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and in bestowing upon them a child's greatest inheritance—a skin without a blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood,—should fail to make trial of the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston, Mass.
