

SPRING MOVEMENT OF LIVESTOCK

Big Shipment of Cattle Opens the Ball For Utah This Season.

ARE HUNDREDS OF CARLOADS.

Sheep by the Trainloads Booked for Idaho and Wyoming Ranges This Month.

The spring movement of livestock on the Utah railroads has set in with a vim this week and from this time on as the available motive power and double-deck cars in the territory will be on the move until the last hoof has been transferred either to market or to the summer range.

A big consignment was moved out of the union stockyards at North Salt Lake yesterday, which is going east over the Rio Grande, Colorado-Midland and Union Pacific and Burlington to Omaha. The consignment, which took two days to move, consisted of 1,500 head of cattle, yearlings, cows and calves. This valuable shipment represents a sale made by M. K. Parsons to Ballantyne & Bergs, and it is understood that the prices paid ranged from $15 to $24.

Next week the Salt Lake Route will commence to move about 500 carloads of sheep which will be loaded as soon as sheared and sent to Wyoming. The Oregon Short Line already has some 600 carloads booked for shipment to Idaho, and as a big portion are ewes the increase will give the railroads about 1,000 carloads to move out in the fall.

These, however, are but a drop in the bucket to what will be moved during the latter part of the month. All indications point to Idaho being the favored state of the sheep men this summer.

SALT LAKE ROUTE.

Decks Being Now Cleared for the Shriner Special Trains.

Everything is reported today as being "perfectly lovely" on the Salt Lake Route. While the trains through from Los Angeles are still late, owing to the necessity of proceeding cautiously through the Meadow Valley wash for 100 miles, everybody is happy.

Business is picking up in great shape and reports from the other end are that the train which arrives here this afternoon will be one of the heaviest sent out from Los Angeles over the Clark road.

The passenger forces are now concentrating their energies on the movement of the Shriner special trains scheduled to pass through here during the first week of May.

Among the special trains that will be in all probability handled by the Salt Lake Route during that week will be: The intermountain special, with delegates from Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Utah 400 strong; Grand Rapids, Mich., 100 people; Detroit, Mich., 300; Kansas City, 300; Salina, Kan., 75; St. Joseph, Mo., 120; Meridian, Miss., 60; Cedar Rapids and Des Moines, Ia., 60; Peoria, Ill., Lincoln, Neb., St. Paul, Minn., St. Louis and Chicago also will send big delegations.

ERIE LOADING WOOL.

Still Another Line Breaks the Compact Entered Into Recently.

Frank T. Vincent, agent for the Erie Dispatch in this territory, has joined the insurgents and is now after wool shipments with both feet. This sudden change was brought about by the receipt of a dispatch from headquarters yesterday telling him to get busy as the Erie line was about to break the agreement among some of the leading lines east of Chicago and get out, solicit and load wool for all there was in it. Once more has a railroad compact been solemnly entered into and broken within three weeks.

SUMMER RATES TO COAST.

The passenger department of the Salt Lake Route announces that during the summer months it will put in a round trip rate to Los Angeles that will be 10 cents cheaper than those of last year. Tickets will be good on all trains. The rate, which is effective June 1 to Sept. 15, will be $10 from Salt Lake to Los Angeles and return over the Clark road; $50 via San Francisco coming home; and $65.50 taking in the Shasta Route and returning via Portland, Or., and Huntington.

VIRGIL BOGUE HERE.

Virgil G. Bogue, chief engineer of the Western Pacific, and Chief Engineer E. J. Yard of the Denver & Rio Grande are still in Salt Lake in consultation with Resident Engineer Wyche. None will talk on the subject of the visit aside from making the interesting statement that they are here on "regular routine business."

SPIKE AND RAIL.

The local railroad offices closed at 1 p. m. today and all hands went walking.

Kenneth C. Kerr, traveling passenger agent of the Salt Lake Route, leaves tonight for Denver to spread the glad tidings.

H. M. Cushing, traveling passenger agent of the Denver & Rio Grande, has been selected as the eminent commander of the Utah Commandery No. 1 for the ensuing year.

J. A. Foley, commercial agent for the Illinois Central, has been wearing a broad smile since Saturday afternoon when the good doctor visited his house for the first time, bringing a sweet little girl.

THE MALIGNED REPORTER.

Newspaper Men Detest Scandal, But Public Demands It.

A common charge brought against newspaper reporters is that they are heartless; that they revel in laying bare the world the closely guarded secrets of individuals. It constantly happens that a reporter must do unpleasant things because others have been guilty of those violations of custom, law or convention that make news. The opportunity that belongs to the real offender is not infrequently heaped upon the innocent news gatherer.

There is no work a reporter detests so much as that involving a social scandal, and there is no story that a large percentage of readers will devour more eagerly. There isn't a good reporter living who has not been guilty of that blackest, least forgivable of all journalistic crimes—"throwing down" his newspaper, to protect a helpless person innocently involved in a legitimate news story that is a matter of public record. On the whole, the news gatherers are a tender hearted folk and generous, and that which often passes for cynicism is an intense hatred and contempt for shame.

If they appear suspicious it is because long experience has taught them that they must constantly guard against deception. There is no walk of life a good reporter is not compelled, sooner or later, to invade, and his position is the trying one of being compelled either to gain the confidence of or outwit those he meet there.—Hartley Davis in "Reporters of Today" in Everybody's Magazine.

HOUSE BURGLARIZED.

Articles of Jewelry, Silverware and a Revolver Stolen.

The apartments of Mrs. M. A. Smith, 3 Kendall terrace, were entered last night during her absence, and the rooms were thoroughly ransacked. Some articles of jewelry, silverware and a revolver were taken. The burglars were still in the house when the lady entered, and in answer to her question as to what they were doing there, they gave an evasive reply, and brushing past her, made their escape. She says they were apparently young men and were a decidedly bad looking set. The police were quickly upon the scene, but could find no trace of the robbers.

SWEET CORN MINUS WORMS.

"News" Subscriber Suggests Recipe For Which He Claims Good Results.

To the Deseret News:

For one quart of sweet corn take a heaping tablespoonful of blue vitriol, or blue stone, as it is sometimes called, add to it a half spoonful of salt petre. Put both chemicals in a quart of boiling water after removing the vessel from the fire. Put the corn into a can or bucket that will hold more than the corn so as to allow the corn to swell. Pour the mixture on the corn so hot that you cannot bear your finger in the water. You need not be afraid of its being too hot. Pour enough of the mixture to cover the corn nicely. Let it stand all night. In the morning if there is any water left in the vessel, drain it off. Spread the corn out for a few minutes and it will be dry enough so you can eat it without sticking to either. It should be planted the next day after it is soaked at night. Prepare at night the amount you want to plant the next day only.

The above recipe was given me by a friend, who assured the writer that corn treated after the formula presented here, never failed to produce corn without worms. In the interest of all growers of sweet corn, the above recipe is given for their benefit.

A NEW ORGANIZATION.

"Improvement Association of German Speaking Missionaries."

A society has been organized in the city which has for its object the preservation of the German language among people who have learned it, especially those who have labored as missionaries in German-speaking countries. The Improvement Association of German Speaking Missionaries is the title given to the organization, and its aim will be to improve its members along linguistic, literary, literary, and social lines. Meetings will be held semi-monthly at the Brigham Young Memorial building, where typical literary programs will be carried out. It is the intention of the society to establish a reading room of its own as soon as practicable. The organization will be maintained by means of initiation fees and monthly dues. The expenses of the society will be taken care of by the members. ### GREEKS EASTER SERVICE.

Token of Forgiveness for Personal Affronts or Injuries.

Over 1,000 Greeks participated in the Easter services held in the new Greek orthodox church, and exchanged osculatory courtesies in token of forgiveness of personal affronts or injuries real or imaginary. A Fourth of July time was given to the occasion by the discharge of the faithful, accompanied by general rejoicing. Two barbecued lambs were served and made to do duty as part of a sacramental supper. During the week over $1,200 was collected from the Greeks for the benefit of their church.

IN JEWISH TEMPLE.

Special Service in Connection With Feast of the Passover.

The Reformed Jews held special services in the Jewish Temple last evening, in connection with the feast of the Passover, which ends today.

Rabbi C. J. Freund said that while the historical reason of the celebration of the Passover was the great act of redemption done to the Jewish people, the natural explanation found man celebrating his release from the sway of winter.

For the Christian the day speaks in pressing accents of love because of a supposed notable event, that of a risen resurrected man-god promising to men release from death's misfortune. Easter chimes suggested beautiful uplifting thoughts, but, beautiful as was that promise of a better day, the inhuman conduct manifested at the present season bespeaks devilry in reality. When Easter's lesson had been indelibly impressed on mankind and when the passions of prejudice no longer blinded them to deeds of barbarism then only did they the fullest right to celebrate, rejoicing in man's redemption from the thrall of passion.

The Passover of the Jewish faith also betokened redemption through the agency of a man who brought salvation to an enslaved people. That redemption was accomplished by a man-god—a man-god—and was for the interest of man. From the time of the Exodus until the present the Jew has been the world's protestant. The Moslem legislator made them the protagonists of righteousness and their election was not of privilege but of service. As a chosen people they cannot afford to neglect the claim of election unless they were willing to undergo the sacrifice of hardship or martyrdom. They have endured in their obedience to the call to serve at the altar of humanity.

The festival being celebrated is one of emancipation. But freedom must be combined with service, and the service of God might be established on earth when righteousness should flourish and the bondage of man to man forever be ended.

MEN'S MEETING.

Rev. Simpkin Conducted Services at Y. M. C. A. Yesterday.

At yesterday afternoon's men's service at the Y. M. C. A. Rev. P. A. Simpkin said in part: "The fact of Jesus Christ means the same thing to every life. There is a meaning for every one. He is the world's moral master and supreme among all souls. It does not mean that he is not less sin and more virtue than any one else, for some can pick flaws in any life, but none can find a more perfect, flawless life which holds in its life the democracy as does that of Jesus. In perfectness of His moral soul Christ stands alone. There are those that want to take away the flawlessness of Christ and say that He was painted by His Apostles."

"The supremacy of Jesus is the highest peak in His character. He holds in His hand the moral mastery of all. He is supreme in his goodness and purity."

In speaking of the purity of a soul, Mr. Simpkin administered a "roast" on the mashers or "things" who gather on the street corners and scatter the seeds of passing women and make remarks. The speaker said that it was a great pleasure to every one to see those things squelched by the searching look of purity and innocence bestowed on them by some and then the look of shame and disgrace that flushes the faces of the mashers.

TO UTAH DELEGATION.

Real Estate Association Sends Letters About Fort Douglas.

Following is the full text of the letter addressed to the Utah delegation in Congress by the Salt Lake Real Estate association, and reference to which was made in Saturday's "News":

Hon. George Sutherland, United States Senator, Washington, D. C. Dear Sir: I am directed by the Salt Lake Real Estate association to communicate with you in reference to the suspension of the work of rebuilding Fort Douglas, and to invoke your aid in having the necessary money appropriated to continue the work until the plans for the completion of the fort agreed upon some time ago are fully carried out. Advice received from informed sources are to the effect that our senatorial delegation can accomplish this desired result if the members will undertake it.

"Will you not join with your colleague and our representative in Congress in an effort not only to have the work carried out, but also to have the Congress receive the full proportion of the money annually set apart by the government for the improvement of military reservations?"

The expenditures for rebuilding the post and improving the reservation were originally fixed by the war department at $1,100,000.

The expense of this sum would not only make Fort Douglas one of the great show posts of the United States, but would quicken the currents of business in Salt Lake. Will you not join with our representative in Congress in an effort to have the work carried out, but also to have the Congress receive the full proportion of the money annually set apart by the government for the improvement of military reservations?"

It may not be known to you, but it is a fact, nevertheless, that Captain J. W. Tamm, under whose direction the work was being performed, has been withdrawn from Utah and stationed elsewhere.

It is hoped you may secure his return to resume his suspended work. I have the honor to be, yours very truly,

EDWARD F. COLBORN, Chairman Salt Lake Real Estate Association.

Hon. Joseph Howell, Member of Congress, Washington, D. C. Dear Sir: I have the honor to enclose herewith a copy of a letter this day mailed to Hon. George Sutherland, having reference to the rebuilding of Fort Douglas. A similar letter has been forwarded to Hon. Reed Smoot. This letter is expressive of a desire of the Salt Lake Real Estate association that immediate and persistent action be taken by the Congress in resumption of work at Fort Douglas.

I am asked by the association to invoke your valuable aid in this behalf. It seems unaccountable that after the adoption of plans for the rebuilding of this beautiful post at a cost of over $1,000,000, and after the work was fairly started, the constructing engineer should have been withdrawn, the movement ceased. Will you not assist in the matter of having the work resumed and in having the war department recognize Utah's right to a portion of the public money annually appropriated for the improvement of reservations and garrisons of the United States?

There is a general public demand in Salt Lake that this be done. I have the honor to be, respectfully yours,

EDWARD F. COLBORN, Chairman Salt Lake Real Estate Association.

SUSPECTS ARRESTED.

Officer Bush "Took In" Frank Harrison and James McCormick.

Police Officer Bush today placed under arrest Frank Harrison and James McCormick, whom he suspected of having committed at least some of the recent burglaries. When the men were searched, evidence of their guilt was found upon their persons. A watch and pair of shoes were identified as having been stolen from the Clarence rooming house, and one of the men wore certain articles of clothing belonging to George T. Balger, and which were stolen from the residence of Samuel Taylor at East First Street on Saturday night.

WORKING THE NEWSPAPERS.

Press Agents New York Editors Have To Contend With.

In the business and financial districts downtown there are many small offices where regular press agents are at work in the interest of merchants, financiers, politicians, society leaders and others who create "publicity." It is the business of these press agents to prepare articles and stories about the parties that pay them and send them to newspapers and elsewhere for publication. Some of the best known newspaper men in the city add to their income by doing this kind of work.

That the matter is not always published in the newspapers refusing to "bite" is not the fault of the industrious and imaginative press agent. Every newspaper in the city is constantly on its guard against the stories and inventions of these press agents.

Sometimes the stories are so good that some newspapers will print them knowing them to be "fakes," rather than be "scooped" or "beaten" by rival sheets. Most editors are nowadays called upon to decide what to leave "off" and what to print. And for all the good news that is received daily—New York News.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theater—At the Theater tonight, Musgrove's players, headed by Nellie Stewart, a company which is said to have few equals on the English speaking stage from the standpoint of all around artistic productions, will open a brief season in this city. The entire organization is from Australia and is bound for New York. Its six weeks pause in San Francisco formed one of the most remarkable engagements on record.

Grand—Georgia Harper in the play of "Zaza" opens a full week's engagement this evening.

Orpheum—Considerable interest is being taken in the presentation here this evening of "Mrs. St. Holmes," Dostoevsky's play written by Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt, in which Mrs. Elizabeth Spencer takes the title role. In addition Stella Lee, danseuse, and five good acts will be featured on the bill.

Lyric—It is said that a thing of beauty is a joy forever, and the Lyric applies to the class of shows that are put on here this week, in a group of pretty chorus girls, attired in beautiful and varied costumes, and in a variety of other ways, decidedly pleasing to the eye. The "Miss New York, Jr." company opened at the Lyric Saturday afternoon to a crowded house and the evening performance, the Lyric was followed by the children from every school in the city. The parade began at 10 o'clock, and before it was finished, a great deal of enthusiasm was stirred up on the Civic league improvement movement.

The children marched along Washington avenue from Twenty-fifth to Twenty-first street, and then up and down Twenty-fifth street. The parade was so long that it took just three quarters of an hour for it to pass a given point. The children carried rakes, hoes, spades, brooms and, in fact, about everything in the way of cleaning up apparatus, and they certainly set a splendid example for their elders, and it is believed that the cleaning up movement has "taken" good and hard.

After the parade, the High school students met with Judge Howell and assisted him in planting trees on the Carnegie library grounds, the students taking turns in naming the trees.

Burglaries Last Night.

For about 10 days a gang of professional burglars have been operating in this city, and last night four burglaries were committed. The police were informed and are now in hot pursuit. The first place visited was the Wallace drug store, 2349 Washington avenue. The front door was pried open with a jimmy. Eight boxes of cigars and several other articles were stolen.

Richardson's grocery store, 367 Twenty-fourth street was next visited and entered in the same manner. A quantity of canned goods and tobacco was stolen. The shoemaker store on Washington avenue lost several pairs of shoes.

A bold burglar entered a room in the Virginia hotel and made off with a few minor articles. The fellow got into a chambermaid's room and turned on the light. The girl awoke and screamed, and the burglar became frightened and fled.

FENCED IN THE STREET.

A peculiar condition of affairs was brought about in the street when it was reported to Capt. Brown of the police force by the Mayor, that Alfred Empey had fenced in half of the street near Thirtieth and Washington avenue. No reason was given why the man acted so, and the authorities are at a loss to understand it. Part of the street has been blocked for some time, but the street had been open for about 15 years. The matter will take action in the matter at once and see to it that the obstruction is removed.

"Dorothy," the favorite opera, will be seen in the Nineteenth ward assembly hall tomorrow night, with Lizzie Thomas Edwards in the title role.

The Columbia Dramatic company, an organization associated with the Butchers & Grocers' association, which has been previously noticed in the "News," will make their first appearance on the evening of the 20th at the Salt Lake Theater. The play will be the comedy drama, "Constance," and those taking part are Prescott Erickson, Harmon Weight, Frank Gibson, Lester Ethel Sturges, Sabina Clark, Inez Clark, Ruth Larsen, Charlotte Perkes and Sarah Perkes.

CASE AGAINST PERKINS.

Suit Brought to Recover $10,000 Settled—Action Dismissed.

The case of the Black Rock Mining company against Fred H. Perkins has been dismissed. In stipulation in the district court. The action was brought to recover $10,000 which it was alleged Perkins misappropriated while acting as manager of plaintiff's property. It stated that Perkins' father had settled the matter with the company, hence the dismissal of the action. A criminal proceeding was instituted against Perkins several months ago charged with embezzling funds of the Black Rock company. He was arrested in Portland but that matter was also settled by his father and the governor of Oregon refused to honor the return papers for his return to this state.

AGAINST "KID BRAY."

Wife of Restaurant Man Alleges Cruelty and Wants Divorce.

Suit for divorce has been filed in the district court by Maud L. Bray against William Ellsworth ("Kid") Bray, on the ground of cruelty. The complaint alleges that they were married at Ogden, Nov. 12, 1902, and that the defendant has treated plaintiff in a cruel manner using vile and abusive language towards her and threatening to strike her. She also asks for alimony of the sum of $1,000 cash and $10 per month.

The parties also figured in a divorce action instituted by Bray in September, 1905. In that complaint Bray charged his wife with cruelty. She filed her answer charging him with desertion. The case was finally dismissed without ever coming to trial. It is not very probable that the present action will be successful.

Emma Anderson has filed suit for divorce in the district court against Andrew Anderson on the ground of desertion. It is alleged that the parties were married in this city in November, 1904, and that shortly after their marriage the defendant began to complain about having to provide for plaintiff's two children by a former husband. Finally, it is alleged, he informed her that he would not provide for them and further that he would not provide for her as long as the children were with her. Because of his failure to provide for them she alleges that, on April 1, 1905, she was compelled to go to the home of her parents in order to secure food. Since then she has been supporting herself and the children. She now asks for a divorce.

COURT NOTES.

An action has been filed in the district court by Alfred Brown against the Bingham Consolidated Mining and Smelting company to recover damages in the sum of $1,500 for personal injury received by plaintiff by being employed at defendant's smelter on Jan. 16, 1906. It is alleged that plaintiff was attempting to couple two ore cars together when the cars collided and crushed his left thumb so that it had to be amputated.

ARBOR DAY IN CITY OF OGDEN.

Five Thousand School Children Paraded the Streets Today.

MANY TREES WERE PLANTED.

Burglars Have Been at Work For About Ten Days—Four Places Robbed Last Night.

(Special to the "News.")

Ogden, April 16.—A most inspiring sight was witnessed this morning by almost the entire population of this city when the citizens crowded the principal streets and saw at least 5,000 school children parade.

The procession was headed by Nichols' band. Next came the Ogden High school followed by the children from every school in the city. The parade began at 10 o'clock, and before it was finished, a great deal of enthusiasm was stirred up on the Civic league improvement movement.

The children marched along Washington avenue from Twenty-fifth to Twenty-first street, and then up and down Twenty-fifth street. ### INCREASED PENSIONS.

(Special to the "News.")

Washington, D. C., April 16.—The senate committee on pensions today directed favorable reports on the bill to increase the pension of Mrs. Lillian of Utah, and on the bill to increase the pension of Hilton Pringsted of Bonifield from $12 to $24.

LATE LOCALS.

Competitive Drill—A competitive drill is proposed between the High school, All Hallows and Agricultural college cadets, to be held early in May.

Many Tourists Here.—The reopening of the Los Angeles short cut is greatly increasing the number of tourists in the Salt Lake hotel, as well as the number of commercial travelers.

Warmer Weather.—The average thermometer steadily rising, with the mercury ranging from 47 to 69 degrees today, and warmer weather is approaching with cloudy, hazy, skies threatening.

New Gymnasium—Bids for the construction of the new High school gymnasium and armory will be opened next Wednesday. The proposed structure will be 60x130 feet, and cost over $25,000. The cadets will have ample accommodations and conveniences for their quarters and the requirements of the service.

White Wings Paraded—A squad of "White Wings" from the University club, paraded this morning on the open space to the east of the building, in Arbor day house cleaning attire and with rakes, hoes and shovels, and were duly photographed. A photograph of the noble group will appear in one of the eastern illustrated journals.

Annual Meeting.—The parishes of St. Mark and St. Paul of this city will hold their annual meeting this evening. Rector Brewster of Colorado Springs, who has been called to the vacant rectorship of St. Mark's parish in the city, will deliver the address. A definite answer to the call of the last of this week. Mr. Brewster has been also called in another direction, and St. Mark's people are hoping he won't accept the other call, as he is wanted very much here.

Burglar Caught With Goods—Detective Shannon and Wilson saw a man enter a pawn shop today with a bundle under his arm. He acted in a suspicious way, and the officers took him to the police station where he was questioned. The bundle contained a suit of clothes, which the fellow said he had purchased in Chicago last November. While the man was still detained at headquarters, a message was received that the Realty block on West Temple street had been entered this morning and a suit of clothes stolen. A little later the articles found upon the suspect, who gave the name of O. W. Spahnower, were identified by J. H. Messenger as belonging to him, and which were taken from his room in the block mentioned. Spahnower was locked up in the city jail.
