In closing the plaintiffs pray that the defendants be enjoined during the pendency of the present suit in equity, not to interfere with or undertake to manage or control any of the business or property of Mrs. Eddy or to do any act whatever in her name or behalf under any pretext or under any power of attorney, and that a receiver be appointed to take possession of all the property of the said Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, now in the hands of the defendants and to make such ultimate disposition of all her estate as the court may hereafter decide to be wise and prudent."

SALT LAKE ROUTE RESUMES TRAVEL

Damage by Washouts is Repaired and Trains Go Through.

Los Angeles, March 2.—The Salt Lake road after being completely tied up since a week ago yesterday by washouts in Meadow Valley canyon, was opened for traffic both ways today. The first train out of Los Angeles will be the overland at 8 o'clock tonight. The limited train will leave tomorrow. Westbound trains are leaving the Salt Lake end of the road today. The damage to the road bed and loss of freight and passenger traffic has been considerable. The Salt Lake management, however, has been able to take care of all through business coming to them by diverting it over the Southern Pacific's northern route. Passengers who were delayed by the tie-up did not suffer. At Caliente, where several trains were stalled for some days, passengers were well cared for in addition to being entertained with social amusements of various sorts, visits to the big mines of the vicinity and other novel excursions.

OFFICIALS ARE LEAVING.
The first westbound train left this city last night and from telegraphic reports along the line has succeeded in getting past the wash-out region safely. No. 8 is expected to arrive in this city tomorrow night. H. E. Van Housen, division superintendent and assistants will return to this city as soon as train movement is again in running order. R. E. Wells, general manager of the line is expected to visit Salt Lake before returning to the coast. He was on a trip of inspection when caught by washouts. Kenneth C. Kerr, traveling passenger agent of the road, has been with the delayed travelers and has arranged no end of fun for them.

GOOD SHOWING MADE.
Union Savings & Investment Co. Declares Twelve Per Cent Dividend.

Of the entire accumulated earnings of the association, amounting to $22,718.11, more than 40 per cent was made under the present management; and the strong condition of the company is also indicated by the declaration Thursday by the directors of a 12 per cent dividend. The annual report showed that the gain from April 1, 1902, to Nov. 30, 1904, was $2,296.90, the gain from Dec. 1, 1904, to Dec. 31, 1905, was $7,044.11 and the gain from Dec. 31, 1905, to Dec. 31, 1906, was $9,377.10.

TWO GREAT SAVAGE STARS.

Miss Florence Easton and Francis Macellian, Who will be Here This Month.
Miss Easton comes from the Covent Garden, London, and is said to be a wonderful coloratura artist. She is one of the leading prima donnas in the Savoy grand opera forces, who come to Salt Lake on the march in, and who are at present the reigning musical sensation touring the country in "Madam Butterfly." Mr. Macellian will be remembered by Salt Lake as the high tenor Lohengrin of the Savoy company two years ago. The mail order sale begins on Monday. There will be no sales at the box office before the 17th inst., by which time the house will have doubtless been sold out.

Only 29 days more until the dress parade comes, Easter Sunday, When all of us have to dress up and look our best. Are you ready? If not, Hart Schaffner & Marx can make you so.

PARRENT MAKES SWEEPING EXPOSE

trying on a suit of clothes, when Larry O'Brien came over, looking very anxious. He said they had beat a pair of Scotch suckers out of $2,000 and the suckers were calling for a cop. He wanted them to come over as policemen, and handed them badges.

"DIVISION OF SWAG."
"I demanded to know what we were going to get out of it, and refused to go till a deal was made. He agreed to give us a third of all we took away from the suckers. I entered the room, swore Bell in as a deputy, heard O'Brien's story, and the tale of the Scotchman about how they had come over from Scotland, and been beat in a fake card game. I told them about the penalties for such things. Donaldson passed me his money—a foney roll—and I asked McWhirter for his. He laid down a roll of $1,000 bills, and some change, and also a revolver. He demanded a receipt and I gave it to him. He identified the receipt which was shown in evidence."

COULDN'T "LOSE" McWHIRTERS.
The witness after telling of the details of the trip to police headquarters with the McWhirter whom they would not "lose," and of the dinner at Donaldson's sisters, told of the arrival of Bell for $1,000, which he gave him, this to be spent in getting the "suckers" out of town. Bell had come direct from the private office of Sheets.

BANKED IN DESERT NATIONAL.
Next day the gang met to divide the plunder in Donaldson's room at the Imperial rooming house. Bell and Parrent were not to share in the $2,000 Donaldson had won at a fixed game of poker, but in the $3,370 they were to have a third interest, with $1,000 counted out as money given back to the McWhirters. Their share was a little over $2,400 and they refused to let the gang keep out, any as the share of Chief Sheets. They said they would do their own business with Sheets. Next day they banked in the Desert National bank the $3,000 and took $350 to sheets. Bell "phoned" him from a saloon across the street from the station. He walked south on State and they entered a second hand store where the money was delivered. Parrent looking through the door from the street while it was handed over. They then settled some bills, and gave Newton $50.

The most interesting item of how they got out of town when the McWhirters came back, was detailed. After seeing McWhirter in the saloon, they telephoned Sheets (the record shows it was "someone") and told him the McWhirters were back. They then went to O'Brien's home on West South Temple street to tell him and remained there over night. In the morning Raleigh came to the house and told them to get out of town, for the McWhirters had gone to tell him and they were their troubles. They left with Newton about $1,000 in checks to be cashed, and left. Newton never sent them their share of the money and Bell wrote from Kansas City demanding it. The court adjourned at 12 o'clock until 2 o'clock Monday.

NINE DIVORCE CASES IN COURT

Pathetic Stories Told of Unhappy Homes to Judge Morse Yesterday.

The pathetic side of the divorce question was more in evidence in Judge Morse's court yesterday afternoon than ever before. Several instances were related by different applicants for divorce which brought tears to the eyes of the interested parties and caused a silence to prevail in the court room which indicated a feeling of commiseration on the part of the spectators such as has rarely been seen before in the divorce court. John Book was the first to arouse the pity of those present in court. With tears in his eyes and with a broken voice he told of his wife having deserted him and eloped with a teamster in his employ more than five years ago. Not only did she leave but she also took their two children with her and since that time Mr. Book says that he has made every possible effort to find her and the children and has had circulars containing pictures of the children distributed all over the country in the hopes of finding some trace of them. He was married to Mrs. Book, whose maiden name was Louise Snyder, in Brigham City, in 1897, and she eloped with another man in 1902. Her step-father was a witness in behalf of Book and corroborated his evidence and the divorce was granted.

LEFT HIM WITH BABY.
August Gattaker also related a story of desertion on the part of his wife, Maria Gattaker, who deserted him in October, 1905, and left her nine-week-old baby with him. The child was in court with his father and sat on his knee while the father related the facts about the mother's misconduct. Gattaker said that the only reason his wife had for leaving him was because she was not satisfied to live in the country and wanted him to move into the city. He also wept while telling of the parting with his young wife. He said that he was of the opinion that she had gone away with another man but that he could not prove it. His mother corroborated his testimony and he was awarded a divorce and the custody of the child. They were married in this city on Nov. 19, 1904.

SENIOR DID NOT APPEAR.
The sensational charges of cruelty and infidelity made in the pleadings on both sides of the case of Josephine Senior against Fred J. Senior were not mentioned when the case came up for trial yesterday afternoon as the parties had evidently agreed on the terms of a divorce and Senior did not appear to defend the case at all. The divorce was granted upon the grounds of desertion and failure to support, as was charged in the wife's original complaint and nothing was said about the charges of cruelty and infidelity. The wife's amended complaint. They were married on Sept. 1, 1905, and defendant deserted plaintiff in November, 1905.

HE WELCHED.
The question of temporary alimony for plaintiff in the case of Margaret White against William J. White was fought out in court and it was shown that the parties to the suit had separated last October under agreement, and he had promised to pay her $50 per month for her maintenance. He kept up his payments until last month when he defaulted and the reason as he explained to the court that his wife was making enough money to support herself. At the conclusion of the evidence Judge Morse ordered White to pay his wife $50 at once and also $50 per month pending the final hearing on her suit for separate maintenance. Mrs. White lived in the Emery flats and her husband is a traveling man who she claims earns about $400 per month.

TOO POOR TO PAY.
William H. Stockdale convinced the court that he had been out of employment since December and hence had a good excuse for not paying his divorced wife, Amelia Stockdale, alimony in the sum of $5 per month. Upon the showing made he was purged of contempt and was discharged.

THREE MORE.
Judge Morse also granted divorces in favor of plaintiffs in the following cases: Mathilda Weer vs Charles Weer, desertion and failure to support; plaintiff given custody of two children. Blanche Boden vs Clarence Boden, threats to kill and general cruelty. J. E. Nuckles vs Lillian Nuckles, desertion.

The case of Johanna Jensen against Ewen P. Jensen was taken under advisement by the court for the reason that there was some doubt as to the legality of the services on the defendant.

"STRONG ARM" MEN.

Two of Erick Johnson's Assassins Are Now Behind the Bars.

In all probability the three men who, on Feb. 27 beat and robbed one Erick Johnson on State street between Fourth and Fifth South, will be identified within a few days and will have to stand trial for highway robbery. One of the men, Robert Wright, was arrested here yesterday and is now in the county jail in default of $500 bonds. Another man, referred to in the complaint as John Doe Jones, was arrested last night at Glenwood Springs, Colo. The authorities there wired Officer Carlson here as follows this morning:

"Have got Jones in jail. Think will have other man before 10 o'clock this morning." Up to this afternoon, however, no further word was received. Carlson will probably go to Glenwood to bring Jones back just as soon as the necessary papers are made out for the man's requisition. On the night of Feb. 27 three men attacked Erick Johnson, knocked him down and beat him until he was unconscious. They then robbed Johnson, of $4 in cash and escaped.

HAVING GREAT TIME THERE.

College Band and Cadets Greet Visitors—Salute Fired—Logan Leaves—Nothing Pleasing Undone.

(Special to the "News.")
Logan, March 2.—At 8 o'clock this morning the legislative train bound for Logan left Salt Lake. Dan, S. Spencer, assistant general passenger agent of the Oregon Short Line, represented his road on the train and a college committee comprising John A. McCallister and A. G. Barber did the honors for that institution. At Ogden 25 persons boarded the special, making the total number of passengers 300. An extra coach and diner were also put on and the train's make-up upon leaving the Junction city consisted of five coaches including the diner, J. A. Hendrickson, representing the Cache Valley Commercial club, took charge of the diner and an elegant luncheon was served during the trip. Mayor Robinson of Logan and President M. J. Ballard of the Cache Valley Commercial club boarded the train at Brigham City. The arrival here was made promptly at 12 o'clock. The visitors were conveyed to the college grounds where the cadets were lined up in a double row as a mark of recognition of the approach of the strangers. A salute of 17 guns fired on top of College hill was followed by stirring airs rendered by the college band. After a short tour of inspection around the grounds the legislators and those with them entered the college, being met and welcomed at the door by President Kerr.

HAVING GREAT TIME.
The head of the institution has an efficient reception and entertainment committee assisting him and nothing is being left undone to make the visit here pleasant and instructive. After a thorough inspection of the various departments of the college a luncheon was served at 2 o'clock in the domestic arts department. This feast was prepared and served by the fair students of the college. At 4 o'clock the town's guests go back into the city where they will enjoy roller skating until 5 o'clock when another feast will be spread by the Commercial club. The trip homeward will begin at 8 o'clock. Chief Justice Straup, President Kingsbury of the university and wife, President Love and eight members of the senate and nearly all members of the house are here. Speaker Joseph, however, is not along, as business forced him to remain in Salt Lake.

ONE-MILE LIMIT KILLED.

Idaho Senate Defeats the Bill by Vote of 11-10.

(Special to the "News.")
Boise, Ida., March 2.—The senate today defeated the one-mile limit bill by a vote of 11 to 10. The two-mile limit law now remains intact. Sheep men are wild with excitement, and great calamities to Idaho wool growers are predicted.

The two-mile limit law has been strenuously fought by the flockmasters who sheep roam the range. Under this law it is a misdemeanor to graze flocks of sheep within a couple of miles of settlements or the drinking water supply of residents. With Idaho rapidly being settled and the forest reserves being preserved, the grazing privileges on public lands are becoming greatly restricted.

DID NOT APPEAR.

New Record Established in Jury Trial During Absence of Counsel.

The failure of the attorneys for plaintiff to appear and prosecute their action was the direct cause of a new record being established in the matter of jury trials in the district court yesterday afternoon. The case of W. H. Miller, administrator of the estate of Daniel Miller, deceased, against the Diamond Coal & Coke company, was called for trial in Judge Lewis' court at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and within 20 minutes thereafter a jury had been secured, the evidence taken in behalf of defendant, the jury instructed by the court, a verdict returned in favor of the defendant, and the jury excused from further service in the case.

The action was brought to recover damages in the sum of $500 for the death of Daniel Miller, who was killed while employed in the defendant's mine at Oakley, Wyo., on Sept. 16, 1905. Maginnes & Corbett of Ogden were the attorneys for plaintiff and they had been notified Thursday that the case would be called for trial. The case was called for trial and Judge Lewis permitted Attorneys Richards, Richards & Ferry to impeach the jury, which was done in very short order, and to introduce the evidence for the defendant.

After this the court instructed the jury to return a verdict in favor of defendant finding that plaintiff had no cause of action against the defendant. The jury returned the verdict without leaving the jury box, and was at once discharged. The further consideration of the case, it is very probable that in the future attorneys will be more careful about appearing for trial when their cases are set.

IMMENSE PROFITS IN BANANAS.

Some Fortunate Utahns Who Have Secured a Choice Tract of Banana Land.

NEAR TAMPICO, MEXICO.

Lucky Purchase of J. M. Jensen & E. R. South—Will be Looked After by an Incorporated Company.

Mexico is famous for its productive areas and accounts of the yields in tropical fruits read like fairy stories; yet because of lack of proper facilities for transportation, the Republic is largely undeveloped to the present time.

True there are many acres of valuable land along the coast or on the large rivers, but it is next to impossible to purchase any amount of it. The Mexican Peen owns his two or three acre farm and finds himself enjoying an independent living obtained with very little exertion. He is therefore reluctant to part with his possession.

A few years ago there was living near Tampico, Mexico, a man named E. R. South, a man who was more fortunate than his fellows. He had an immense tract of land, 10,000 acres in all and he found himself a wealthy man, but trouble came to him and in a quarrel he killed a man. In the legal battle that followed he saved his life, his cash was exhausted and he mortgaged his plantation. The papers were held by the Bank National of Tampico. A foreclosure resulted and at this juncture J. M. Jensen, of Brigham City, and E. R. South of Logan came to Tampico in search of investment. They eagerly sought for and obtained the plantation in question, paying the amount asked then and there.

The value of their purchase can hardly be computed. Over 3,000 acres of the land is cleared and ready for cultivation. Every acre will support two hundred banana plants. These plants will yield fruit the first year after they are set out. Each plant will yield one bunch the first year, two the second and four each year thereafter. The bananas can be sold from $1.00 a bunch on the place, so that each acre will yield a small fortune each year. The cost of cultivation is so small it hardly figures at all—and our Utah friends who are fortunate enough to have purchased this tract are to be heartily congratulated.

Today articles of incorporation were filed and a company was organized to properly handle the plantation and make it yield its utmost. The personal of the incorporation is: J. H. Hancock of Hancock Bros. Commission Co., this city, president; J. M. Jensen of Brigham City, vice president; E. R. South of Logan, secretary; W. S. McCormick, treasurer. Directors are: J. M. Jensen, J. A. Hancock, George Spencer, Randolph, banker and merchant; A. G. Barber, Logan; W. A. Miles, Spanish Fork, miller.

Tampico is the principal sea port of the republic of Mexico and is also reached by two branches of the Mexican Central railway. This plantation is on the Panuco river, the largest in the republic and only 12 miles from Tampico. The river is navigable to ocean steamers so that a ship can be built on the place and shipments made direct.

That immense fortunes can be made in banana culture is certain and especially so where transportation facilities are so ideal as those enjoyed by the Tampico Fruit Co.

WANTS TO SEE BOOKS.

Spencer Clawson Has Been Refused Privilege by Clayton Investment Co.

Spencer Clawson today filed a petition in the district court asking for a writ of mandamus against the Clayton Investment company and I. A. Clayton, the secretary and treasurer of the company, to compel them to permit him to examine the books and accounts of the company and to allow his accountant to do so. It is alleged that plaintiff owns 604 shares of the capital stock of the Clayton company and that several times within the last two months he has applied to the secretary and treasurer for permission to examine the books of the company in regard to the receipts and disbursements, but the officer has refused to permit him to do so. He has also endeavored to have an accountant examine the books for him but the company has refused to grant him that privilege. A peremptory writ of mandamus was issued in the case today by Judge Ritchie requiring the defendants to show cause on next Saturday why they should not allow the plaintiff to inspect the books.

DEAN EDDIE CASE.

Ecclesiastical Court Finds Its Verdict And Sends Same to Bishop.

The ecclesiastical court appointed to try ex-Dean Eddie, formerly rector of St. Mark's cathedral, on a charge of an unnameable offense, has found a verdict which was sent sealed to Bishop Spaulding of this missionary jurisdiction of the Episcopal church. The court also sent a copy to the accused man who is now in California; but until Mr. Eddie has acknowledged receipt of the communication, Bishop Spaulding does not feel that it would be proper for him to have anything to say. In fact, it may not accord with canonical ethics for him to say anything even then.

The ex-dean has the right of appeal to an ecclesiastical court of review, which he is likely to do, as according to well defined reports, the verdict is against him. The penalty is dismissal from the Episcopal ministry, and from the pale of church membership.
