

TRADE CONDITIONS SHOW IMPROVEMENT

Paying in Certificates and Checks Has No Apparent Effect on Business.

TONE OF REPORTS HEALTHY.

Jobs Carrying Over Past Due Accounts Tied for Many Years.

New York, Nov. 7.—Inquiry at the office of R. G. Dun & Co., today elicited the information that trade conditions throughout the United States during the past week have shown a marked improvement over the preceding seven-day period. The issuance of clearing house certificates and checks in communities where the circulation of currency has been restricted has had no apparent effect on the volume of trade. Especially is this true in the retail lines, where the demand generally has been steady and of increasing volume in the season advances. The tone of the incoming weekly reports is one of healthy industrial and financial conditions in every section heard from up to tonight.

In some instances there is a tendency to act upon a conservative basis in placing heavy orders for future delivery and this course is being counseled by the jobbers themselves, who already having the situation well in hand, are anxious that it should move forward on the soundest possible footing.

One of the most gratifying of the weekly reports from the principal trade centers is that the jobbers are carrying fewer past-due accounts on their books than for many years. In the iron markets there is a tendency to supply immediate needs only, but the price of the market has gone up. Business failures for the week have shown no appreciable increase over those of four weeks past, the percentage of failures reaching the 23,000 mark and over remaining small. These reports coming from the interior of the country were received with satisfaction in New York and were considered by business interests as indicating the ability of the rest of the country to weather the storm as successfully as did New York.

THE LUSCITANIA ESTABLISHES NEW RECORD

New York, Nov. 8.—With 10 millions of gold in her strong box, and a new transatlantic record written in her log, the Lusitania today sailed for Liverpool, the fastest ship in the world, at 1:40 o'clock this morning. In one grand performance the great vessel broke her own world's record and brought to the relief of the money market here $10,000,000 in gold in unprecedented time.

The westbound trip was made approximately in 4 days 19 hours and 10 minutes. The exact time cannot be known from the official record. Her hourly average was a little better than 24 knots an hour, and she has probably beaten the record about 40 minutes.

The former western record of the Lusitania, completed Oct. 11 last, was 4 days 19 hours and 52 minutes. The average on that trip was 24 knots an hour for the distance of 2,741 miles. The best day's run was 617 knots. The Lusitania fought out the last lap of her race against time in the teeth of a southwest gale. She had been favored by ideal weather until yesterday, when she ran into an off-shore storm that considerably bothered her. When she swept by the lightning this morning she cut her way through a tumbling sea.

The Lusitania came to anchor outside the bar, where she awaited daylight to come through the Ambrose channel, which is not lighted at night. She expected to dock about 6 o'clock this morning. With a big passenger list and unprecedented gold imports, she sailed from Queenstown at 10:30 p. m. Nov. 2. The Lusitania disappeared from land and down to the western of Daunt's rock she headed for Sandy Hook. The Lusitania steamed at top speed. Her 10 knots were 216, 613 and 610 knots up to noon yesterday. The best day's run beat her previous run for 24 hours by one knot. This run 613 knots was made in the 24 hours preceding Wednesday noon. Fair weather for the better part of the trip, and her machinery shaken down and running smoothly, both contributed.

From the passenger standpoint, the trip was a most delightful one.

WHITELAW REID ON TRADE.

Neither America Nor England Trading Out of Benevolence.

Nottingham, Eng., Nov. 7.—Whitelaw Reid, the American ambassador, delivered a speech at a dinner here tonight, given by the Nottingham chamber of commerce, of which he was a guest. Referring to the amount of trade carried on between the United States and Great Britain, Mr. Reid said: "Neither of us is trading with the other out of benevolence or philanthropy. We are doing it on business sides, mainly because we think we are thus getting the most for our money. This being the case, should not be, who for selfish or petty political reasons, enters a word or does an act to interrupt the present friendly relations between such customers, be characterized as one of the most pernicious of public enemies."

INTERNATIONAL FIGHT FOR GOLD

European Money Markets Trying To Prevent Export of Yellow Metal.

SO FAR AMERICA IS AHEAD.

High Rates of Discount Have, Thus Far, Failed to Accomplish Their Object.

New York, Nov. 7.—The contest of the European money markets to retain their gold resources was indicated by the simultaneous action today of three of the large central banks of Europe and a call for a meeting tomorrow of the governing board of a fourth. The Bank of England advanced its rate of discount 6 to 7 per cent, a rate which has not before been reached since 1875. The Bank of France advanced its regular discount from 3 1/2 per cent to 4 per cent, and fixed the rate for loans on securities at 4 1/2 per cent. The National Bank of Belgium advanced its rate of discount from 3 1/2 per cent to 6 per cent, and Dr. Koch, governor of the Imperial Bank of Germany, called a meeting of the governing board for tomorrow, which is expected to advance the discount of the bank from 8 to 7 per cent. These movements in Europe are regarded as an indication of special significance because it is the consistent policy of the Bank of France to afford commerce the benefit of a low and uniform rate of discount, and even to buy gold at a low unless conditions in the international money market make it necessary to protect the reserve.

The stock market reflected the pressure for money by considerable declines today, but these declines generally were expected by bankers, who looked upon the rapid advance in quotations of yesterday as hardly justified by the situation. There is a strong determination among conservative interests that there shall not be a large speculation for a rise at the present time. They believe that such a movement would not only be artificial and likely to lead to disappointments, but that it would make calls upon the money market which cannot well be met under present conditions. There are, no doubt, powerful speculators who would like to undertake manipulation in the market, but the influence arrayed against them are so strong that it will require hardihood on their part to take any course which is opposed to conservative banking opinion. The engagement of gold today brought up the total importation on the present movement to $40,425,000, an amount which would permit a loan expansion of more than $100,000,000 if the legal reserves had not been already impaired. The situation in regard to the trust companies is gradually becoming normal. The committee of trust company presidents is satisfied that their assets are ample to meet all of their obligations, and will give them all the aid offered in case demands on them should continue. Plans for regaining their old volume of business are under discussion, but will require some time for definite conclusions. The temporary scarcity of currency is being met very generally, according to reports reaching New York, by the issue of printed certified checks, or temporary interest-bearing notes, and in some cases by scrip issued by manufacturing and other non-banking corporations. This recourse was very generally resorted to in the panic of 1893, and practically no trouble arose from any such issues. Most of the scrip issued at that time was payable after a specified period, as 30 days or six months, but where issued by the banks with support of the clearing house, usually specified that the paper would be received on deposit at clearing house banks. Some question arose as to whether this paper would be subject to the tax of 10 per cent imposed upon the issue of notes to circulate as money by individuals or institutions other than national banks. This question was settled by Atty.-Gen. Olney after the panic was practically over, in an opinion of Nov. 21, 1893. The captions of that opinion pretty well express its text—that the act on state banks imposed by the act of Feb. 8, 1875, chapter 35, section 19, applies only to promissory notes, and not to other negotiable or quasi-negotiable paper. The attorney-general advised that three of the instruments submitted to him were plainly not notes, but checks, and might be left out of consideration. The test case was on a certificate of the clearing house of Albany, Ga., which stated that there had been a deposit of securities to double the amount of the obligation to the bank which was responsible for the note, and that these securities were deposited for the payment of the bank or bearer in lawful money of the United States at six months, from date, or earlier, at the option of said bank. The attorney-general not only laid down a rule that such paper was not subject to the 10 per cent tax, but he also cited the general rule of law, which will undoubtedly afford an adequate protection for all such use in the present case, that if there is any doubt as to the meaning of the statute imposing the tax, the doubt must be resolved in favor of exemption.

The Intelligent Thinker

makes fewer blunders than the man who plugs away "without thinking." The blunderer has to be corrected, supervised—much of his work done over by himself or some one else. This takes time and, in business, time certainly is money. The money used on the man who does not "think intelligently" might be added to his salary—in part, at least—if he knew how to save it by always having a clear brain and putting money-making thought into his work. The character of food has a lot to do with a money-making brain.

WOULD HAVE DIED BUT FOR CUTICURA

Five Children Suffered With Fearful Skin Troubles—One Little Girl's Eyesight Was Endangered—A Grateful Woman Writes of

FIVE PERFECT CURES BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"Cuticura Remedies saved my two children. My little girl's face was so covered with sores that she could not see and I thought at one time that her eyesight was gone for good. After two doctors had failed to do her any good, I tried Cuticura. I did so and in two or three days we could see a great change and in four weeks she was well and her face was smooth and had cured nicely. She had been sore for three months so that she could not rest night or day. My little boy was sore all over. His head was a solid scab. First we tried a doctor who did him no good, but the first time I bathed my son's head with Cuticura Soap and put Cuticura Ointment on it, he rested better at night and the next morning his head was much better. In five weeks he was well. I cannot say enough for the Cuticura Remedies. I used them and then my baby would have died. My little sister, Nora S., had a terribly sore face. I told my mother of the Cuticura Remedies. She used them and the child's face soon got well after the best doctors had failed. Pearl B. used Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills for sores on her body and face, and little Pinky S. had a sore head. Her mother used Cuticura Soap and Ointment on it and she was soon well. Mrs. Mary Hicks, Suberland, Dinwiddie Co., Va., Apr. 15, 1907."

ECZEMA ON FACE

Cured by the Cuticura Remedies. "I had eczema in very bad form all over my face for the past four months. Physicians in several towns prescribed for it without giving me any result, but four weeks ago I commenced using the Cuticura Remedies, consisting of one cake of Cuticura Soap, one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and to-day I am perfectly well. ## SENATOR HEBURN MAKES A PROTEST

To President Against Further Deposit of Government Money in New York Banks.

BEHALF OF WESTERN PEOPLE

Unless Those Institutions Will Consent To Pay Bank Reserves of West in Cash.

Washington, Nov. 7.—The demands of national banks for increased circulation continue unabated. For the past five working days the treasury department has increased its circulation to the amount of $1,367,450 and it is likely to be largely increased. Treasury officials encourage the belief that the money stringency has passed its most critical stage.

Protest was made to President Roosevelt by Senator Heburn of Idaho today against the further deposit of government money with New York banks until those institutions consent to pay the reserves of western banks in cash instead of cashier's checks. The president requested the senator to put his views in writing.

The following is the text of Senator Heburn's protest:

"On behalf of the people of the western states, and especially those of the northwestern states, I would urge that no further deposits of money from the treasury of the United States be made in New York banks except on the condition that such banks shall immediately make available in money to the banks in such western states the full amount of the reserves held by such New York banks on account of such western banks."

The tying up of many millions of dollars of western money, representing the reserves of the western banks held by New York banks, must inevitably result in empowering the New York banks to determine the time and conditions of free resumption of banking functions by the western banks, whereas if the reserves of the western banks could be converted into cash, the money at once the financial situation of the west would be free from domination on the part of the east and the west would be enabled to take the initiative in the restoration of desirable financial conditions, rather than remain, as at present, a fellow sufferer."

AMALGAM THEVES WERE TRAPPED

Ralph S. Gipple Tells Story of Attempt to Rob Goldfield Reduction Works.

Goldfield, Nev., Nov. 7.—With tears streaming down his face, Ralph S. Gipple tonight told the story of the disastrous attempt to rob the reduction works. He declared that Jones, the night watchman at the mill, deliberately lured him and Kline into a trap. "I knew Jones intimately and we were warm friends," said Gipple. "Jones told me and Kline that it would be an easy matter to take amalgam off the plates when the mill was closed down, and that we could make two or three thousand dollars easy money. Kline had been buying amalgam from others and shipping it to the mill, taking a commission for his work. He thought it would be a good scheme, and last night we went to a mill where we met Jones. Jones took us inside and showed us where the plates were. The mill was lighted up and we felt perfectly safe. While we were at work some one called 'Hands up' and I immediately ran upstairs, kicked open a window and jumped out. I don't know whether Kline attempted to use his gun, but it seemed to me that the officers commenced shooting immediately. When I jumped out of the window and started to run across the yard, some one lying behind a knoll, I believe it was Jones, took a shot at me. I ran home and waited for Kline, hoping he had escaped. Then I realized that it was a trap, and went to the house where the officers found me."

To obtain the best results from our efforts is or should be our constant aim—in the business life, or in the home circle—in the serious affairs which cross our path or in the moments given to relaxation and pleasure. Your stomach manufactures energy for the body from the food you eat. The condition of your blood, nerves, brain, bones, muscles and flesh depend upon the nourishment extracted from the food. When you are pale, nervous, weak or out of condition you may be sure that your stomach is not working properly. Food is passing through it without being converted into health-giving elements. You are not getting the good out of what you eat. The stomach does not need more food—it simply wants the power to get the nourishment out of the food. And the stomach can get this power from Beecham's Pills.

Beecham's Pills mingle with the contents of the stomach, and insure proper digestion and assimilation. They strengthen the entire digestive tract and increase the good from the food by assisting the stomach to make use of the blood-making and health-making properties in the food. Not only do Beecham's Pills do this, but they stimulate the liver to healthy action and aid the kidneys in the functions of purification and elimination. Beecham's Pills will make you feel fit and well and able to enjoy life.

For weak stomach, mal-assimilation, dyspepsia, indigestion, weakness, poor blood, and all conditions caused by lack of nourishment, there is no other remedy so prompt, safe and reliable as Beecham's Pills.
