Horace B. Owen's Experiences.

WOODRUFF, Navajo County, Arizona.

To the Editor:

I seat myself to write you a few lines to give a short story of myself. I was born in Mercer county, Pennsylvania, on the 23rd day of June, 1819. At that time the Gospel came to us. My father's family were living in Portage county, Ohio. It was brought by Lyman Wight and John Whitmer. I was prepared for the Gospel and embraced it at once—Sylvester Hulet says it was on the 2nd day of March, 1831. I was baptized at the same time that his mother was. The snow and ice was about a foot deep. I was the first of my father's family to embrace the Gospel. In the spring the whole Whitmer family came from the state of New York—amongst the rest Joseph came, and they stopped in our settlement. Joseph stayed there awhile and then in the spring moved over into the next township west. The name of the township where we lived was Nelson; the name of the township that Joseph went to was Hyrum. He moved into the house of Father Johnson and it was while he was living at Father Johnson's that he took a trip west and located Jackson county. This was in 1831. Early in 1832 our branch moved to Missouri. My father located his family about twelve miles west but eventually moved into Independence where we were living at the time that the brethren gave up their arms. I was a boy at the time so I was not with them—it was about one and a half miles west of Independence where the incident occurred and they agreed to leave the county. The mob passed right by our house and I saw L. W. Boggs in the ranks with his gun on his shoulder—he was lieutenant-governor at the time. The brethren then moved over the river into Clay county and from there we moved to Far West, Caldwell county. We stayed there until the mob rose as a state, and L. W. Boggs as governor ordered us to leave. Then we went over into Illinois. I was married in Nauvoo in the fall of 1845 to a young woman by the name of Sally Ann Layne. I worked for a man by the name of J. D. Lee. He agreed to take me to California—that was the place we expected to go to; but when he got me as far as Pisgah he set me down here. From there I went down into Missouri and stayed there until I got an outfit of my own. This was in 1852, and then I came to the Valley. I have worked more or less on four different Temples, and now I have got down into Arizona and I am so poor that I expect I will have to remain here—I cannot go any farther.

To the Editor:

On September 14 a small company started from their respective homes and met at St. Joseph on the Sabbath and attended Sunday school and meeting. There were of the presidency of the Stake L. H. Hatch and Joseph H. Richards. Also Emma S. Smith of the Relief Society, and Smith D. Rogers who represented the Sunday schools and Young Men's Mutuals. Good instructions were given to the people of St. Joseph, who treated us just as well as they could. September 16 we started on the journey to Tuba, a distance of two hundred miles. Our company consisted of five men, four women and baby Ray. We were provided with eight horses and two wagons, plenty of provisions and plenty of watermelons, to last the entire trip, thanks to the good folks of St. Joseph.

The first morning Elder Richards was injured so badly by a horse kicking him that he was compelled to go back home, which we all regretted very much. Our company was organized with captain, chaplain and chorister. We sang hymns every evening and offered prayer morning and evening.

We arrived in Tuba the evening of September 2nd. Saturday, and on Sunday Elder Hatch and company held seven meetings and had a pleasant time with the people of Tuba ward. They are blessed with a bountiful harvest of fruit and grain; Bishop Brinkerhoff, with the aid of his boys, raised 1,270 bushels of wheat.

September 23rd we went as far as Mowathy and held an evening meeting; were greeted with good treatment during our entire stay in this isolated region. It really seemed like an oasis in the desert.

September 24th — Started toward home, when between ten and eleven o'clock a wheel of Bro. Rogers's wagon broke completely down. Brothers Hatch and Rogers took the broken wheel and went back to Mowathy, a distance of about six miles, where Bro. Riley Allen went right to work with his hands and tools and did all he could and the wheel was mended when the brethren returned, and by six in the evening we were traveling again. We spent many pleasant hours listening to Elder Hatch narrate some incident of his life.

Arrived in St. Joseph September 28th, just in time to keep from getting wet. The next day, the Sabbath, was spent in attending Sunday school and meeting and talking to the people.

Yours respectfully,
EMMA S. DECKER.

ONE THOUGHTLESS HOUR.

How a Glad Vacation Was Followed By Bitter Pain.

A TREACHEROUS ENEMY

A Common Experience and the Lesson It Contains for People Fond of Living Out of Doors.

A young man in Philadelphia was fatally injured not long ago by so innocent a thing as a cuff button. He fell in such a manner that the button was driven deep into the flesh of his wrist. The wound though painful, was not considered dangerous, and no great precaution was considered necessary until signs of lockjaw appeared. Then, of course, all treatment was useless.

This is one example of the power for mischief of little things. Here is another less dramatic, but more common and, therefore, more impressive. People who went from town to country in the beautiful summer of 1895, delighted to spend most of their time out of doors. They even lay on the soft grass at night, watching the stars and enjoying the cool breeze. If, upon rising, a man found his back stiff he said, "I must have been in one position too long." If the stiffness persisted until the next day he said, "I guess I must have taken a little cold."

But now vacations are all over and the autumn is well advanced. The soreness and weakness in the lower part of the back continue and with them are other disorders. Shivering and fever alternate, there is an unconquerable feeling of lassitude at times, the urine is opaque and sometimes bloody, the skin is pallid and the face bloated just beneath the eyes. Digestion is poor and appetite almost gone.

Let us look the matter in the face without flinching. This is more than a little cold, although in the beginning it was only a sudden checking of the action of the skin and kidneys. Now it is the dreaded Bright's disease, a foe to life quite as deadly as consumption. Common sense would dictate that no time be lost in vain regrets that more prudence was not exercised in the country. Let us find a remedy, if we can.

We are fortunate to know that Warner's Safe Cure will bring back health and energy, and the normal action of the kidneys. It's the function of the kidneys to expel from the system broken down tissue in the form of urea and uric acid, together with certain salts that have done their work. No other organ than the kidneys can rid the body of this death laden matter. Congested, inflamed kidneys act as a drain to keep poison in the system.

What makes Warner's Safe Cure the wonder and admiration of the medical profession, is its power to subdue the inflammation in the kidneys and to allay the congestion so that the urine, once more healthy in color and consistency, carries away the waste freely and promptly.

One does not necessarily die soon of Bright's disease. He may lead a miserable uncertain invalid life for years. But what weary dragging years they are! Let the sufferer shake off his burden of sickness and suspense. He will find hope and health in Warner's Safe Cure.
