CANNOT FIND SWEETHEART Young Peterson Gives Up Hunt and

Habeas Corpus Idea to Get Her.

After having furnished up a home for his intended bride and after walting for her to secure her release from her parents for several weeks, Edward Petersen has abandoned all hopes for the present at least of marrying Miss Mary Boraaze, the pretty Italian girl who was apirited away by her parents the day before the wedding was to have oc-curred in order to prevent her from marrying the man of her heart. Mr. Petersen has sold his furniture and turned the house over to its owner. The love affairs of the young couple progressed smoothly until about six months before the girl became of age. She was at that time informed by her father that she could not marry Petersen and was prevented from seeing or speaking to him. He managed to send a few notes to her in which he told her a few notes to her in which he told her that he was preparing a home for her and they would be married two days after she became of age. The father of the girl did not agree with the lovers on that point, however, so the day be-fore the proposed wedding he took his daughter away and she has not been seen or heard of by her lover since that time. Petersen threatened to bring habeas corpus proceedings against the father to compel him to release the girl, but finally decided not to do so.

Some people talk very flippantly about diminished vitality They don't stop to think that vitali-ty is the principle of life-that it is that little understood something on which every function of their bodies depends.
