

NEWS OF THE WEST.

Judge R. J. Hudson, of Lake County, California, Guilty of Bribery.

FAMOUS POSTAL CLEW, "OWEN."

Beatrice, Neb., Rich in Borgerite—Cheyenne's Cheap Fuel Available—A Wealthy Businessman Missing.

Twenty-two more of mineral specimens were recently shipped from Grand Valley, Cal., to Chicago for exhibition at the World's Fair.

The olive irrigation district of San Bernardino county on Saturday voted 50,000 in favor of water. It will be purchased immediately and piped to the land.

Harriet Abbey, aged 70, was drowned Saturday evening under the Fortieth bridge at Porterville, Cal., in one foot of water. It is supposed to have fallen off the bridge.

Fifteen miles of street trees are being planted at National City, Nev. Several miles were planted last season, and the Street Tree Planting association proposes to make National City a veritable forest city.

Justino Fuhrman, a wealthy manufacturer of Fortieth, Cal., has disappeared. The people of that vicinity have searched the surrounding country without finding any trace of the missing man.

The supervisors of Washington county, Ore., have taken hold of road improvements in a practical way. They purchased a road-making machine and are now giving the leading roads of the county a top dressing of broken stone.

Dr. Dixon, better known as Dr. Tripp, has been arrested at Seattle on the charge of obtaining drugs on false pretenses. The arrest is the result of a suit for assault brought by Tripp's clerk against the doctor at a wholesale house, who attacked him to secure payment for goods purchased.

Pocatello, Idaho, is threatened with an epidemic of scarlet fever. The county commissioners appointed a quarantine officer, who, in a few hours, located eight cases. At the meeting of the city council the mayor sent a message calling attention to the danger, and also to the filthy condition of alleys and streets. Prompt action will be taken to clean up the disease.

World's Fair Commissioner James A. Yerington has left Carson, Nev., for the World's Fair. He takes with him one of the best mineral and agricultural displays ever put together in the United States. Among the most interesting of the exhibits will be the two prehistoric footprints of man, taken from the Nevada state prison, where they were discovered in a sandstone drawing bed from the Pacific coast. They measure twenty-three inches long and the other was said to be thirteen feet high. Other mammoth

(footprints of bears and birds will also be displayed.)
The reports circulated by parties in San Diego, Cal., interested in making trouble between the United States and Mexico, in regard to the resurvey of the national boundary line between the two governments, that the line west of Yuma gave the United States a strip nearly two miles wide by the present survey, turns out to be untrue. The boundary line commission stationed at Yuma, that has resurveyed the line for a hundred miles west, have found all of the old measurements of the survey of 1852 exact to the cent. The resurvey of 1892 shows no change have been made in the line. The resurvey of 1892 shows no change have been made in the line. The resurvey of 1892 shows no change have been made in the line.

"Owen," the celebrated postal clerk, who travels all over the country by himself and by contract, is now in annual tour, has reached Cheyenne with Mail Clerk Drummond. He is the special part of the postal department, who is in charge of the mail trains. He has a large collection of medals gathered on his travels, which are attached to his belt. He is a very popular man, and is well known to the mail clerks and friendly strangers, and in which their names are registered. He is remarkably intelligent and makes friends wherever he goes. At Cheyenne many medals were awarded to him, and he was photographed in many pictures to be placed in the postal clerk's department at the World's Fair.

Another bold burglary has been attempted in Henderson, Neb. A. W. Miller of the jewelry firm of Miller & Brown, on Saturday morning had his attention attracted to an old spot on the floor in front of the store safe. Later in the day, on making further examination, a hole filled with putty was found to have been drilled in the safe door to the combination lock. The burglar had carefully removed all traces of the work, evidently with the intention of returning some night to complete the job. Entrance to the store had been made through a rear window, the lock to which had been removed by breaking out a small section of the glass. The store is located in the Faddock hotel block and next door to the hotel entrance. Nothing in the store had been taken, but the cases contained solid silverware and other valuable goods. He completely had the combination covered up their work that it was by the nearest chance that the visit was discovered.

The cheap fuel agitation which has been going on in Cheyenne, Wyo., for some time, has produced a determination among the citizens to develop the coal fields in the immediate vicinity of the city. Preparatory parties have been organized for the past few days and the discovery that have been reported have led the Home Protective association to organize a coal company to develop the coal fields. At their meeting the other night a committee of ten of the leading citizens appointed by the association prepared the details. The proposed company will have a capital of $100,000, to be raised by the issuance of 20,000 shares of $5 each. The report of the prospecting committee shows that a large quantity of lignite coal has been located at various points within twelve and eighteen miles of the city. One vein, four feet in thickness, was found near the center. Very good lignite has been discovered near the tracks of both the Burlington and the Denver Pacific roads. A prospecting drill outfit is to be put into the field about "Big Pete" and other veins.

The examination of "Big Pete" Anderson, who is in custody at Southern, Arizona, for the murder of Juan Lopez, is in progress. The testimony shows very much resemblance to the man of Fresno, owing to what one witness states as "the semolina and salt-baked" eyes of Anderson. It seems that a few Mexicans had come to a tent occupied by white men, who are employed by the Southern California company's contractors in the construction of the dam. That Mexicans have been making the night houses by drinking bowls in the neighborhood, that "Big Pete" and others were on a spree also, and becoming tired of the slightly disturbed, under the influence of liquor, and that one of the state sergeants, who was with the night watch, some of the party were developing into a riotous and disorderly crowd. Justice Dyer of Agua Caliente, and a thorough investigation is being had. It is likely that two more will be charged as accessories or principals to the murder.

The letter of a judge is not a satisfactory one every day remarks the San Francisco Chronicle, but when it is so frequent as to be a matter of course in the daily community, it is to be feared that the law is being broken. George A. Knight, the lady's attorney, to intimate that the time had come when it was necessary to wreck the reputation of Rodney J. Hudson, who was for eight years superior judge of Lake county. It is doubtful if the history of the judiciary in this state is more scandalous and infamous record can be produced than now attaches to the career of Rodney J. Hudson, who fortunately is no longer on the bench to further disgrace the office.

His Brother, Johnson-Pratt Drug Co. To give at the Fair. Fighting Hood's Sarcaparin, ask the people who take the medicine, or read the testimonials often published in this paper. They will certainly convince you that Hood's Sarcaparin is a most reliable method of following his lead with ill-gotten gains.

What a Pleasant Surprise Was. H. M. Henson, senior member of H. M. Henson & Co., 217 N. 2d St., St. Louis, writes: I've been hit with a very bad cough, the result of influenza, which nothing seemed to relieve, until I took Badger's Zephros cough syrup. One bottle completely cured me. I sent one to my sister, who had a severe cough, and she experienced immediate relief. I always recommend this syrup to my friends.
