WHAT BILLY DELANEY SAYS.

Writes an Interesting Story of Ring Battles Won and Lost In the Early Days.

Billy Delaney, the veteran handler of heavyweight champions, and who now is trying to bring Al Kaufmann to the top of the ladder, has written the following story of a few of the old-time fighters which will interest those who were ringside patrons at the time, as well as the younger generation who have heard so many glowing reports of the boxers who battled then:

"Show me a fighter who has never seen California and I will show you ; fighter that never had the opportunity.

seen California and T will show you a fighter that never had the opportunity. "Since they stopped boxing in New York I have received a dozen letters from managers and fighters all anxious to come out here. The boxing clubs of San Francisco have landed more than one fighter on Easy street, and if the game isn't blocked this winter it will surely flourish two years more at least. Hefore we had any clubs prior to the Civil war California looked good to the guide and the bare knuckle brigade was as anxious to get here then as the glove pushers are today. Among the little fellows of the old school who found their way out here were Barney Aaroo and Nobby Clark. Barney was the lightweight championship of the world. Among the heavyweight visitors were Joe Coburn, Jack Magee, George Thomp-son, Bill Clark, John Morrissy, Yankee Suilivan, Tom Hyer, John C. Heenan and Australian Kelly, every one of whom could go some, and more than half of them had won the champion-ship.

ship. The first pair matched here were Jack Magee and Australian Kelly, who fought at San Mateo, and Magee won. OLD TIMERS FOUGHT.

OLD TIMERS FOUGHT. John Morrissy and George Thompson fought on Mare Island one morning and Thompson was defeated. These were the only two fights that took place in Cali-fornia in which the big fellows figured. There never was a more daring and ad-venturesome party than this same coi-fection of fighters, and the gold fever had, no doubt, a great influence in keep-ing the puglistic spirit in abeyance. The championship fights in which our visitors figured were as follows: Yan-kee Sullivan beat Bob Caunt at Har-per's Ferry for $2,500 a side. Tom Hyer defeated Yankee Sullivan in Maryland for $10,000 a side. After this fight Hyer retired. John Morrissy and Yankee Sul-livan met at the Boston Corners and fought for $5,000 and the title: Morrissy won. John C. Heenan was then matched with Morrissy. They fought in Canada for $50,000 a side. Heenan was winning when he smashed his hand against a stake, which cost him the fight. He then challenged Morrissy and offered to bet $10,000 he would win. Morrissy re-tired and Heenan became champion by default.

immediately challenged the world and Tom Sayers, champion of England, called him and Heenan suited for Eng-land, where their celerbated international battle took place. Heenan won fair-ly, but they handed him a package of English fair play and called the fight Jenglish fair play and called the fight a draw. Joe Coburn, another of our visitors, fought and defeated big Mike McCool for $2,500 a side and the championship of America. This was a pretty classy bunch, but we never hear their names mentioned nowadays. Morrisy and Heenan were boys together in Troy, N. Y. They left there about the same time-Heenan to make his home in California and Mor-rissy to settle in New York city. BILL POOLE WAS ROUGH.

In New York Bill Poole, as a rough and tumble fighter, was thought to be invincible. He had a tough gang behind him and their hangout was Amos street. "Dock" Morrissy agree to fight Poole rough and tumble on his own ground gree provised to go there all alone He Rough and tumble on his own ground and promised to go there all alone. He kept his promise, but what a mangling he got. He claimed he got double bank-ed and shortly afterwards a friend of Morrissy's shot and killed Poole. Mor-rissy served a term in the senate and two terms in Congress and no man ever left Washington with a cleaner record than this same rough and tumble Mor-rissy. than this same rough and tumble Mor-rissy. Heenan was an unlucky fighter. Al-though champion he never won a fight in his life, He was easily the most hand-some fighter that ever lived, a swell dresser and a clever card player. While in England he married the fascinating American actress, Adah Isaacs Menken. That was the worst match he ever made and he returned to America, but it was not the same Heenan. Consump-tion claimed him and when he realized he was up against it he asked to be sent to California, which was done, but he died on the train coming through Wyoming. COBURN LIKED TO MIX.

captain and manager of the team was a big fellow named Romez. He couldn't play much ball, but he had organized the team and was running it like a ty-rant. He was so popular during the ear-ly part of the season that they elected him presidente of his district and heap-ed honors upon him. "Then the club began to lose—and when we got over there it was in pretty bad shape. The first day we played there we trimmed the team 12 to 2, and the people went away sore and mad. Napoleon Lajoie, manager and second baseman of the Cleveland American league club, will, in all probability, have made as much money out of baseball as any other player in the business by the time he is ready to quit. In his 12 years of big league ball playing he has netted about $33,000, and since the Cleve-land manager and second baseman ap-pears to be of a careful nature the is probably well off in this world's goods. Lajoie's various contracts since the time he made his debut as a big lea-guer with the Philadelphia Nationals in 1896 show that he has gathered in that amount in salaries. He drew $2,100 his first year, $3,500 the next, $4,000 in the suc-ceeding season, $4,500 for 1890 and 1900, all the while being with the same club. In 1901 he joined the Philadelphia Ath-letics, and during the year and 1902 he received $3,500 each season for his ser-vices. them a trial, and procured a box at the F. J. Hill's drug store. ray, Rhymond and either Fromme or Lush. Take off your hats to the Giants that managed the deal, for there is the fel-low that seems to have secured the best of the deal. The Giants lose Roger Bresnahan. And Bresnahan is a good cutcher, But for a moment forget that. Roger is a better baseball player than he is a catcher. Ho is of the fighting, aggressive, scrappy, Johnny McGrew type of player. He isn't a great catcher. He doesn't rank with Kling or with Doin of the Phillies. He isn't the finished product behind the plate. He isn't a great deal better than Schlei-as a catcher-although he is an infinitely better baseball player. So what New York loses between Bresna-hand and Schlei is the superiority of the former in batting and in his general knowledge of the game and in the ag-gressiveness that Bresnahan displays.

The Cleveland team secured him under a three-year contract for $25,000 which agreement was renewed under another three-year clause at $23,000. Since 1905 Latole has managed the Cleveland team, and while he has never won a champion-ship, his club has always finished well up in the standing. This season Lajole's club was again a factor in the American league race, and it is said that he will be tendered an-other three-year contract to sign at the same salary which he is now receiving. #### COBURN LIKED TO MIX.

Wyoming. COBURN LIKED TO MIX. Joe Coburn was another character. His cousins, Johnny Saunders and Bob Far-rell, and his brothers, Jim and Mike, were all graduates of the old school. Joe had a weakness for fighting "coppers." His last battle was with Police Captain Williams, Joe lost by half a head and got 10 years in the bargain. When he arrived in New York after doing his time Sulivan was in his prime. He boxed Sulityan and wanted his friends to back him to fight John L. Yankee Sullvan was only a big middleweight, but they could not come too big or too tought for the Yank and he was not particular about the rules, either. Sullvan was born in Ireland, but whenever he fought his colors, the Stars and Stripes, were tied to the middle stake and therefore he got the name of Yankee Sullivan. A monument out in the di Mission churchvard bears the fa-scription, "James' Ambrose Sullivan," and under that monument lies the re-mains of Yankee Sullivan, a man who never knew the meaning of the word fear and one of the first victims of the San Frahelsco Vigilance committee of Tyss. They were a reckless body of men, but in their prize ring affairs they were houst and brave. They all had at least a streked of principle in their makeup and if Jack Gleason was a promter in those days and any two of them signed articles agreeling to fight before his club on Thankestiving eve would they, in consideration of a few dollars, run out on him and fight before another, but i don't think so.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT BIG BASEBALL DEAL

Watch the New York Glants in the National league and the St. Louis Browns in the American league, next year, writes Bill Balley. The three-cornered deal by which Bresnahan goes to the Cardinals. Mur-ray, Raymohd and Schlei to the Glants, and Karger and either Lush or Fromme to the Cincinnati Reds, strengthens the Giants in the spots where they wrse weakest-in the boxes and in the traveld.

And it makes them a whole lot more dangerous in next year's race than they were in the last. That is, if the other Glands play up to the rorm they dis-

Giants play up to the form they dis-played last year. And the deal that sent Lou Criger to the Browns made McAleer's men just about as strong an aggregation as there is in the junior major organization. Dissect that National league deal.

Corrigan is not in New Orleans, but the police say he was the instigator of the meet and assert they can hold him responsible. Colonel Heasilp, although president of the New Orleans Jockey club, declared he was opposed to the meet and would not be connected with it in any way. Only one race was run, and this was won by May Cella. Four horses were in the race, which was a quarter of a mile. Malcolm, Billy Strong, May Cella and Mr, Knapp were the starters. In the betting May Cella opened at 4 to 5 while the other horses were hold at 2 to 1. No attempt was made to interfere with the betting until after the race was run, and as soon as the result was an-nounced and an attempt was made to cash bets the police became active. If the prisoners are punished it is not likely that any more attemptis at racing will be made, the lightest penalty being a fine of 3100, together with a six months' jail term. If the prosecution falls, racing probably will be resumed

(By Tad.) (By Tad.) English sporting papers, as well as sporting papers all over the world, are sore at Tommy Burns and his unsports-manifice manners. In the case of a championship match the winner usually gets the big end and the laurels. Burns in his fight with Johnson has refused to box unless he was given the lion's share of everything. He had the articles written to suit himself. He had the 24-foot ring clause put in, he fixed the 24-foot ring clause put in, he fixed the 20-round limit, and set the date for the match. Johnson had to agree to ev-erything the Canadian said. He was the man who wanted to show that he could fight. The other had the phoney title. Burns today is the only champion (?) in the world who has been given a title. He is the only champion, not Burns. The Canadian has a bunch of pinheaded followers who like him because they have not enough sporting blood in their veins to give a colored man an even break with a white man in athletics. The color line is the greatest thing they know of. They hope in that without reason and Tommy Burns is their cham-pion, although he has been defeated by third-raters in this country. (By Tad.)

Oakland, Cal., Dec. 16.—There were a number of survises at Emeryville to-day. One of the upsets came in the third race, when Phillistina. 20 to 1 chance, gained a nose victory over Al-mena, another cutsider. Serenade, play-ed from 6 to 5 to 7 to 10, led until the stretch was reached, when she stopped badly. Deneen, the favorite for the second race, got away very poorly and though closing much ground could not catch Lord Provort, and Warden Yell.

DISGRACEFUL TREATMENT OF CHICAGO CLUBS

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 17.-According to an interview with Frank Chance, cap-tain of the Chicago National league team, last season, published here today, the half has not been told of the dis-graceful treatment accorded the Chicago Cubs by some New York fans and play-ers prior to the deciding game with the Glants on Oct. 8. "Fearing that they could not beat us even with the advantage of playing on their own grounds, the Glants deliber-ately planned to cripple several of our men before the game," said Chance. "For this purpose they had a dozen prizefighters congregated in a convenient place and the starting of a fight would have been the signal for them to jurap in and beat up some of our best men.
