CONFERENCE OF SALT LAKE STAKE

Three Interesting Meetings Held In This City Yesterday.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS.

Saints Instructed Against Affiliating With Outside Societies-Punes tuality Urged.

The quarterly conference of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion convened in this city yesterday, services being held in the Assembly hall at 10 a. m. and in the Tabernacie at 2 and 7 p. m. The attendance at the morning and evening theetings was rather light, but at the afternoon meeting the body of the Tabernacle was well filled. During the conference reports of stake organizations were read and adopted, the general and stake authorities were sustalued and remarks of an interesting and encouraging character were made.

President Angus M. Cannon presided. The conference opened with the choir and congregation singing, "Our God we reise to Thee." ayer was offered by President Joseph E. Taylor, "Redeemer of Israel," etc., was then reusemer of Israel, etc., was then sung by the choir and congregation.

President Charles W. Penrose read the statistical report of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion, and those of the Elders' quorums of the Stake, the Y. L. M. I. A., and the Primary associations. The general report of the stake gave 19,039 as the total number of officers and members residing in the Salt Lake Stake, and the total number of souls, including children under eight years of age, as 24,496, an increase of 790 officers and members for the year ending Dec. 51, 1902, and an increase of 397 children under eight years of age. Total in-crease in souls, 1.187. Other reports showed the following:

Stake Superintendent of Sunday schools, Josiah Burrows, reported the Sunday schools of the Stake, showing that they were growing and in a flourishing condition generally.

HIGH PRIESTS QUORUM. Elder David McKenzle, president of the High Priests' quorum of the stake, represented the condition of that qu The meetings were interesting and well attended. When the me bers of the quorum saw an opening to do a good work, it was seized upon with For instance, they were discussing the advisability of doing just such a work as the Church Bureau of Information is now doing; but the Church took hold of the matter and Then the High Priests went to work and furnished ammunition for the bureau workers. They created a fund and published several thousand tracts for free distribution.

YOUNG MEN'S ASSOCIATION. Elder George A. Smith, Stake super-intendent of the Y. M. M. I. A., stated that the statistical report of the association was not ready yet. There were thirty-eight organizations in the Stake.

The membership was larger than during past years. Where a ward had been divided and a new association created in the new ward, this new organization soon had as large a membership as the original association in the parent ward, while the member-ship of the old organization dld not seem to be diminished. He referred to I, A. missionaries who had been called to labor in the various wards of the stake, and to the good work they had accomplished.

ELDER JOSEPH E. TAYLOR.

President Joseph E. Taylor said all the auxiliary organizations of the stake had been represented, with the exception of the Relief society and the Kindergarten. He could testify that these organizations were in a correspondingly As an indication of the healthy condition of the entire people of the stake, said the speaker, he was pleased to state that the meetings of the High Council to try cases of wrong-doingdifficulties between brethren and sisters —are few and far between, consequently, the stake presidency and High Council had more time to devote to other matters of importance in the stake. Elder Taylor asked the president of the Elders' quorums to instruct the members of their quorums in regard to their duties as Latter-day Saints, to warn them of the wrong of dividin their interests with anything outside of the Church. There is a disposition of the part of some men who have been or dained Elders in the Church to seel affiliation with other organizations have ing no relation to the Church of Jesus ist of Latter-day Saints. The an christ of Latter day Saints. The an-cient adage is. "My son, give me thy heart." In connection with this there is another true saying. "Where the treas-ure is the heart is." Therefore, said the speaker, if the Scriptures be true, a man's attention is divided if he has anything treasured outside of the Church.

The speaker referred to the great improvement during the past year in the repords of the wards and of the suxliary associations. One regretable fea ture, however, was that the clerks sometimes failed to sign their names to

The speaker also referred to the lacrease in temple work in the stake, and to the changed conditions in the morals of Salt Lake City, as compared with what it was many years ago. Elder Charles W. Penrose presented the statistical and financial report of the Relief society for the year ending Dec. 31, 1902. The report showed a membership of 1.696, an increase ove the year previous of 92. A total of 425 meetings were held during the year, with an average attendance of 609. The society has 36 branches in this stake. The financial report showed cash on hand amounting to $3,010.52; merchandisc, $856.17; real estate, $10,458.20; cash for wheat, $1,526.62; making a total of $15,851.51, together with 4,466 bushels of wheat. Eight wards own their halls and seven have granaries. The report was adopted and placed on file.

Elder Penrose then presented the gen-eral and stake authorities of the Church all of whom, with but one exception, were unanimously sustained. The exception taken was against one person bone missionary. The home as a home missionary. The missionary list was as follows:

The speaker dealt with conditions existing in early times and paid glowvin, Wesley and Knox, all of whom had rendered yeoman service to the cause of truth. These men, together with many others, did their duty as they conceived it, but divine authority was lacking, and while they paved the way for something which was to come, they failed signally in revealing the word of God and in bringing about the desired unity of the falth. Their's was a preparatory work, but it remained for Joseph Smith, the "Mormon" Prophet, to bear testimony to the world that the Lord had spoken and that the angel which John saw had flown through the midst of heaven with the message of salvation to mankind. Thus was the truth restored, and though it had been beset with opposition it had fought its way through and had met with remarkable success. It was the only religion of the new world, the one system

ELDER RUDGER CLAWSON.

Elder Rudger Clawson of the quorum of the Apostles, was the first speaker. In opening he admonished the Bishops and presidents of quorums and auxili-ary organizations to open their meetings promptly at the time appointed, and thus inculcate the principle of punctuality. The people, particularly the young, should be educated to habits of punctuality, the speaker citing as an example the beautiful precision of all things in nature, which are controlled by our Father in heaven.

fact that the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints was distinctively Church of preachers. In no ward, stake or other organization was the preaching confined to a few officials, but all the members, including the sisters. were called upon by the presiding officers as the Spirit led, to instruct and teach the principles of life and salvathe members to so live that when calle upon to teach and preach they could lo so under the inspiration of the ho Spirit; then their testimonies would b in force upon all who heard them. The speaker continued at some length upon sundry duties of the Saints, dwelling particularly upon the need of better at endance upon quorum, ward and auxliary meetings, and strongly urging better attendance at the Sacramental meetings. ELDER W. W. RITER. Elder W. W. Riter was the next speaker. He commented upon the excellent reports of the various Church organizations of the stake, as given at this conference, and said he was particularly gratified in observing the progress and improvement noted. The peaker came to Utah in the ays, and when there were few opportunities for scholastic attainments, and he noted with great satisfaction the abundant opportunities now offered the youth of Zion in the Sunday school and ther organizations, to learn the truths the Gospel. He referred to the plo-eer singing classes taught by Elder Phelps, one of the early poets of the Church, and composer of many of our most popular hymns.
