

GOV. CUMMINS TO SECY. SHAW.

Authority for His Statement Was
The Secretary's Close Personal
And Political Friend.

HE BECAME VERY SARCASTIC.

This Friend Might Misunderstand the Governor but Impossible for Him
To Misunderstand the Secretary.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 28.—Gov. A. B. Cummins today made public his reply to the letter of Secy. of the Treasury Shaw, who criticized him for misquoting the secretary in his speech before the Chicago reciprocity convention.

Gov. Cummins shows that he said the quotations were from an editorial in the Des Moines Daily Capital, whose editor attended the banquet of Des Moines bankers where Mr. Shaw made the address and who is a warm supporter of the secretary. The letter follows:

"I have the honor to acknowledge your letter of the 26th inst., in which you challenge a statement that I recently made in an address delivered before the National reciprocity conference at Chicago. The statement is as follows:

"The secretary of the treasury, in a speech recently delivered at Des Moines, is reported as saying that the explanation of the refusal of the senate to consider the French treaty is that it gives everything to France and nothing to the United States. I must do him the justice to believe that he never read the treaty, for otherwise he has committed a grave offense against the properties of debate."

"The quotation is accurate. I made the statement. You say respecting it, 'I know that I did not say it, or anything that could be so interpreted, but I was not so sure about the report. The occasion was an informal luncheon, and the speech was impromptu though not extemporaneous.'"

"You further say: 'Knowing, therefore, that you would not violate the properties of debate by quoting without authority as having made a specific statement, I write to you to inquire where you saw the report of my speech as given in your Chicago address. I have not seen it and I wish to correct the record as soon as possible.'"

"I am sincerely grateful to know that you deny having made the statement, for it was impossible for me to reconcile it with the truth, and I am not less gratified to be given the opportunity to advise you of my authority for imputing the sentiment to you. You may be against the French treaty and I may be for it, but you can no more afford to mislead the public concerning its provisions than I can afford to misrepresent the statements you make to justify the inaction of the senate."

"You are quite right in determining that both of us have had too long an experience in the trial of words to believe that any substantial victory can be won either through any falsehood or passive suppression of the truth. I therefore promptly and with authority for stating you were reported as saying in your speech at the Chicago address that the senate failed to approve the French treaty because it gave France everything and the United States nothing."

"In the Des Moines Capitol of Saturday, May 27, 1905, (the day after your speech here), you will find a long editorial entitled 'Secretary Shaw.' It deals wholly with your speech of the day before. I quote that part of it upon which I relied in my address at Chicago:

"In his own original way he drove home certain facts that will be remembered. He exposed the proposed French treaty in all its deformities, demonstrating that we were offering France a tremendous bargain and getting practically nothing in return."

"If this be not a sufficient basis for the statement that I made in Chicago, I have yet to learn the meaning of the commonest words of my mother tongue. Lafayette Young, the editor of the Des Moines Capital, was present at the luncheon and heard your speech. He is your political friend and ally. He is in sympathy with your views. He is himself a speaker of wonderful power and knows what words mean. He writes constantly concerning the tariff and reciprocity, and could not have been mistaken with respect to the trend and conclusion of your argument."

"When he wrote in his vivid and striking way that you 'exposed the proposed French treaty in all its deformities, demonstrating that we were offering France a tremendous bargain and getting practically nothing in return,' it was not possible for me to doubt that you had said what he had imputed to you. I know that he could easily misunderstand me, but it is incredible that he should misunderstand you."

"Following your example, I will hand a copy of my reply to the newspapers at the time I mail this letter. With high regard, I am, yours very truly,"

"ALBERT B. CUMMINS."

LIE IS PASSED IN TAGGART DIVORCE CASE

Wooner, O., Aug. 28.—Promptly upon the opening of court today Mrs. Grace Taggart entered the room. In anticipation of her appearance, the courtroom filled rapidly and a large audience was present.

Contrary to expectations, Mrs. Taggart was not placed on the stand at the opening. A controversy occurred between the attorneys about a letter referred to in some papers received from the war department by Mrs. Taggart's attorneys. Mr. Wells was put on the stand and asked some questions by ex-Judge Smyser about the letter. After considerable discussion the letter was read. It was from Adj.-Gen. Corbin and referred to the charges of Gen. Miles.

It was to the effect that the report had been shown to the secretary of war and he regretted that an unfavorable report from a man otherwise an efficient officer; that Capt. Taggart should be admonished about his conduct; that strict watch should be made that he keep the pledge he made and that for some time a monthly report of his conduct should be made to the war department. The inference made by Mrs. Taggart's attorneys was that the letter had been removed from a number of papers received from Washington. This was refuted by Mrs. Taggart's attorneys. As Mr. Wells left the stand he made some remark to ex-Judge Smyser which the latter resented.

At this point Wells called Smyser a liar and a great deal of confusion prevailed. The feeling was intense and bitter for a minute. Judge Eason finally quelled the disturbance.

Capt. Taggart was again called to the stand for a few moments and asked about the papers received from the war department. He stated that they were just as they were when they came.

Nerve Fag.

If You Waste Your Nerve Energy, After Awhile You Will Suffer For It.

You can waste nerve force by excess, over-work, worry, anxiety, etc. You can weaken yourself by not eating proper food or securing sufficient rest to renew the nerve energy you use up. The proper treatment, in addition to good phosphoric food, such as whole meal bread, prepared cereals, etc., is Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve.

This is as truly a brain and nerve food as any food you could eat, and besides, furnishes strength and tone of its own, which goes to the weakened nerve system, and sets it to rights.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve is a refreshing, restorative tonic food for the brain and nerves. It reconstructs worn-out nerve tissue, and fills your languid brain with new life and vigor.

Dr. Miles' Nerve has made so many marvelous cures, of people so sick the doctors thought they were incurable, that it is today the standard medicine in many thousands of American homes. The first bottle is guaranteed to help you, or druggist returns your money.

The extreme heat, close confinement and intense mental strain incident to the banking business, has caused me to suffer with nervousness and insomnia. It gives me pleasure to say that I have used Dr. Miles' Nerve with very good results. I am now on my fifth bottle, and can sleep well. In fact, I have almost forgotten that I possess nerves.—R. L. DALRYMPLE, Asst. Cashier, State Bank, Tazewell, Ill.

that nothing had been removed from them whatever.

Mrs. Taggart then took the stand in her own behalf. She said she was 35 years old. She stated that she was adopted by the Culver family in Chicago when she was three or four years old, that her adopted father, who at one time was president of the Chicago board of trade, had given her every educational advantage. Asked as to her marriage with Capt. Taggart, she declared it had been a pure love match.

MURDERED FOR THEIR MONEY AND THEN CREMATED

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 28.—Murdered for their money and cremated in the building where they lived, to hide the evidence of the crime was the fate of Philip H. Ross and his wife, a young couple who have been living near Kerrystown, a small town on the Northern Pacific railway near Kenosha, in this county on Sunday night.

Last March Ross and his wife located about two miles from the town of Kerrystown and Ross opened a saloon, living with his wife above the saloon building. All of the people living in that locality have been in the habit of having their checks cashed by Ross and he always kept a considerable sum of money in the saloon for that purpose.

About 11 o'clock yesterday morning, A. A. Kory, of the Kerrystown company, had occasion to go out to the Ross home and when he arrived found the building in ruins and the charred remains of the young couple in the debris.

The coroner's office in this city was at once notified and Deputy Coroner Willis went out late this afternoon to make the investigation.

Over the long distance telephone Dr. Wittie stated tonight that Ross and his wife had been murdered for their money by parties unknown and the bodies burned for the purpose of hiding the crime.

A broken man on the Northern Pacific train saw the reflection of the fire about 11 o'clock Sunday night and as the saloon always remains open until nearly midnight it is not considered possible that Mr. and Mrs. Ross could have been burned to death without any chance of escape.

The remains were so charred that it was almost impossible to ascertain whether there was any marks of violence on the bodies.

BABY'S HEAD ONE SOLID SORE

Little One's Terrible Suffering and Sleepless Nights of Mother—Skin
Now Fair as Lily with No Scar to Recall Awful Sore,

WRITES MOTHER IN
THANKS TO CUTICURA

"I herewith write out in full the beginning and end of that terrible disease eczema," says Mrs. Wm. Ryer, Elk River, Minn., "which caused my babe untold suffering and myself many sleepless nights. My babe was born seemingly a fair, healthy child, but when she was three weeks old a swelling appeared on the back of her head, and in course of time broke. It did not heal but grew worse, and the sore spread from the size of one to that of a dollar. I used all kinds of remedies that I could think of, but nothing seemed to help; in fact, it grew worse. Her hair fell out where the sore was, and I feared it would never grow again. I continued until my aged father came on a visit, and when he saw the baby he told me to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment right away."

To please him I did so, and to my surprise by their use the sore began to heal over, the hair grew over it, and to-day she has a nice head of hair, her skin is as fair as a lily, and she has no scar left to recall that awful sore, and it is over eight months and no sign of its returning."

CURE PERMANENT

"Your letter of the 19th inst. received, asking in regard to the cure of my baby some six years ago. Well, the disease has never returned to her head, while at that time was a solid sore on top and down the back."

M'CASKEY IN FAVOR OF ARMY CANTEEN.

He Recommends its Re-establishment and Increased Pay for Marksmanship

SALE OF MILITARY CLOTHING

Measures Should be Taken to Stop it—
Wants Government to Pay for Baseball Trips.

Washington, Aug. 28.—In his annual report for the department of the Colorado, which has just been received at the war department, Brig.-Gen. William S. McCaskey, commanding, recommends, among other things, the re-establishment of the canteen feature of the post exchanges and also increased pay for marksmanship.

Gen. McCaskey states that during the past year strong effort has been made to stop the sale and improper disposition of military clothing by enlisted men, and that trials before United States courts of civilians charged with buying arms, ammunition and clothing from soldiers have not resulted in convictions. He makes the recommendation that uniform clothing should be so marked that no question could arise as to its issue by the government, and upon the discharge of a soldier, or if for any other cause he may become separated from the service the clothing should be purchased by the government and destroyed.

In view of the fact that large bodies of troops are constantly traveling to and from the Pacific coast, Gen. McCaskey recommends that a standard kitchen car for a command not less in size than a battalion should be adopted, so as to enable the troops to be subsisted on the regular or garrison ration and with much greater comfort and convenience than at present.

The following recommendations as to athletics are concurred in by Gen. McCaskey:

"That there be three post field days during the year, one each in March, June and September, instead of the monthly field days now prescribed.

"That annual division or departmental championships be held during October of each year.

"That during the season the different ent post baseball teams be allowed to visit at other posts in the department at government expense."

The report calls attention to the large number of officers absent from their organizations on detached duty, and suggests as a partial relief from this condition that legislation be secured by which officers on general staff duty may be placed on the same footing as those detailed in the staff departments, so that their detachment from line duty may create vacancies.
