Henry Glens Advocates the Issuance of More Bank Notes.

THE FINANCIAL SKY CLEARING.
Henry Percepsibly Easier, Vigorous Speeches at a Mass Meeting in Nevada.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—Comptroller Nelson has received the following letter from Henry Glens, of Nevada: "The national bank was certainly should be amended to provide for notes being issued up to the par value of United States bonds and another amendment would also be made to provide for the issue of notes against the surplus capital of national banks to the extent of 10 percent thereof. These two changes would make a total of about $100,000,000, a sum which would be a great relief to the nation with the least and most legitimate kind of trouble. "The New York banks now have a surplus over their capital of over $7,000,000, the national banks of other cities and elsewhere probably $100,000,000 in addition. This banking in cash or its equivalent, in notes, issues against the same would make them the strongest and most legitimate character of money in circulation. No stronger kind of money could be devised. The sum against which the issue of these notes would be made would be under the National bank inspectors' inspection. The national income to the purpose of the banks would also give an elastic character to such money, which is a very desirable feature."

A Better Financial Outlook.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—There is general confidence among the officials of the treasury department that the financial situation is improved and an advance to improve. As far as this is concerned, a modification received from the committee of the currency this morning, that three more national banks had failed, did not cause any serious uneasiness of a return to the critical state of the past several weeks.

San Francisco Herald.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—The semi-annual report of the San Francisco savings banks was made public today. The twelve savings banks are shown to have resources aggregating $129,000,000.

Vigorous Speeches.
RENO, Nev., July 15.—At a mass meeting held here tonight vigorous speeches were made by Hon. F. G. Newland, Nevada's Congressman, and others, and resolutions adopted amid great enthusiasm, giving a lengthy review of the financial situation for a number of years past.

THE CHOCOLATE CASES.
Governor Jones, writes the Secretary of the Interior.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—Secretary Hoke Smith of the Interior department today received a letter from Chief Justice of the Cherokee nation, in which he pointedly expresses his views as to the interference of the government in the execution of the nine Indians sentenced to be shot. He says: "There is no law or constitutional provision authorizing the principal chief of the Cherokee nation to nominate or lay the sentence of any one convicted of murder or sentenced to death under the laws of the nation. However, as a result of your letter and a conference with Council Feltus, Indian inspector, I conferred with the officials of the nation and arrived at the conclusion that it would be advisable and politic to have the execution of the accused parties delayed by the judge of the court in which they were sentenced. This course will leave a very grave question open and will afford the convicted parties an opportunity to escape the inevitable punishment meted out to them. "All these parties were regularly and duly indicted by the grand jury, tried by jury, and represented by counsel and convicted in accordance with the law. "Notwithstanding that self-government is guaranteed us by the law, the United States, three times in succession, has interfered and obstructed the administration of the law. However, being anxious and desirous of restoring amicable and friendly relations with the United States, and to ascertain how the law will be carried out when the United States will cease to interfere with the execution and administration of our laws, so we can govern ourselves intelligently and feel assured of their effective and moral support of the United States, I concluded to request the judge of the court to delay the execution of the sentence until August 1st, so that the fullest investigation could be made by you."

China Exaggerates.
WASHINGTON, July 15th.—A letter was recently received at the state department from Mr. Denby, United States minister to China, accompanied by a communication issued by the Chinese authorities, in which it is stated that the 100,000 Chinese who returned to China from the United States the last year would be prevented by law from again entering this country. An investigation by the treasury department developed that more than 100,000 Chinese have returned to their native country, and the exaggeration is still more apparent when it is taken into consideration that only a small proportion of Chinese leave the country with the intention of returning.

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

We want to say to our patrons and the public in general that we know times are harder than they ought to be, that money is a little "too close for comfort," and that every clothing store is selling goods now at very low prices. But we want to say further, because it is true, that if all the goods that are being sold, were at the lowest, and all the low prices that are being charged, were the lowest, there is a way to prove this, if you doubt it. Compare their goods with our goods, their price with our price, and you will find that we are right, and that
